

Dayton Motorcycles

"Nothing Succeeds Like Success"

WE WANT YOUR BUSINESS because of the success we have attained.

"Humbag" may succeed in tents and on street corners, but it takes quality and service to pull us through in brick buildings.

We offer you Juvenile Bicycles with steel rims. Can you get them elsewhere?

Our Coos Queen Bicycles at $28.50 are good enough to carry our trade mark.

Our Coos King Bicycles at $30.00 are good enough and strong enough to carry any man in Marshfield.

These Bicycles are made by the same factory which makes the Dayton. Have you ever heard of Dayton Bicycles? They average about six to the block in Marshfield.

The Dayton Motorcycle is made by the same people and for power, simplicity and ease of handling, is said by many riders to be the best in Marshfield.

Our Motorcycle expert is admittedly a REAL expert and motorcycle repairing will from now on be part of our business.

WE NEVER EXAGGERATE, we never intentionally misrepresent anything and we try to treat our customers so that they will come again and recommend us to their friends.

REPEAT SALES are what we are after. We seldom make anything on our first sale. That only pays for our advertising.

For monthly Union prayer meeting of the local churches will be held this evening in the Baptist church. It will begin at 8. All are invited to attend.

Many On Stage.—The Drain-Gardner stage had 16 incoming passengers yesterday, most of them being traveling men.

Brings Auto.—F. Ketchum arrived here on the Breakwater today from Portland, bringing an auto with him to tour this section.

Meet Friday.—There will be an important postponed meeting of the congregation of the Episcopal Church on Friday evening of this week at 7:30 in the church. All interested in the church are urgently asked to be present.

Will Move.—Gilbert Gilbertson was in Marshfield yesterday on business. His wife and family have gone to Woodburn, Or., to make their home and he will join them there in the course of a few months. Henry G. Miners will take charge of his ranch on Kentuck Inlet.

Mine Progressing.—Will Hennessey came down from the Smith-Powers mine on Isthmus Inlet today on business. He reports that the new mine is progressing nicely. They are now taking out about fifty tons per day, all of which is going to the Willett & Burr camp. In another month, they will have the mine opened in good shape.

Perham in Roseburg.—The Roseburg News says: "E. G. Perham, the Marshfield bridge builder, arrived here to spend a few days. Mr. Perham expects to submit bids for the construction of the several bridges to be built throughout Douglas county during the coming summer. The bids will probably be opened by the county court on Wednesday, the first day of the April term of the court."

Birthday.—Soon—Cal Cathcart on April 21 will celebrate his 71st birthday. He said that he noticed that some French seerss had announced that the flood and storm disasters in the United States would not terminate until April 21 and he supposed that it must be that his birthday was responsible for the dangerous era. Mr. Cathcart has long been a resident of Coos and Douglas Counties and his many friends will unite in congratulating him and in wishing that he may continue to enjoy many more birthdays.

Had Narrow Escape.—E. H. Freeman, the well-known Portland traveling man, arrived here last evening via Gardiner. He reports that a cook off one of the vessels loading at the Gardiner mill had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday. He arose early and in getting off to bring in his supply of milk, he slipped and fell into the Bay. He broke two ribs and badly bruised himself but managed to get to a piling where he clung on for half an hour before his cries attracted aid, the balance of the crew on the boat not being up. The cook was a foreigner and came here on the stage yesterday for treatment.
