

WEATHER COLD IN ARIZONA

Stephen Rogers Writes That it Is Not All Sunshine in the Sunny Southland.

Stephen C. Rogers, the well known Coos Bay pioneer, who with his wife have been spending the winter in Tucson, Arizona, writes to The Times the following interesting letter about conditions in that usually sunny land. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers expect to return to Coos Bay about the last of May. Mr. Rogers writes as follows:

Editor Times:

We are very comfortably located here in Tucson. Have rented a three-room house and are enjoying ourselves fine. I have just got through reading the Times. We are getting the paper very regular now and we appreciate it very much. I tell you, as we get all of the news, I take great comfort in reading the top line on the first page of the paper as they are so very fit and right to the point. I understand that you have lived here and know the country so I will not try to describe it. We have been having very changeable weather here since we have been here. It was wet and cold for quite a time when we first came and then we would have a warm day and the next day would be quite windy and dust flying everywhere. As there are no paved streets and no green grass, so the wind has a fair sweep. The hard frost last winter killed a great many trees so it don't look as cheerful as it otherwise would.

I see there has been a number of bad accidents there of late. We think of starting home towards the last of May so as to arrive there when the weather gets good there.

Yours respectfully,

S. C. ROGERS.

DAYTON FLOOD AT THE GRAND

TO SHOW GREAT FILM HERE TUESDAY AFTERNOON AND EVENING—REMARKABLE PICTURE.

Manager Robert Maraden of the Grand Theater has arranged to show the latest motion picture of the great Dayton flood Tuesday afternoon and evening. The pictures graphically show the flood at its height, its decline and everything of interest in connection with the disaster. He had to go to a considerable expense to secure these and the prices for it will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. In addition to the flood pictures, he will show other special select films.

The Dayton flood was one of the great events of the year and everyone should arrange to see the pictures. These are the real moving pictures, not mere slides, and show the situation completely and in detail.

ALLIANCE IN EARLY TODAY

Steamer Arrives From Portland — Heavy Fog Is Encountered

"Make that kid quit pulling that string. I want to sleep."

This was the sleepy-voiced appeal that came to Captain Lofsted of the steamer Alliance about 3:30 yesterday morning as they were approaching Coos Bay and encountered a heavy bank of fog. The fog was so dense that the lookouts could see but a few feet ahead and he was having the mate sound the whistle every few seconds.

"Sorry, but that kid won't quit pulling that string until we set out of this fog," replied Captain Lofsted.

The fog lasted for nearly an hour and then lifted except occasional drifts. The Alliance had a good trip down and had a big cargo of freight both for here and Eureka. She had a good passenger list.

Among those arriving on the Alliance were:

J. Aason, R. W. Puckett, A. Carbon, C. L. Dement, H. Gustafson, W. C. Craig, Mrs. J. L. Wasson, Emma O'Connor, W. E. Steinoff, J. L. Foster, C. L. Bonton, C. Johnson, W. A. Pickerell, J. Williamson, George Blair, C. A. Carlson and James O'Neil.

Among those sailing from here for Eureka on the Alliance today were the following:

F. E. Middlekauff, R. H. Schulz, B. Applegate, E. Winkler, H. Welsh, C. A. Peterson, Mrs. E. Winkler, Edward Winkler, James Feltwell, T. M. Garrish, B. Olberg, Dalton Hoyatt, Mrs. E. A. Howatt, T. Chisom and F. G. Smith.

BANDON STAND ON BASEBALL

Manager Bedillion Answers Wm. Shrock of North Bend — Wants Good Games.

BANDON, Ore., April 19.— Editor Coos Bay Times:

I have noticed an article in your valuable paper of the date of April 17th, wherein Mr. Shrock has misquoted the writer, and concluded to call the attention of the public to same. It is true, I went to North Bend to learn, if it be possible, what could be done to bring to a successful close the termination of the wrangling over baseball, and the formation of a league (with some class) for the season of 1913. We, the fans of Bandon, are in favor of a four-team league, as well as everybody else, and are not in favor of any six-team league at all. We have offered to raise another team on the lower river providing that neither of the upper teams conclude to enter the league, but will not agree to do so that we may have a six-team league. This is the stand we have taken. The six-team suggestion was advanced by one of those present at the North Bend meeting, as the only solution of the matter, and while some discussion was given the matter, there was nothing definite arrived at, at that time. Mr. Shrock did say to me that they were sore at Marshfield for not sending a man over to the meeting at Coquille, and also that Marshfield had better go on a little slow, as their place in the league was none so secure. This is an absolute fact; and from his attitude, and conversation with me at that time, I had no reason to doubt him, and did so inform some in Marshfield with whom I discussed the baseball situation. But when Mr. Shrock or anyone says I told them that Marshfield was sore at them, as he says I did, he is telling something that is not true, and without any foundation whatever. While anxious to do all possible to bring matters in this line to a close, we do not think that we are compelled to resort to any such tactics. In fact the whole thing borders on child's play, and would remind a person of the antics of a bunch of high school kids. Bandon wants to play ball, and will play ball this season, and nothing but the death of all ball tossers, is going to prevent it. Bandon is ready to form a league with Marshfield alone and play ball with them if no other teams see fit to enter the league. It certainly seems queer that the other teams cannot get together and straighten out all matters, and get to playing ball. It is a fact that our county has been educated to a very high class of ball, and such league teams as were put in the league the last two seasons, does not give entire satisfaction to the public. Bandon was at first in favor of throwing the whole league wide open, and give the county some baseball with a little class. But as the other teams thought that five men were about all that they could stand for, we agreed to that. But again some neighboring towns have fought against this number, we again agreed that three men from the outside should be all that be allowed. Now, after agreeing to all, and everything, we are told that Bandon is not wanted in the league by all the towns except Marshfield. This is why I say that I guess we will have to play with Marshfield. We will say that it certainly looks as though there are some towns who don't like our game. I will promise you, however, that whoever we play ball with, will have to go some this season, as we intend being there with the goods.

