Breakwater Today Brings in 100 Tons of Light Rails and Dump Cars.

The Breakwater arrived in this afternoon from Portland after a rather rough trip down the coast, a stiff headwind last night delaying her.

In her cargo she had about 100 tons of light rails and dump cars for Porter Bros. Agent McCollum of the Breakwater at North Bend stated this afternoon that they were for use in North Bend but as to their plans he was unable to learn as no representatives of the company accompanied the shipment.

The shipping of the construction equipment, as was announced in The Times last Tuesday, by Porter Brothers indicates that they are planning to hasten the work. WASTE WOOD TO BE USED NOW

Manager Smeaton of Smith Mill Plans to Ship it South for Fuel.

Coos Bay will shortly be furnishing a considerable portion of the stove wood used in Oakland and San Francisco, according to present plans of General Manager Smeaton.

In order to supply the wood, it will be necessary to put in another small mill to cut the slab wood and refuse into cordwood and stove wood lengths for shipment. In addition to the slab wood from the mill, it is understood that plans are being made to utilize the large amount of small wood in the various logging camps, pieces too small to be rafted to the mill for lumber purposes, but which will make excellent fire wood.

In addition to the profit in the getting of rid of the waste wood, it is said that it is figured out that the Nann Smith and Adeline Smith can load a large amount of the stove wood and cord wood each trip in addition to their regular lumber carrying capacity, stowing it otherwise in waste space on the ships so that the cost of carrying it will be practically nothing.

At San Francisco and Oakland, it is said that there is a big demand for the wood at $10 or so per cord.

This plan with the utilizing of much waste in the new pulp mill will affect a big saving and in fact make money out of what has hitherto been waste in the sawmill business, a waste that has been expensive and difficult to get rid of.

With the coming of the railroad, it is likely that a large amount of the sawdust waste from the mill will also be utilized by supplying it to refrigerator plants and packing houses.
