

LOCAL NEWS

Bank Examiner Here—Martin McLean, National bank examiner, is in Marshfield today, examining the condition of the First National bank. This is one of his regular trips through this section.

Coos Bay Climate—Mrs. J. H. Stadden received a letter today from Deadwood, Alaska, stating that it was 65 degrees below zero when it was written and the writer was laid up with frozen feet. Just think of that, you fortunate Coos Bayite and thank your lucky stars for this glorious Coos Bay sunshine.

High School Picnic—The Marshfield high school students will enjoy a picnic tomorrow, the affair being given by the losing side in the recent ticket selling contest for the high school minstrel show. It has not been decided whether they will go to Coos River or the government works.

Benefit Ball—Plans are being made for a benefit ball to be given under the direction of the W. O. W. for the benefit of the Colley family, who are in straightened circumstances. Mr. Cooley's brother and his wife left a few days ago for California and some had understood that this was the needy family, but this is incorrect.

Gets Sad News—Max Tepper, steward of the Millieoma Club, received a telegram this morning, announcing the serious illness of his mother, who is visiting at the home of his sister in Bloomington, Illinois. Mr. Tepper expects to take the Breakwater tomorrow if it will be possible to reach her bedside in time to be of assistance to her.

Trouble Over Auto—An Overland auto, formerly owned by Fred Wilson, known as "Slim" and later operated by Joe Dodge, is the center of an interesting mixup in Justice Pennock's court. F. E. Nelson attached the machine and was about to sell it for repair work when Geo. Goodrum today had Sheriff Gage serve a writ of replevin on Constable Cox.

Church Temporarily Located—The Episcopal church, formerly located at Sixth and Market, has been moved to the corner of Fourth and Market, and everything is in good condition for the holding of regular services. There will be a Lenten service this evening at 7:30 and the usual services on Sunday at 8 a. m., 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. At the Communion services at 8 a. m. Sunday there will be a special intercession for missions.

Social Tonight—The Young People of the Baptist church will have a social tonight at the home of Miss Eva Dresser on Hall avenue. Extensive preparations have been made and a good time is assured.

Start Paving—E. F. Morrissey of the Coos Bay Paving Company has gone to Myrtle Point to complete intersections in the hard paving work there. If the weather continues fair he and Mr. Small may decide to go ahead immediately with the completion of the work.

Birthday Party—D. Y. Stafford and wife entertained their employees at their home last evening at a birthday party complimentary to Frank Pugsley, "the Candy Kid." The affair was a most jovial one, the Stafford store being closed for a few hours to enable all to join in the merriment.

Funeral Here—Judge Coke received a telegram today stating that it had been finally decided to bring the body of John S. Coke, Sr., to Coos Bay for burial. R. J. Coke will leave Los Angeles tomorrow with the body on the steamer Speedwell and burial will probably be near the old home of the deceased at Dora.

New Charter Problem—L. A. Liljeqvist left this afternoon for Coquille to attend a meeting of the city council to be held there tonight to discuss a charter amendment to be submitted to the electors there providing for city elections. The Coquille charter is defective in this way and the state laws do not cover the situation.

Foresters Here—Messrs. Ferguson and Woods of the Oregon State Board of Forestry are in Marshfield today, conferring with Secretary W. J. Conrad of the Coos County Fire Patrol Association relative to the work here. They are also compiling a list of all the timber owners in this section. This is to comply with the new law which requires timber owners to take adequate steps for preventing forest fires.

AT THE HOTELS

Brother of Author—Milton Glass, the San Francisco travelling man, is a brother of Montague Glass, the author of the noted Hebrew stories in the Saturday Evening Post. Montague Glass was reared in San Francisco. In addition to his stories, he is now writing plays. Milton Glass travels for a large wholesale liquor and glazed candy company of San Francisco, and is also a cousin of Emil Judell, who travels through this section and whose brother is president of the San Francisco Board of Public Works. Milton Glass, although not an author, has attained more or less fame on Coos Bay as the only brass band imitator.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Greenough are at the Chandler. Mr. Greenough reports business booming in the city-by-the-sea.

Geo. E. Peoples of Coquille is at the Chandler, on a business visit to Marshfield. Mr. Peoples was the originator of the famous quotation, "We are the peoples."

Hugh Lattimer, representing Foley & Co., the well known patent medicine manufacturers of Chicago, is at the Chandler. All traveling men have grievances about being away from home, but Mr. Lattimer has a particular hard luck story of his last long trip, which kept him from home on Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year and his 25th wedding anniversary. Mr. Lattimer makes the Coos Bay territory once a year.
