

COOS BAY DEVELOPMENT NEWS

BIG THINGS BY WILSEY PEOPLE

Major Kinney Says They Are Going Ahead With Belt Line and Rapid Transit.

That W. J. Wilsey's syndicate will go ahead faster with its project for developing the Kinney properties on Coos Bay is indicated by a telegram from Major Kinney at Portland, Wilsey originally figured on spending about $100,000 in physical improvements on the Kinney properties, but plans are being made for spending considerably more than this sum now. Wilsey has been in New York recently but is expected back in Portland soon, when her, Judge Bronaugh who is the syndicate's attorney examining the abstracts, and Engineer H. A. Sumner will come to Coos Bay soon to get things in shape, it is said. Major Kinney's telegram to The Times says: "Looks good for Coos Bay, a letter from London to Judge Bronaugh advises him to keep in shape the Belt Line and Rapid Transit company. They also turned down a proposition in southern Oregon, saying that their Coos Bay property will take heavy money and fast in its development."

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE ORPHEUM

Tower Brothers Rearrange Popular Moving Picture Theater for Patrons.

Tower Brothers have just completed some extensive improvements in the Orpheum theater, which makes it one of the most up-to-date and attractive moving picture theaters to be found anywhere. Incidentally, the changes make a marked improvement in the exterior as well as the interior appearances of the place. The old entrance has been replaced by a more convenient one and this increases the seating capacity of the house by about forty-five. It also permitted a rearrangement of the seats, giving more room for each row, and thus adding to the comfort of patrons. The interior has been newly painted and redecorated throughout and the front has been painted attractively. The ventilation of the house has been improved and other changes made that will be beneficial to the patrons. With these improvements and the high class of pictures and attractions they are offering, Tower Brothers and the Orpheum are entitled to the rapid increase in patronage, which they are enjoying. Even with the increased seating capacity, the show-house was pretty well crowded Sunday.

PLAN TO BEGIN NEW BUILDINGS

Marshfield Catholics to Erect $5000 Parochial Residence and $20,000 Church.

Announcement of plans for erection of a $5,000 parochial residence and a $20,000 church building in Marshfield was made by the Rev. Father Munro at St. Monica's at services there yesterday. The parochial residence will probably be erected first and the church will be started as soon as one-half of the total cost is subscribed. J. H. Flanagan, W. A. Toye and A. E. Neff have been appointed a finance committee to take charge of the campaign and Hugh McLain has been chosen as head of the building committee. The work will be started by subscriptions from the members of the congregation and if this does not raise the required amount, the balance will probably be assessed proportionately among the members of the loan raised, secured by such an assessment. The matter has been taken up with Archbishop Christie. It is required that the building be done in the name of the congregation. It is hoped to get both projects underway soon. The site will be where the old church has been located on South Sixth street.

PLAN SOME BIG IMPROVEMENTS NO PRODUCE ON THE MARKET

Industrial Activity Begins on the Rogue River at Wedderburn. Portland Imports Fish From Yakima and California—Other Prices Quoted.

