POPE PIUS SINKING TODAY; LAWYER TO DRAW HIS WILL

ANDERSON WON GREAT FIGHT

Fighter Formerly on Coos Bay Knocks out "Knockout" Brown in Fifteenth.

BUD WANTS MURPHY OR WOLGAST NEXT

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—Bud Anderson, of Vancouver, Wash., who became a contender for the lightweight championship when he knocked out "Knockout" Brown, of New York, in the fifteenth round last night will leave for the north Friday and will challenge the winner of the Wolgast-Murphy fight Saturday in San Francisco.

THE GO was a fast one from start to finish. Anderson had decidedly the best of it up to the eighth round when he apparently began to tire and for three rounds, Brown had the best of the go.

Round 1. Brown rushed Anderson to the ropes. Anderson fought his way back to center, sending body blows and taking hard punches in face. Fought fiercely at close range, both landing hard to body and face.

Round 2. Brown again rushed Anderson, sending him into his own corner. Anderson fought his way out, swapping stiff punches. Anderson had the better of fighting but was warned for holding.

Round 3. Anderson led with a left and rushed in the clinch. On breaking, he rocked Brown several times with right swings to the head, staggering Brown but he kept boring in and was sent reeling with a terrific right upper cut. Anderson became a trifle wild and Brown escaped further damage.

Round 4. Anderson rushed and landed hard right on jaw. Brown apparently was unable to put up a defense. His jaw was an open target and Anderson sent him to his knees with a left swing that landed on the ear. Anderson had better of mid-ring rally as the round ended.

Round 5. Brown missed three right swings and rushing into clinch landed a free right fist in Anderson's face. Brown rushed Anderson to the ropes and the Medford fighter staggered "Knockout" with a terrific right to the chin. In the clinches, Anderson worked awkward but effective with an overhand right that hurt Brown.

Round 6. Anderson whispered to an admirer that he would finish Brown before the eleventh round, but the New Yorker did not appear much damaged when he came up at the bell. Brown's lip was split as he rushed into a hard right jab and clinched. Both men slowed down a trifle, fighting desultorily without much effect.

Round 7. Anderson met Brown's rush with two straight rights that stopped the New Yorker momentarily. Brown took another hard right to the jaw. Anderson was hooted for attempting a kidney punch in the clinch. On the break Brown jarred Anderson with straight left to the jaw and drew cheers when he repeated the blow and made Anderson swing wildly.

Round 8. Anderson fought off Brown's attack with a series of lefts and rights to the face. There was even exchange in the middle of the ring. They Pontiff Reported to be in a Critical Condition—Much Alarm Is Felt.

REASSURING BULLETINS ARE GIVEN TO PUBLIC

Severe Coughing Spell Early This Morning Frightened Papal Attendants.

CONDITION OF POPE.

ROME, April 16.—(By Associated Press) Tonight's bulletin on the condition of Pope Pius says: "His Holiness passed a quiet day without fever. This evening his temperature was 98.1-2. The catarrhal and bronchial affection is in the same condition as this morning. Signed, Marchafava, Amica."

ROME, April 16.—(By Associated Press) Pope Pius had an alarming coughing spell this morning, almost causing suffocation, the attack was followed by such exhaustion that those attending him feared the worst. Subsequent to his excess in coughing, the Pope had a period of depression, but after a rest he appeared relieved. At this hour, the condition of his holiness is considered stationary.

ROME, April 16.—The temperature of Pope Pius varied frequently during the forenoon. The lawyer Patriarca, who represents the Holy See, was summoned to the Vatican. He is the same lawyer, who drew up the last testament of Pope Leo, XIII, and the inference is that he has been asked to do the same for Pope Pius X.

The lawyer was summoned after Professor Marchafava and the Pope's physician had a long conference with Cardinal Merry Del Val, the Papal Secretary of State. Earlier in the morning, the Pope's sisters entered the Vatican and visited the Pope's chamber and later adjourned to the adjoining chapel, where they heard two masses.

Private, but reliable, information is that the Pope is much weaker than yesterday. He was disturbed more than usual by his coughing this morning. Injections administered by Amici during the night had produced the desired effect to keep up the strength of the patient's heart, although general weakness had increased. The Pontiff was able to take some nourishment.

WEATHER MAN GOES WRONG

Willis L. Moore, Head of U. S. Weather Bureau, Charged With Irregularities.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States Weather Bureau, whose resignation has been in President Wilson's hands to become effective July 31, was summarily removed from office today charged with "serious irregularities." This announcement was made in the White House while a conference was in progress between Secretary Houston and the President.

Moore declared that secret charges had been preferred against him and that they had been secretly investigated. He was not shown a copy of the charges he said and no opportunity to investigate them given. He was not given an opportunity to examine witnesses himself. "I have been treated like a prisoner exiled in Siberia," he declared. It has been persistently reported that his resignation, effective July 31, had been asked for.

SALEM—J. A. Forehand, superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company, has filed a complaint with the state railway commission alleging discrimination against his company.
