OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF MARSHFIELD.

Plan Benefit—It is expected that arrangements will be made to give a benefit performance of the Coos Bay band minstrel show next Tuesday or Wednesday night as a benefit for Mrs. L. K. Ballinger. Definite announcement will be made Monday.

MANY PLAN TO BUILD ON BAY

Carl W. Tertsen has sold an interest in a corner at Eighth and Cedar streets, North Marshfield, to his partner, E. S. Bargett, and they are planning to erect a building there to be used as a bakery. Just when they will erect the building is not determined but it probably will be soon. They plan to make it an ideal building.

Miss Nellie Montgomery, formerly principal of the Marshfield High school, is having some lots cleared in Sengstacken's acquisition and is planning to erect a home there soon.

George E. Cook is figuring on erecting two or three small houses near his new home in Ferndale, the same being for rent.

C. Lindgren, a well known Marshfield carpenter, is arranging to erect a house on a lot in Sengstacken's addition which he recently bought.

Albert W. Hagermeister, who is employed at Norton & Hanson's, has purchased a house and lot near Eighth and Hemlock, North Marshfield, from Henry Sengstacken and will occupy it as a home.

George P. Parker, one of the owners of the Castlewood saloon, has purchased the R. E. Knorr property at the corner of Thirtieth and Commercial for about $2,000. Mr. Knorr has gone to Gold Beach. Mr. Parker expects to build on some of the lots soon.

WILL SHIP IN MANY HORSES

The Nann Smith and Adeline Smith arrived in from the south today and are loading at the Smith mill. Both boats will probably get out in the morning.

The Nann Smith brought a number of workmen for the Willett & Burr work on the Smith-Powers line beyond Myrtle Point.

On the next trip, the Nann Smith will bring up about 100 head of horses for Willett & Burr to be used in rushing the Myrtle Point line. She will also bring other equipment. A couple of steam-shovels will be brought in.

The Nann Smith will sail from San Francisco next Thursday and will bring in freight for Coos Bay in place of the Redondo which is making a through trip to San Pedro again.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

The Adeline Smith is due in tonight from Oakland and the Nann Smith will arrive in tomorrow morning.

The Rainbow was taken off the ways today and was towed to Allegany by Capt. Edwards. She is being equipped with an oil burner so that she will be speaker and cleaner for the fast run in conjunction with the auto line which Jerry Kinney and W. McDonald are planning to operate between Allegany and Scottsburg or Drain this summer.

The Alliance is due in tomorrow and will sail at 6 o'clock Monday morning for Eureka.

The Redondo will sail at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon for San Francisco and San Pedro.

The Speedwell is due in tonight or in the morning from Bandon, and will sail at 6 o'clock Monday morning for San Francisco.

MONDAY IS LAST DAY.
$600 will take handsome new bungalow—balance on monthly payments. Price $260 for Monday only. If not sold then it will be taken off the market.

FRED REED IS ARRESTED TODAY

HEARING MONDAY.
Fred Reed was arrested this afternoon by Constable Cox and taken before Justice Pennock. His arraignment was set for 1 o'clock Monday. He furnished $1,000 bonds for his appearance, Chas. O. King and Capt. Edgar Simpson being his sureties.

Bend he and Reed had a drink there. He said he had a rather vague recollection of what happened. He said he was taken sick about 11:30 and went out to get some air and didn't drink any more. He said he had too many drinks to be exactly sober. He said that he was feeling rather hilarious but didn't remember any singing as they went down the street. He said he was a poor judge of speed but thought they were running 15 or 20 miles an hour. The rear curtain was up and he was in the rear seat. He didn't remember any jolting or incident until the auto turned over. He said he was too excited after it occurred to examine the ground.

In response to a question from Coroner Wilson, Mehlmann admitted that he was pretty well intoxicated and probably didn't have a very distinct recollection of just what did happen. He said he didn't remember anyone getting out.