(Special to The Times) WEDDERBURN, Ore., March 31.—Roderick L. Macleay, president of the Macleay Estate Company of Portland, accompanied by T. Slater Johnston, fruit grower and capitalist of Medford, Oregon, arrived in Wedderburn yesterday, after a two-day trip down the Rogue River trail, from Leland. Mr. Macleay came down to get the work started putting the cannery and cold storage plant in shape to take care of the salmon when the fishing season opens under the law passed by the legislature re-opening Rogue River to commercial fishing. Already a large force of men has been put to work here installing new and modern machinery and other development work will soon follow. Many families had packed their goods to move to California when they heard the Rogue River Fish Bill was voted by the governor, but were happily surprised when the bill became a law over the veto. They have all got work now and others are moving in, and the lower Rogue country is taking on new life in prospect of the busy season ahead. Mr. Macleay has also given orders to start the Company's large saw mill, which was built here last year at an expense of $30,000, and he has accepted plans for the construction of a large Hunting Lodge overlooking Rogue River, where he will entertain the guests whom he has invited to visit the best hunting and fishing grounds in the state of Oregon the coming season. Mr. Macleay says that if they are from Missouri, he will "show them," that Curry County is the best hunting ground in the state. The state game warden estimates Curry's deer at 15,000 being 5,000 more than any other county in the state, and local people believe that 15,000 is a low estimate. Mr. Johnston is a guest of Mr. Macleay on this trip, and arrangements have been made with Elvin Miller, who owns some of the best hounds in the state, to corral a few of the large panther in the mountains near-by next week. Incidentally, also, Mr. Johnston is looking over the country on the lower Rogue with a view to its fruit-growing possibilities. The people of Curry County are convinced that they can grow just as fine apples and pears as are grown in the Medford district, and all that is lacking is transportation to start a large fruit growing industry here. CULLINGS FROM COQUILLE. Coos County Sent News as Told by The Herald. Mrs. S. M. Nosler returned on the Elizabeth from a winter's visit at San Diego, arriving home Friday. Mr. Nosler had planned to go down also and come home with her, accompanied by George T. Moulton, but the latter's illness upset their plans. The Coquille Mill & Mercantile Co.'s mill has been laid up for several days from lack of logs. When logging operation commence in the timber recently purchased by the company, which will be in five or six weeks, such troubles will be over. The party given by Mr. Cleave's class of the Sunday school of the M. E. church South on Wednesday evening was a very pleasant affair and was enjoyed by nineteen of the young people. Social games and refreshments were features of the evening. The Senior League of the M. E. church South gave a social at the home of Mrs. Plyer on Friday evening, and the attendance was about thirty. The Leaguers and their young friends report a very enjoyable evening. FIGHT OVER RAGGING Ed Spence, of Grants Pass, Killed by George Gates. GRANTS PASS, Or., March 31.—Ed Spence, floor manager of a dance held near here, was killed by George Gates, as a result of his trying to enforce his taboo on "ragging."

AID FAIR AT MYRTLE POINT

Coos County Entitled to $171 From State Under the New Law.

It is expected that the Myrtle Point Fair Association will immediately make arrangements to take advantage of the new Oregon law, allotting so much to each county in the state for county fairs. The Myrtle Point Fair Association was organized last year and have a good fair grounds provided and the state aid will come in handy. Under the new law providing for a state levy of one-twentieth of a mill for county fairs, Douglas county will this year receive $1766, Coos will get $1171, Lane $1985 and Curry a pittance of $369. Only one county in the state gets less than Curry and that is Wheeler, which is entitled to only $275. Jackson county, which is unofficially linked with Douglas and Lane in a speed circuit program, will get $1704. Under the state levy, Multnomah county would ordinarily get $15,897.55, but the provision is made that no county shall secure a sum over $10,000, and that the excess shall be distributed among the counties of the state.

TEACHERS AT COQUILLE.

Supt. Howard Re-elected for Term of Two Years. The Coquille Herald says: "The board of directors of District No. 8 met at the office of J. J. Stanley, last Friday in a called meeting, those present being J. J. Stanley, R. H. Mast and J. J. Stanley, directors; O. C. Sanford, clerk; C. A. Howard, city superintendent, and a number of citizens. It was unanimously ordered that the following teachers be employed. A. J. M. Robertson, principal of high school, at a salary of $1100, a raise of $50; Rena Anderson, seventh grade, $67.50 per month; Louise Brikke, sixth grade, $62.50; Elena Minard, fifth grade, $65; Bertha Conlogue, intermediate grades, $60; Ruth Plank, third grade, $62.50; Gertrude Lorenz, second grade, $67.50; Inez Chase, first grade, $75. It was ordered that C. A. Howard be re-elected superintendent for two years from the expiration of his present contract, at an advanced salary. In the matter of the petition presented, asking for a new election on the school site question and bearing 122 signatures, a long discussion ensued, but no official action was taken. The counter-petition, circulated by the opposition to a new election was not presented, finally it was determined to take a few days to get more light on the question."
