RAISE MONEY TO CELEBRATE

North Bend Has Subscribed $1500 for Fourth of July; Make it $2000 Now.

J. A. Allen, chairman of the soliciting committee of the North Bend Commercial club, has informed A. H. Derbyshire, chairman of the citizens' meeting which inaugurated the Fourth of July celebration plan, that already over $1500 has been subscribed to defray the expense of the big event. Mr. Allen also stated that a number of leading men had not yet been solicited and that he was confident the subscriptions could be brought up to the $2000 mark. This will probably be done.

Another Fourth of July meeting will be held in the North Bend Commercial club tonight to hear the report of the soliciting committee and also to make further plans for the big celebration July 4 and 5. It is likely that other committees to take charge of the various phases of the celebration will be appointed tonight.

PNEUMONIA IS FATAL TO CHILD

Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry O'Mara of North Bend Succumbs.

Olive O'Mara, the seven-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry O'Mara of North Bend, died last evening after a short illness. She had been suffering from a severe cold which later developed into pneumonia and spasms. Late yesterday, her condition became critical.

Little Olive was seven months and six days old and the host of friends of the family will unite in extending sympathy to the bereaved parents. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

This is the first fatality from pneumonia on the Bay in a long time although there have been an unusually large number of cases within the last few weeks.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Marshfield Presbyterian church, the Rev. J. E. Burkhardt officiating.

Mr. O'Mara is superintendent of the Oregon Power Co. Their little daughter's full name was Olive Marie.

UNDER ARREST IN NORTH BEND

Robert Lillequist Charged with Drawing Gun on Carl Olson Today.

Robert Lillequist of North Bend was arraigned before Justice Shuster there this afternoon on a warrant charging him with assault with a dangerous weapon. He did not enter a plea and Justice Shuster gave him until 9 o'clock tomorrow to plead, requiring a $500 bond for his appearance.

The arrest followed some trouble at the North Bend Longshoremen's hall this forenoon. Several were playing cards when Lillequist entered. He had been drinking some and started to talk to Carl Olson, one of the players. The latter replied that he was "too busy to talk to him," whereupon Lillequist is said to have pulled a revolver and uttered some threat.

It seems that Lillequist has been trying to pick a quarrel with Olson for the last few days over some trouble, the exact nature of which has not been divulged.

RIGHT OF WAY DEEDS FILED

Southern Pacific Closing Up for Last of Route Along Siuslaw Now.

EUGENE, March 19.—The Guard says:

"Quite a number of deeds to Willamette Pacific right-of-way between the Notli tunnel and the coast were filed for record this afternoon. Right-of-way Agent Buell is fast closing up the deals for land and there are only a few small pieces yet to secure. The grantors as named in the deeds filed today are as follows: Chas. B. Morgan, A. M. Richardson, Anna Hoffman, O. W. Hurd, Olaf Rice, Ole P. Rice, J. U. Sutherland, Preston Reeves, William S. Sutherland, Charlotte J. Cox, E. A. Beech, Albert A. Danilio, Geo. A. Hindley, Giles Fowler, J. R. Lasswell, Clara S. Walker, Fred N. Fredericksen, Charlotte E. Weils, R. H. Clow and Peter S. Rice.

A water tank is being erected in the Willamette Pacific material yards west of Blair street for the engines used in construction work on the W. P., after trains begin to run on the latter line.

A large number of railroad laborers arrived from the north yesterday and today for work on the Willamette Pacific.

Twelve Bros. received a carload of oats today for their camps on the Coos Bay line.

GRANTS PASS LINE.

City Sells $200,000 Worth of Bonds to Build Line to Sea.

GRANTS PASS, March 19.—The $200,000 bond issue voted by the people of this city on December 18 for the purpose of building a municipally owned railroad from Grants Pass to the Illinois Valley, was sold yesterday to Terry, Briggs & Slayton of Toledo, Ohio, at a price plus accrued interest. The entire issue goes to the one firm.

The council has been negotiating the sale of these bonds since the December election, but not until now was an acceptable bid received for them. The bonds bear 5 per cent interest.

This issue was voted to finance the first unit of the railroad that is to be built from Grants Pass to Crescent City on the coast. The first unit is to be extended from this city to the Illinois Valley, and will be owned by the municipality.

Right of way has already been secured to Hays Hill, a distance of 16 miles, and 26 acres of terminal grounds within the city of Grants Pass have been purchased.

The money realized from this sale of bonds will be used in the purchase of steel rails and equipment, crews now being at work clearing the right of way and getting it ready for the graders. It is expected that the road can be completed to Wilderville, on the Applegate river, by midsummer.

MANY ATTEND LENTEN SERVICE

Large Congregation Greet Archdeacon Chambers at Second Meeting.

