SAYS SENATE UPHOLD IDEAL

Vice President Marshall Devotes Inaugural Address to One Body.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
WASHINGTON, March 4.—Vice President Marshall's inaugural address was as follows:
"The properties of this occasion probably require a few words from one who is grateful to the American people for the honor heretofore done him and this day consummated."
"No senator has, I trust, a keener appreciation of the necessities in the way of tact and courtesy now devolving upon me than myself. I offer no surety as to my discharge of duties other than a personal pledge that I will seek to familiarize myself with them and will endeavor always to exercise that complaisance and forbearance which are essential to him who ably presides over great debates upon great public questions by great men."
"Divergent views relative to this body would be less divergent if the American people would come to realize that on all sides of real questions much may truthfully be said. Such an attitude of the public mind would eliminate the view that this body is distinctively deliberate and not thoroughly patriotic."
"Charges of bad faith based upon an attitude of mind or upon conduct should never be made until it is clearly established that the resultant action is the outcome of social relations."
"Your action has not always met with universal approval but up to this good hour no workable substitute for the exercise of the functions of this body has been proposed. It is not needful for me here and now to accept a brief in your defense. This body will continue to stand not because of its presiding officer, but because of its patriotism and intelligence of its constituent members and their devotion to our system of government."
"To my mind, government is the harness with which a people draws its load of civilization. If the harness be properly adjusted the load, though heavy, will be drawn with ease and no part of the people will be galled. The Senate is the blinders, intended to keep the people from shying at imaginary dangers and toppling into the ditch our system of government. So long as the blinders serve this purpose they are a most valuable part of the harness, but if they be drawn so closely to the eyes as to prevent the seeing of real dangers, then they should either be spread or done away with entirely. I am one of those who think that we can so adjust our blinders as to meet new conditions and render us sanely responsive to every reasonable demand of the people without disturbing any of the checks and balances of our system of government and preserving with loyalty and fidelity the ancient ideals of the Republic."
"With neither right nor desire to infringe upon the prerogatives of the President or soon to be, I beg the expression of the opinion that whatever diverse views may be held relative to the work of this body all persons are agreed that under the Constitution of the United States the guardian of the people's honor; that more and more, as righteousness is exalted among the people, the idea is becoming more firmly fixed that it is not vast territory, great wealth nor large learning which mark the real status of America; that America is to be measured by the golden note and of honor; and, as the idea in her formation was the inherent right of men to rule themselves, that now she can rule herself."
"The open Bible, it was over. A new President had come into office. At the moment of conclusion of the oath a Presidential salute of twenty-one guns boomed out the news that a new Chief Executive had been inaugurated."
The President at once began his inaugural address.
At the conclusion of the inaugural address, the program called for the Senate to return to its Chamber, either to confirm appointments or adjourn to a later day, while the House stands adjourned to the date of the extra session. At the head of the inaugural procession the President rode back to the White House to review the pageant and begin the duties of his office.

Do You Leave Your Doors Unlocked?
You would not do that, and you should no more be without fire insurance. The open door would admit the burglar, and the fire flend is just as insidious. He plays no favorites, but attacks insured and uninsured property alike. Don't risk your savings for the small cost of a policy.

ill afford to announce this doctrine in her own land and renounce it for an instrument of oppression in other lands.

"Unfortunately, there is no fixed standard of honor outside the dictionary. The gambler may hold it to consist in his paying his gaming debts; the member of the smart set, in divorcing his neighbor's wife before taking her unto himself; the Senator, in eliminating personalities. But when we enter the chancelleries of the world and submit to their judgments not only our right to be but our right to be respected we can hope to be measured in but one way; and we must be able to show that the solemn treaty obligations of this Republic will be kept with the same scrupulous honesty, both of spirit and letter, whether made with the humblest people of this continent struggling for self government or with the mightiest monarch of the old world. This high sense of honor or constitutes the panoply of the American people. Armies and battleships furnish no substitute for it. These are valuable but the people never intended that authority should use them as accessories to a burglar's kit.

"If any one in the name of the American people, either in violation of treaty obligations or the manifest purpose of the Monroe doctrine, has taken aught while this body was deliberating, it is your duty to ascertain all facts thereto. And if wrong or injustice has been done, even to the humblest republic, let this people be brave enough and sufficiently honest to make reparation. The real greatness of this republic rests upon its unshuffled honor and it is the duty of this body to search down rumors of bad faith and dishonesty and rectify wrong wherever wrong is discovered.

"Here in this most sacred spot where war has been made and peace declared, here in the presence of the distinguished representatives of the governments of the civilized world, here, within the hearing of the beauty, culture and ripened statecraft of his own land, may one humble American express the hope before he enters upon a four year's silence that all our diplomacy may spell peace with all peoples, justice for all governments and righteousness the world around."