I am truly yours,

R. E. L. BEDILLION,
Bandon Manager.

ANOTHER BANDON VIEW.

Bandon World Says That Coquille and Myrtle Point Are Cheap.

The Bandon World concludes a long article on the baseball situation as follows:

"Coquille and Myrtle Point are suffering from an acute attack of belly ache because they can not run the whole show on their 1x2 platform. Bandon is not cheap and can put two teams in the field if necessary and good ones too."

VIEW OF COQUILLE.

Low A. Cates Says That They Want to Play Ball in Right Way.

Editor Cates of the Coquille Sentinel, who is also taking part in the baseball matter there in his paper last week printed a long article on the league, which concludes as follows:

"Of course, Coquille, not having accepted its ultimatum, has no voice in solving the problem, and will not have until such time as the dictators re-instate it in grace—perhaps this year, perhaps not so soon. But should the powers that be, consent to raise the ban and relegate the past to oblivion, the Sentinel feels confident that by using the muzzle where muzzles are made to be used that a satisfactory arrangement could be effected whereby all could participate in the league, as they have a perfect right to. If the Three Capital I league disorganizes, as it must sooner or later, a meeting should be called for the formation of a five-team league, a schedule prepared to the best advantage under the circumstances, and then let all go to it. If any town refuses to consider the proposition of a five-team league it should not become cumbersome upon others, but should, like Arab of old, silently fold its tent and stow away, leaving the field to those who desire to occupy it. One thing is practically certain: Coquille, had it the opportunity, would not vote Bandon or any other town that desired to play the game under fair restric-

STUDEBAKER 35 IS A SENSATION

Arrival of New Automobile Creates Much Comment on Coos Bay.

Ever since its arrival on the Breakwater the new Studebaker "35" received by Isaac R. Tower has continued to create favorable comment among everyone interested in automobiles.

Its fine finish and appearance won immediate admiration and its price, $1415, delivered in Marshfield, seemed ludicrously low for such an excellent car, which compared favorably with cars selling for $1,000 more. Everyone who sees it has to ask the price twice. A six passenger Studebaker car of splendid proportions, electrically lighted and started, superbly cushioned and tired and trimmed at $1415—it seems incredible, but seeing is believing and you should see the Studebaker "35."

D. L. ROOD TO ALASKA

Murder Case in Which He is a Witness to be Tried in July.

The following dispatch from Juneau, Alaska, will be of interest here because D. L. Rood, of Marshfield, is one of the witnesses in it, having just returned from Portland where he went before he learned of the postponement of the trial:

"Joseph MacDonald, wealthy mine owner, will be tried July 8 for the murder of N. C. Jones, a mission worker, 11 years ago. The date was set today by United States District Judge Lyons."

NORTH BEND NOTES.

A. H. Imhoff returned yesterday from a business trip to San Francisco. Robert Reafe, a former Eastside man, who left here about thirteen years ago, was joined yesterday by his wife, who came from Washington. He has been visiting here about a week and will leave soon for Arcata, Calif.

Carl Freeland, who has been quite ill for several months, was able to go up town Saturday.

Harold Simpson, of North Bend Heights, returned today from a short visit with his sister, Mrs. E. W. Fahy, at Bullards.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid will meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Vaughan on North Bend Heights.

Miss Bessie Immel of Marshfield was a North Bend visitor Sunday. Mrs. E. T. CoTelt is still quite seriously ill at her home.

Mrs. George Hazer and Miss Grace Fulton spent Sunday at the latter's home on Coos River.

Mrs. M. McDonald and son, Archie, of Millington, were the guests yesterday of Mrs. Isaac Freeland of Sherman avenue.

Geo. Black and wife and daughter Ceal were guests Sunday at the home of Frank Black in South Marshfield. Mrs. Marie Langenberg, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Imhoff, will leave on the Breakwater Saturday for her home in Portland.

LET CONTRACT.

The Coquille city council last week awarded Ellingson & Bergon the contract for improving First street there for about $10,000. There were several bidders. About 1400 lineal feet of street is to be paved, mostly asphalt, and a 290-foot bridge built.

Members of the league. It stands ready today, as it always has, to play legitimate baseball—and it will play no other."