C. C. Dana testified that he met Reed first at Shrock's saloon in North Bend and said that Reed drank a lemonade or lemon sour there. Then they came to Marshfield. He said he was feeling good but wasn't intoxicated during the night. He said that the machine was running 12 to 16 miles an hour with the party. He had no recollection of making the turn at the fatal curve or of being jolted before the accident occurred. He thought that he felt the machine skid just before the accident. He said that he was thrown clear of the car. J. T. Harrigan wanted to know if it was possible for a car running only 12 or 16 miles an hour to be thrown over the way it was but Dana was not certain. He vigorously denied being intoxicated.

C. L. Bonebrake said that he was just locking up to go home, soon after midnight, when singing or yells attracted his attention and he saw a car coming fast down Front street. He said it sped by him at the rate of at least forty miles an hour. He felt that when they passed, something was going to happen and he watched them as long as he could see the car. When he listened and soon afterwards heard a crash and he rode down after them on his bicycle. En route he met an auto coming back up town and while he didn't notice who the car belonged to, he thought it must have been Tucker coming after 25d. He didn't recall seeing any machine going north after the speeding auto. He said when the speeding car hit the rough spots near Alder it seemed like "Shooting the chutes." He said when he reached the scene two were trying to lift up the auto and told him they had sent for aid. Soon after relief came. There were few on the street then. He said that the officers arrived later. He said that the tracks of the auto indicated that the first attempt to turn the auto had been made after it hit the sand. He said that the sand was plowed up by the machine. In response to a question by Alex Johnson, Mr. Bonebrake said that the auto looked like it had turned end over end and then fallen on its side.

Nightwatch Shoupe said that about 10 minutes after 12, he was

NAMES WINNERS WORD CONTEST

Mrs. Le Roy Hall, Mrs. D. L. Rood and Mrs. Allan Todd Victors in Band Program.

First Prize—Mrs. Le Roy Hall. Second Prize—Mrs. D. L. Rood. Third Prize—Mrs. Allan Todd. These are the awards made yesterday by the judges in the "Misspelled word contest" of the Coos Bay Concert Band program. The judges were Misses Lillian Elmore, Agnes Carpenter and Ruth Woodruth.

Their task was not an easy one. The majority of the answers ranged from 62 to 65, while the right number was about 80. Mrs. Hall's answer was turned in first and secured first prize for her as she and Mrs. Rood had practically the same answers.

Wm. Ledward won the special prize of a $3.00 hat offered by the Fixup Clothing Store in their advertisement to the first person guessing correctly the name of the author of the saying, "The American People Like to Be Humbled." Mr. Ledward guessed P. T. Barnum.

He did not fight extradition. He is very repentant and says that he was intoxicated when he did it. He will be arraigned at Coquille Monday or Tuesday and will be kept in jail here until Monday.

Married Here.—Albert W. Hinz and Miss Edith Scammon were married here Thursday evening, soon after the arrival of the Redondo which brought the bride here from California. Mr. Hinz and his bride formerly lived in the same California towns and he came to Bandon to take a position in a hardware store. He was unable to go to California now and had Miss Scammon come here for the ceremony. He is 26 and she is 23. Rev. H. I. Rutledge officiated, the nuptials taking place at the M. E. parsonage.

MISS RUTH HOPKINS leaves on the Redondo tomorrow for San Francisco on an extended visit.

In the engine house talking to Charley Baxter. They heard an auto go rushing past and he remarked "There is someone breaking the speed ordinance." He went to the door but the auto was out of sight and it was about 20 or 30 minutes later before he went to the accident.

SOCIETY NEWS

BAPTIST CHURCH

Easter was commemorated last Sunday morning at the Marshfield First Baptist church by a large number of people, who listened very attentively to the able address by the pastor, A. F. Bassford, on the subject, "The Meaning of Easter." The Knights Templar were the guests of honor.

The church was beautifully decorated with exquisite bouquets of Easter lilies and hyacinths and drooping clusters of brake fern, which lent an Easter atmosphere to the occasion, despite the inclemency of the weather.

The large choir, under the leadership of Prof. Ayre, did some especially good work, the anthems being rendered with both spirit and expression. The soloists were: Mrs. Geo. Ayre, Mrs. M. Ogren, Miss Alice Tickell, Miss Bessie Ayre, Ernest Mosher and George Doll. Organist, Miss Alpha Mauzey.

