Fight Returns.—The Times will receive the Anderson-Brown fight returns by rounds tonight.

Opens Camp.—Clarence Gould is opening a new logging camp at Allegany this week. He will employ 25 men.

School Social.—There will be a basket social in the Elk Rock school house, South Coos River, next Saturday evening. The launch Tigra will leave foot of Market at 6.30 carrying passengers free.

Court Next Week.—W. W. Gage is in town today from Coquille on business. The grand jury and preliminary court proceedings will start next week but the regular April term of court convenes April 28.

Want Improvements.—Residents of North Inlet will shortly present a petition to the Coos Bay Port Commission asking for improvements in the channel there. They have had Engineer Robinson go over the matter for them.

Auto Lines Merge.—A working merger of the Twin City and Gorst & King auto lines between North Bend and Marshfield was perfected yesterday. Mr. Kinney is planning to enter the Allegany-Scottsburg business when the weather permits.

Buys Property.—W. H. Dindinger has purchased the corner of Ninth and Commercial, 125 by 212 feet, from Mrs. Cyrus Happy and Mrs. Claudine Kaufman for about $2000. He bought it as an investment and may erect some residences there soon.

Boosts Coos Bay.—Sec. John Motley, of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce, has received a request from F. B. Tichenor of Seattle for some pictures of local dairies. Mr. Tichenor says that he is getting out a booklet to boost Coos and Curry counties.

Raise Rents.—Local rents are going up some. J. W. Bennett has increased the rent of the Blanco billiard parlors from $60 to $100 per month, the rent of the Claymore bar from $125 to $150 per month and the rent on the two store rooms in the rear of the Claymore to $60 per month.

Son to Visit Here.—Wm. Ledward has received an agreeable surprise in the way of a letter from his son, Fred, who is a brass band worker in St. Paul, Minn., stating that he will arrive on the Bay to spend a long enforced vacation with his parents, his physician having advised a rest for him, fearing slow brass poisoning.

Relative Lost.—Miss Beatrice Roberts of Marshfield, now teaching the Sacchi district school on South Inlet, has received word that her brother-in-law, Russell Blackman, was one of the victims of the Mimi wreck at Bay City Oregon, last week. from the Southern Pacific agent at Ogden, Utah.

Loses Limbs—Harold Britt of Smith-Powers Camp 6, who was run over on a trestle by a Smith-Powers logging train, had his arm amputated just below the shoulder and his leg just above the ankle. He is reported doing nicely today and will probably recover. Friends in San Francisco have been apprised of the accident. He is a young man.

In Padded Cell—Constable Emory of North Bend returned today noon from Coquille, where he took Edna Hinch, who will there await the action of the grand jury on the charge against her of assaulting Jimmy Barnett (or Burnapp, which he claims to be his right name). She was placed in the padded cell, there being none other for her. She strenuously objected to being placed in jail.

Building Fine Home—James Watson is here from Coquille conferring with Architect W. S. Turpen regarding the awarding of a contract for a fine $5000 country home to be built on the home ranch of his parents, Judge and Mrs. D. L. Watson, at Coos City. The house will have ten rooms, be modern in every respect and have a steam heating plant and will be one of the finest country residences in Coos county.

Give Street Number—Deputy Postmaster Frank Sumner says considerable difficulty is experienced in making mail deliveries to persons who forget to have their mail addressed to street and number. Sometimes mail is returned because the carrier cannot locate persons whose mail is not correctly addressed. Everyone receiving mail by carrier is urged to have all mail addressed to street number.

Tried Car Out—Dave Holden, J. J. Koontz, and C. C. Going Sunday tested out Dave Holden's Pulleymobile on the sand above Jarvis landing. A twenty-horse power auto was used for the test machine and was found not powerful enough, having to be run on low gear, but demonstrated that the invention is a success. Dave Holden will now try and have Captain Cornwall equip a sixty-horse power auto with the device and says a machine that powerful can make the run to Gardiner easily in an hour. "She's a jake," says J. L. Koontz and Col Going concurs and everybody is hoping that genial Dave Holden will make a million or so out of it. He has his application for a patent pending.

MANY AUTO TIRES.

The Gunnery on the last Breakwater received a shipment of about $1700 worth of the famous Michelin auto tires. This is one of the largest shipments of tires ever received in a town in Oregon, outside of Portland. With the exception of a Medford house, the Gunnery carries the largest stock of auto tires of any concern in Oregon outside of Portland. The big shipment enables the Gunnery to fill immediately almost any order for auto tires.

NORTH BEND NOTES.

Poisenen Lodge Knights of Pythias of North Bend held an initiation and banquet last evening. A large number from Coos River and outlying districts attended as did a delegation from Myrtle Lodge of Marshfield. Joe Frey and Ed Coffelt were initiated and the latter rather disappointed the officers of the side degree in that he failed to do any "rough riding." After the business session a banquet was enjoyed. Short talks were made by Archie Phillips, Joe Hodson and others.

Along the Waterfront.

The Rustler has returned from Rogue River and is loading for Florence.
The Nann Smith arrived in this morning from Bay Point.
The Roscoe left last night with the Hugh Hogan, laden with coal, in tow for the Siuslaw.
