Mills in Portland—C. J. Mills, assistant to President Sproule of the Southern Pacific, was in Portland last week on business. He arrived there the day before C. F. McKnight left and informed the latter that the Coos Bay-Eugene line would be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

Fires Contest—Edward T. Cronkright today filed a contest against the homestead of Reuben A. Bevelsmyer, the land being located on Larson's Inlet. The date of the hearing of the contest has not been fixed. The contest was filed before A. K. Peck, U. S. Land Commissioner.

Funeral Saturday—The funeral of the late John S. Coke, Sr., was held Saturday at Dora, Judge and Mrs. J. S. Coke, Tom Coke and other relatives from here attending. R. J. Coke, who accompanied the body here from Los Angeles, is now at Dora and will visit on the Bay before returning south.

Is Improving—Gregory Canty, formerly steward at the Millcoima Club, is now in Portland receiving treatment for his limb. The physicians are hopeful that he will shortly regain the use of his limb. He has been staying at his old home near McMinnville. An x-ray photo of the limb shows a most marked improvement. His ailment was tuberculosis of the bone.

Many Replies—J. M. Culley was in from Catching Inlet today. He recently advertised some pigs for sale in The Times and says he sold them all the next day and had dozens of calls since. Mr. Culley says the phone was so busy answering the phone that she says the next time he advertises in The Times she will make him stay in the house to answer the phone.

Denies New Trial—Judge John S. Coke has denied a new trial in the case of Heckels vs. the Coos Bay Liqueur Co. The denial of the motion for a new trial was on the ground that Heckels in his petition denied the delivery of any contract to the company while in his suit he attempted to recover possession of the Brewery saloon under the contract; also because he began the action under a writ of replevin instead of suing on the terms of the contract.

Coquille Booming—D. D. Pierce of the Coquille Mill Co. was in Marshfield today on business. He reports that the new city hall is rapidly nearing completion and that they are planning a formal opening in which all of the towns of the county will be invited to participate. His company recently purchased 18,000,000 feet of timber near Coquille from George Beale, Mr. Pierce going to California to close the deal. He says that Geo. Beale and Grant Beale are making money fast in California. Grant having cleaned up $50,000 in the last few years and is now building a handsome home there.

Recovering Rapidly—Harry Gallbraith was in today from their new home on Isthmus Inlet and is recovering rapidly from the effects of the accident in which he sustained a broken leg the other day. While moving from Eastside to the Horace Burnham house on Isthmus Inlet, the wagon stuck and in helping the team to move it Gallbraith was thrown over the embankment about 12 or 15 feet fracturing his leg. He laid by the roadside until the furniture was delivered and unloaded, and the wagon returned and brought him to this city for surgical treatment. The fracture is healing rapidly and he is now able to get along without crutches.

STILL IT GROWS. The GOLDEN RULE continues to grow. It will continue to grow. It must be so. Some day it will cover the entire block and extend some ten or twenty stories in the air. Sooner or later the bank will be pushed from the corner. In the squeeze the Finnish Co-operative store will be pinched until it will give place. For the first time, The Coos Bay Times will be routed. Stafford and his sweets will seek cover. The Chamber of Commerce will be boosted to about the sixteenth floor. Senstacken and his Title—oh, well, let it go at that. But the Golden Rule must grow. This is only a dream, but stranger things have happened.