FARLEY WILL BE SUSTAINED

Inspector Quinan of U. S. Life Saving Service Expected to Approve His Work.

Captain Quinan, of the U. S. Life Saving Service, was here for a day or two last week looking after matters in connection with the Coos Bay Life Saving Station. He came here from Portland and Bay City where he has been looking into the charges against Captain Farley, formerly of Coos Bay, that he did not show proper spirit in the wreck of the Mimi.

Captain Britt, of the Coos Bay Life Saving Station, is endeavoring to hasten the removal of the local station to a point at Coos Head, a matter he has long been urging and which is now being arranged by the department.

Concerning Captain Farley, the Portland Telegram says:

"Instead of being censured for the actions of himself and men during the wreck of the Mimi, Captain Farley, of the Garibaldi Life Saving crew, will be commended in the report of Captain Johnstone Quinan, inspector of the life-saving service on this coast, say friends of the latter, who feel that they gleaned an insight into his views during the short time he remained in the city after concluding his investigations at the scene of the wreck."

"William A. Luey Pacific manager of the Hassam Paving Company, who is intimately acquainted with Captain Quinan, says he is convinced that no adverse report will go to Washington."

"I have reason to know that Captain Farley has a clean record in the service and he is generally rated as one of the best men in the life-saving branch," said Mr. Luey. "Naturally, he feels the criticism, also does his wife, who, I understand, had no small share in the work, for she rode a horse several miles to arrange for a heavier boat from the life-saving station and was there to do what was possible."

"It has been reported that the men were seen to drink and that is not to be wondered at, in view of the fact that they were without food for many hours, besides being wet and chilled from water taken aboard during their attempts to reach the wreck."

ELKS NOTICE.

Marshfield Elks will give the first of a series of informal dance and card parties at Masonic hall next Wednesday evening. For members and their wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts only. All Elks are urged to attend and bring their lady friends. Visiting Elks will be welcome. By order of

BASKET SOCIAL IS BIG SUCCESS

Elk Rock District Raises $118.35 by Entertainment to Assist Library.

The basket social given Saturday evening at the Elk Rock school house on South Coos River, District No. 36, was one of the most successful of the kind ever held in this section. The affair netted the district $118.35. It was given for the purpose of getting new book cases, aiding the library and otherwise assisting the school.

Mrs. E. L. Bessey and a number of the other patrons of the school united with Miss Blanche Williams in conducting the affair and its success exceeded their fondest expectations. It was first planned to have an old fashioned spelling bee but a few days before it was held, the pupils arranged a program and made a great hit with the audience.

The sale of baskets brought in the money. Several sold for $5 and $6 apiece and the last one was Mrs. Ren Smith's and it brought $13. Everybody had a good time.

GOLD MEDALS ARE AWARDED

Three Contests Held at Summer—Women Tender Banquet and Reception.

Last Saturday evening the Dearest medal pupils of Dr. Birt B. Clark, of North Bend, appeared at Summer in three contests, the last of a series directed by Dr. Clark as she expects to leave next Saturday for her new home in the north. The contests were silver, gold and grand gold, the latter being the first of the kind held in the county.

The silver medal contestants were Ruth Van Zile, Lottie Richard, Lestlie Fuller, Muri Chappell and Paul Brockley.

The medal was awarded to Paul Brockley.

The judges were A. L. Barker, Mrs. McKay and Karl Clinkenbeard.

For the gold medal the contestants were Naomi Smith, Bessie Bain, Shirley Peterson, Anna Treman, Hildur Selander and Winifred Woodbury.

The medal was awarded to Winifred Woodbury by judges who were Mrs. Helen Baldwin, Miss Inez Baldwin and Mrs. M. Langenberg.

The last contest was the grand gold and the contestants were Lyle Ritchie, Lyle Chappell, Charles Van Zile and Elma Selander. The judges were Mrs. E. E. Kelley, Mrs. Leonard Masters and Mrs. Rebecca Loom-Stump, who awarded the grand gold medal to Lyle Chappell.

During Dr. Clark's residence of a year and a half in North Bend she has directed 23 contests, one grand gold, five gold and 17 silver and her departure will be keenly felt by the boys and girls.

At the close of the literary program the ladies of Summer, under the direction of Mrs. Leonard Masters, president of the Summer W. C. T. U., served a banquet and there was everything to tempt the appetite of the 150 guests who will not soon forget the hospitality of the kind people of Summer.

BRIDGE AT COQUILLE.

The Coquille Sentinel says that at a meeting of the Commercial Club there, County Commissioner Armstrong informed Coquille citizens who are petitioning for a bridge across the river in place of the ferry that the county hasn't sufficient funds on hand to build the $40,000 structure this year. Engineer Lewis of Coquille has submitted three locations to the War Department for their approval. Commissioner Armstrong said that if the missioner Armstrong said that if the bridge was built at Coquille, Marshfield would be asking for one across the bay.

Mr. Rust, the owner of 1500 acres on the south side of the stream, is about to clear at least 1500 acres of that land and subdivide it into small tracts and when this is accomplished a bridge will be doubly needed.