There was no special music in the Swedish Lutheran church Easter Sunday. The edifice was appropriately decorated for the occasion by the Sunday school children. Rev. Oslund delivered a sermon and the music was furnished by the choir.

METHODIST SERVICES

The Easter services at the Methodist Church were entertaining and impressive. The church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion in Easter lilies and ferns, there being quantities of both banked around the choir stand and pulpit and baskets of flowers were hung from the ceiling. The choir under the direction of F. A. Saechi gave two anthems and the solo "Come See Where Jesus Lay" was sung by Mrs. A. B. Gidley whose beautiful voice was heard to advantage in this selection. A strong sermon was delivered by Rev. Rutledge whose theme pertained to the Resurrection.

CHRISTIAN SERVICES

The Easter Services at the Christian Church were postponed on account of the illness of the pastor, Rev. Doward.

Mrs. Doward gave a short Easter talk to the Sunday school. The program for last Sunday will be given this week.

SOCIAL SEWING CLUB

Mrs. D. J. Rees entertained the social sewing club members at her home last Thursday. Numbering among her guests Mrs. Geo. Ayre, Mrs. Del Rhodes, Mrs. J. C. Swinford, Mrs. Eva Gammill and Mrs. J. C. Swanson.

NORTH BEND NEWS.

There will be no services at the North Bend Episcopal Church Sunday.

The service in the Episcopal church at North Bend on Sunday will be postponed on account of the funeral service over the remains of Mr. L. K. Ballinger, at which Rev. Browning will officiate.

Haines Better—W. R. Haines, who was bruised in the auto accident, in which L. K. Ballinger was killed, was reported getting along nicely at Mercy hospital.

What The Other Fellows Say

SOME INTERESTING CONVERSATION CONCERNING MOTORCYCLES THAT WAS OVEHEARD BY OUR DICTAGRAPH.

Henry—Hello, John—say, we've got to do something if we sell any motorcycles here, since that 1913 Indian is out. I've raked my noodle, and the best thing we can do is to claim that the Indian won't run.

John—No, that won't do. Blind people can see that they are the best runnests of them all.

Henry—Well, let's claim they get out of order quicker and easier than the others.

John—No, don't claim that for the people can also see that the Indian is running and getting the long distance and continuous run records while the others are hung up along the road or in the repair shops.

Henry—How would it be to claim that ours is faster?

John—Oh, thunder, no. Everybody round here who has watched the speed of machines have seen that nothing would keep in sight of those blinged red Indians. That will never do. Think of something people can't see.

Henry—Well, then let's claim that the new spring frame is no good.

John—Now here, don't for gosh sakes stir up that spring frame business—keep that under your hat, for you know blamed well if that's stirred up some one will want to get on one to see how poor it is, and listen, Henry—just as sure as a fellow sits on that SPRING FRAME he will buy an Indian. No, for gosh sakes, don't mention spring frame, think of something else.

Henry—Ah, I've got it. Let's tell the people that the material used in the Indian is no good, and they are not well built. We can make them believe that the manufacturers are a bunch of fools that have no reputation—don't intend to stay long in business, and they put poor material in and just throw them together, consequently, they don't last long.

John—But some people know that the Indian has been made for eleven years in the biggest motorcycle factory in the world, and they know that they always win the long distance events, and they would know that the material must be of the very best to withstand that, and they have to be the best made to get through a winner, and how in thunder are we going to put that over on the boys?

Henry—Let's tell the boys the foot boards are a hindrance.

John—Oh, thunder, Henry, don't mention the foot boards, for everybody knows they are the only really comfortable riding position.

Henry—Well, let's tell them anyway that they don't last more than a year.

John—No use. They will point out a number of Indians right here in Marshfield that are four and five years old that are still in use.

Henry—Well, darned if I know what to claim.

John—Neither do I.

The above was transcribed by our own Dictagraph stenographer. There's one thing we are particularly proud of and that is the new

CRADLE SPRING FRAME

The INDIAN cradle spring frame is being "knocked" because it renders rigid frames obsolete, and delivers a knockout blow to spring seat posts. It is the strongest competition ammunition ever have fired, and it has got the other fellows on the run. It supplies the missing link so long sought to make possible a really comfortable riding motorcycle.