That "nothing succeeds like success" is an old saying strikingly illustrated in the series of addresses which Archdeacon Chambers is delivering in the Episcopal church on these evenings in Holy Week. Last evening double the congregation of the preceding evening, and practically occupying every seat in the edifice, listened most attentively as the Archdeacon drew his lessons from the parable of the great supper, which symbolizes the feast of the Gospel and the excuses which were made to get out of attending the supper typifying the vain excuses which today are made on all sides by those who for one reason or another stay away from God.

Following the address there was a helpful meditation on the consequences of these excuses, which the speaker designated as nothing less than sins of omission, often more grievous in God's sight than sins of commission. One condition characterized all these consequences, namely, that in which the Prodigal found himself—feeding at the swine troughs of the world.

The Archdeacon closed his address by an instruction in church history, carrying his hearers as far as the Reformation, which will be continued at this evening's service. The subject for the address will be "Whether It Be Right," and the meditation, "The Forgiveness of Sins."

The services are inspiring, as testified to by the increasingly large congregations, all of whom have felt greatly helped by the Archdeacon's forcible way of presenting the facts of the Christian life. The services are brief and hearty and free to all.

BUYS COOS TIMBER.

F. R. Pendleton, one of Oregon's best known timber dealers, arrived in Roseburg this morning to spend a few days looking after business matters. Mr. Pendleton recently purchased considerable timber in Douglas and Coos counties, which he expects to hold until after the completion of the Panama Canal.—Roseburg News.

COOS BAY DEVELOPMENT NEWS

NEW HOMES TO BE BUILT HERE

Several Arrange to Erect Residences in First Addition; Others Contemplated.

One new residence has been started and three others shortly will be started in First Addition, south of South Marshfield. C. M. Conner of Conner & Hongland, has started the construction of a fine modern eight room house.

G. M. Binckey and his brother-in-law, W. Mason, are also arranging to start new residences there.

Homer Mauzey is making arrangements for the erection of a modern bungalow there.

Plans to Build. John Meserle yesterday closed a deal through I. S. Kaufman & Company for the purchase of a corner, 90x125, at Eleventh and Commercial from G. Carlson of Portland. The price is understood to have been in the neighborhood of $7500. It is said to be Mr. Meserle's intention to erect some modern houses on the property in the near future.

To Build Houses. See. John Motley of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce today received a letter from R. E. Abbott of the Northwestern First Mortgage Trust company of Portland in which he stated that he would arrive here on the Breakwater this week to look this city over with a view to erecting a number of houses here to rent on easy terms or sell on the partial payment system. President Green has been in correspondence with the company for some time.

CARD OF THANKS. To the many friends, and especially to the F. O. Eagles, Marshfield Aerie, 538, and to 38-16, I. L. A., who by their kindly acts and words of sympathy lightened the burden of my grief in the recent illness and death of my beloved husband, Albert Hansen, I extend my heartfelt thanks.

MRS. ALBERT HANSEN.

WILL REMODEL BLANCO HOTEL

Many Changes Made in First Floor to Accommodate New Restaurant.

Contractor Telander this morning began the remodeling of the Blanco hotel, the putting in of a new front and general improvement of the structure for Emerson Ferry, the proprietor.

The plans call for an entire alteration, the office being changed so that it will have only one-half the present frontage but will extend further back. The entrance will be on Front street directly in front of the present stairway leading to the second floor, the stairway will be moved back. Back of this will be the office and back of it the cloak room and an entrance to the washroom.

North of the lobby and office will be the dining room and restaurant, which will have a good frontage on Front street and take in most of the present dining room. It is stated that Manos Brothers, who formerly conducted the big Oregonian restaurant at Salem, will have charge of the new eating house.

These changes with the new plate glass fronts will make a big improvement in the appearance of the place.

"F" ON NICKEL DEFENDED.

Treasury Department Says Artist's Initial Is Not Unusual.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Protests against the initial "F" of Artist Frazer appearing on the new nickel, caused officials of the Treasury department to declare that this was customary on practically all the coins of the United States and of other nations.

On some foreign coins the artist's full name appears.

STEFANSEN'S SHIP SAILS.

Whaler to Be Stocked at Esquimaux For British Cruise.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—The old whaler Karluk, which has been purchased by Viljalmar Stefansen, discoverer of blonde Esquimaux, for a second voyage to the Arctic, cleared from this port late Saturday for Vancouver, B. C.

The vessel will be stocked at Esquimaux for a three years' cruise in the Arctic seas. Stefansen hopes to be led to unexplored country by his friends among the blonde Esquimaux.

The Karluk is now of American registry, but it is understood that a subsidy will be accepted from the Canadian government and the British flag substituted for that of the United States.
