MANY WANT TO SHARE FORTUNE

James Bennett Receives Hundreds of Letters Asking for Part of Legacy.

Ever since the news of their good fortune of receiving an inheritance of about $2,000,000 was published, Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett of South Marshfield have been flooded with letters asking for contributions for every conceivable sort of charity. Some of the letters ask very modest sums but some want as high as $10,000.

Mr. Bennett is chief engineer at the Smith mill and expects soon to receive his share of the $5,000,000 which comes to him and his three brothers through the reversion of property in New York under a ninety-nine year lease expiration.

Mrs. Bennett said last evening that she was nearly worn out trying to answer the flood of requests and that if the number of letters keeps increasing, they will have to engage a private secretary and a special mail carrier. Some of the letters are funny and others are pathetic.

One woman wants $10,000 for building a home, another wants a goat so that she can supply an aging relative with goat milk which she has been informed is a sure cure for the ailment. Some ask for $800 or $1000, but say they would be satisfied with $500. Some tell of hard luck, some of sickness and others want to aid some kind of philanthropy. Some enclosed addressed and stamped envelopes so that their share will not go astray.

A short time ago when announcement was made that John Golden, a Marshfield pioneer, was planning to bequeath his property to the Catholic church, he received scores of letters from various parties urging him to include them in his will. Some churches and other charities put forth pleas for a share of his fortune. He said that it would take something like a million to provide for all of them.

AMONG THE SICK.

Mrs. M. O. Hawkins of Coquille came over with her daughter who is to receive treatment at Mercy hospital.

Mrs. John Carlson of Catching Inlet was brought to Mercy hospital at North Bend today. She is suffering from uremic convulsions and is said to be in a rather critical condition.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

The Alliance will sail Monday from Portland for Coos Bay.

The Redondo will sail tomorrow for San Francisco.

The Adeline Smith will probably not get out before Monday for Bay Point, being delayed by loading some special order lumber which is slower to load.

The Nann Smith sailed today for Bay Point with a cargo of lumber from the Smith mill.

The Gleamer sailed today for Gardiner with general merchandise.

UNUSUAL HEN IS FOUND HERE

Fowl Produces Eggs of Extraordinary Size—One Hatches Two Chicks.

A hen that regularly lays eggs almost the size of a goose egg is the remarkable possession of Mrs. Ben Wright of North Marshfield. Today she brought to the Times office two large eggs, the products of the remarkable fowl. One measured 5 1/2 inches by 3 1/4 inches and the other 3 1/4 inches by 1 1/2 inches. One is apparently double-yolked and the other has but one yolk.

Mrs. Wright has had the hen for about two years and says that on an average of three times a week she produces the large eggs. All of the eggs are large for hen's eggs.

Another freak of the fowl is that the double-yolked eggs hatch two chickens, some of which thrive and mature. Poultry fanciers have always claimed that the birds from double-yolked eggs would be monstrosities in fowls and would not live. The hen is a black Minorca.

Mrs. Wright noticed the item in the Times last night about the large egg that A. E. Gagnon of Bunker Hill had secured from his flock and brought in the two eggs produced by the remarkable hen this week to show that the Gagnon egg is not so extraordinary after all.

HENS ACCOMMODATING.

"I have the most accommodating bunch of hens in Oregon," declares C. D. Lamson, of The Breakers. "Not only do they lay industriously, but that their eggs may not be overlooked they have appropriated an empty box in the kitchen for a nest."

BIDDY'S ON THE TOP PERCH.

The old farm hen now on the top perch hops.

In Uncle Sam's dominion she's the leader in fine crops.

She's not so very stylish, but she gets there just the same.

And you bet she's the top liner in the nation's Hall of Fame!

But, say, how did old Biddy get on that perch so high?

I'm sure way back in granddad's time she wasn't half so spry.

She was a speckled dunghill with long feathers on her leg.

She was so busy scratching here she seldom laid an egg.

Now, my friend, don't bother us to speak about the past.

Where fossils love to linger with their feet in ruts stuck fast!

That hen upon the pinnacle, that hen is scientific.

She's built by brains of the best strains from Atlantic to Pacific.

Skilled chemists balance her fine feeds between protein and fats.

She doesn't roost now in the trees, to be scared by owls and bats.

But she lives now in a palace that is also scientific.

And so, of course, she beats the band from Atlantic to Pacific.

She lays eggs by the carload, by the million and the billion.

And before another census she will cackle o'er a trillion.

She's hatching fries so raplay, if we feed her well and trust.

She'll serve us so much fancy meat the big beef trust will bust.

EUGENE WOMAN POLICEMAN

EUGENE, Ore., Feb. 21.—Eugene will soon have a woman police officer. The police committee of the city council recommended the appointment.

F. E. Walling, a farmer living near Yukon, Mo., strongly recommends Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and says: "I have been advised by my family doctor to use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for my children when there was a cough medicine needed. It always gives the best of satisfaction and I recommend it to others." Sold by Lockhart & Parsons, The Bay Corner.

LEAVE TODAY ON BREAKWATER

Steamer Sails This Morning for Portland—Talk of 5-Day Schedule.

The Breakwater sailed at 10 o'clock this morning for Portland with a fair passenger list and an ordinary cargo of miscellaneous freight.

While no definite date has been fixed, it is expected that the Breakwater will be put on the five-day schedule in the near future. The increase in freight business, as well as passenger traffic, owing to the development on the Bay, is said to warrant it earlier than usual this year.

Among those sailing on the Breakwater were the following:
