THE INCOME TAX.

NEVER mind about the income tax. If you are under the $1,000 a year mark, and about 99 per cent of us are. The income tax will not touch us, but the fellows who have the "root of all evil" coming in by the barrel are the boys who will be called upon to contribute to the support of this great and glorious country. The income tax looks as if it would get a good many who have not contributed much to the support of this country.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The Wolcott grocery Store will be closed Friday all day because of the funeral of Mrs. D. J. Lowe, Sr., at Coquille. C. W. WOLCOTT.

SCOTLAND, THE LAND OF SONG AND SCENERY

"LEARN ONE THING EVERY DAY"

NO. 4. ABBOTSFORD.

Copyright, 1913, by The Associated Newspaper School, Inc.

A MAN who at the age of fifty-five resolves to pay off a bankruptcy debt of six hundred thousand dollars must justly be regarded as a hero. Not many men, weakened in health and used to all comforts, would attempt to do this—especially when the debt was incurred through no fault of their own, when the law does not force them to pay. Yet that is what Sir Walter Scott—the "Wizard of the North"—did, and so fiercely did he work at his writing—twelve, fourteen and sixteen hours a day—that at his death six years later every penny of that colossal and heart-breaking debt had been paid.

The story of Abbotford, the home of the great poet and novelist, of which he dreamed for years, and which he planned and built himself, is a drama, a tragedy itself. No sooner was the great house finished and the dream of his life complete than the crash of tremendous ruin fell on Scott.

It was on a bleak, winter morning in 1826 that a friend called at Abbotford and found the novelist terribly agitated.

"My friend," said Sir Walter to him, "give me your hand; mine is that of a beggar."

The publishing house with which he had been connected had failed, and Scott took upon himself the terrible burden of satisfying its creditors. It was an apparently hopeless task for a writer, and one in such a frail state of health as Scott to accomplish. But where others would have yielded to Fate, he stood up to fight it, and though the effort cost him his life he succeeded, and may truly be called the most heroic literary figure in the world. Walter Scott was born at Edinburgh on August 15, 1771. His father wanted him to follow his own profession, that of a lawyer; but the boy wished to write. He wrote poetry at first; but according to the story, turned to romance when he found that Lord Byron excelled him as a poet. It was in 1814 that a novel—"Waverley"—by an anonymous author, appeared. Its popularity swept like wild fire all over England. Book after book, all of the same excellence, was published. The secret of the authorship was jealously kept by Scott—for what reason many guesses have been made—but at last his name was definitely connected with this great series—the "Waverley Novels."

He prospered brilliantly for eleven years. And then came the crash of ruin. Scott put his shoulder to the wheel. His wife died soon after the struggle began; but, though sick at heart, he toiled on indomitably. Success was his in the end; but the struggle killed him.

It was on the twenty-first of September, 1832, that Sir Walter Scott died.

Every day a different human interest story will appear in The Times. You can get a beautiful intaglio reproduction of the above picture, with five others, equally attractive, 7 by 7 1/2 inches in size, with this week's "Mentor." In "The Mentor" a well known authority covers the subject of the pictures and stories of the week. Readers of The Times and "The Mentor" will know Art, Literature, History, Science, and Travel, and own exquisite pictures. On sale at The Times office. Price 10 cents. Write today to The Times for booklet explaining The Associated Newspaper School plan.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Indiana, says: "I would not take $100.00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foley Kidney Pills." For sale by Lockhart-Parsons Drug Co., "The Busy Corner."

NOT AN OLD FIRM . . . . . BUT A LIVE ONE

is one of the youngest of the real estate and insurance firms in Coos County—is the successor and is the combination of Bentley & Jones, Wm. A. Reid and Chas. S. Hoffman. Bentley & Jones opened an office here the first of last October, and in the month of December their insurance business had grown until the month's business exceeded $3000 in premiums alone; Wm. A. Reid has been located here in the real estate business since September, 1911, and has been successfully handling Perham Park along with other properties. Now comes Mr. Chas. S. Hoffman, a young man of energy and the one of the three of us that can "afford" a "FORD" and he sometimes consents to take prospective buyers out in this new car of his.

So ALL in ALL—we are a PROGRESSIVE, LIVE, HUSTLING COMBINATION.
We understand the Real Estate business and we have given eight years to the Insurance business, and feel that we can be relied upon on Insurance matters and we have the agency of some of the best companies doing business.
