NORTH BEND BAND DANCE.

THE members of the North Bend Concert Band will give a dance at Eckhoff's hall in North Bend tomorrow night for the purpose of securing funds to purchase new uniforms. The cause is a worthy one and the people of North Bend and the people of Marshfield, too, should respond generously. A band in a small city is an important factor in its growth and development, commercially as well as in culture, and deserves well of its citizens. The struggle to keep a good band is a difficult one at best and the boys should be given every encouragement. North Bend and Marshfield both have bands that the respective cities may well be proud of them and should do their share to contribute support commensurate with their merits.

JERUSALEM TO JERICO.

Evangelist John Lewtas gave a graphic description of a trip he made from Jerusalem to Jericho and return to Bethany, in the Methodist Church Wednesday, by way of introduction to his sermon which was upon the Resurrection of Lazarus, that took place in the little village of Bethany. The sermon though historical, was adapted to the needs and conditions of his audience, which well filled the church. Among the lesson he drew was, men were like the dead Lazarus, perfectly helpless to attain the highest and noblest in the realm of spiritual unless aided by the Divine Christ. That when Lazarus was raised he was wondrously changed and thus the coming of Christ into the life changed the thought, the language and the conduct of the believer. If it did not do that the resurrection had not taken place. Among the special features of the meeting are the duets and solos rendered by Mrs. Gidley and the Evangelist, aided by the Men's Chorus, which make the meetings replete with variety and interest. Tonight's theme, "A Marriage in the Holy Land." All welcome.

DEVELOPMENTS IN PERHAM PARK

E. G. Perham Announces That Work Will Be Prosecuted Vigorously.

The beginning of big improvement work in Perham Park Addition will be started at once, according to a statement made by E. G. Perham yesterday. A contract has just been drawn up for the cutting of all the standing timber on this tract, work on which will begin as soon as the contracting parties, Messrs. Pittroft and Hoffman, can get their mill set up on the tract. The timber will be used largely for street improvement work on the tract, as Mr. Perham has declared his intention of opening several of the streets this season, thus making every portion of the tract accessible. The removing of the timber will open up some of the most attractive locations in the west end of Perham Park, most of which, though within a few minutes' walk from the business center, is practically virgin territory and contains some of the most slightly building lots in Marshfield.

Several of the owners of homesites in this tract have declared their intention of starting building operations as soon as weather conditions become more settled.

When asked as to the cutting down of the big hill on the east end of the tract immediately adjoining the New Bedford addition, Mr. Perham stated that it was his intention to begin work on this as early as possible, as the dirt was needed to make the necessary fill in the bottom land.

Mr. Perham left this morning on the train stage to look after his bridge construction work and expects to return in about ten days.

Mr. Reid, who will continue to handle this property, acting as Mr. Perham's agent, has moved his offices to North Front street, opposite the Grand Theater, now known as the Coos Bay Realty Company, of which firm he is now a member, and will be assisted in this work by his associates, Mr. Jones and Mr. Hoffman. Mr. Reid states that an announcement will be made in the near future when this property will again be offered on the market. With the development of the Perham Park and New Bedford properties the West Marshfield and Ferndale districts will soon be closely welded together.

SCOTLAND, THE LAND OF SONG AND SCENERY

"LEARN ONE THING EVERY DAY"

No. 5. STERLING CASTLE

Copyright, 1913, by The Associated Newspaper School, Inc.

ONE Sunday morning in 1543 a pretty, helpless little girl baby less than a year old was seated on a throne in the spacious chapel of Stirling Castle in Scotland, surrounded by fierce, mailed men. A cardinal held a crown over her head; the tiny fingers were clasped for a moment about a scepter; a huge, unwieldy sword was buckled round the little waist, and a noble spoke the words that created Mary Stuart, Queen of Scotland. Forty-four years later the stroke of a sword in the headsman's hands ended the life of this Queen—one of the most beautiful and tragic figures in all history.

Besides the coronation of Mary Queen of Scots, Stirling Castle has seen many historic events. This old stronghold is situated on the Fifth of Forth, some thirty-five miles above Edinburgh. It stands on a hill high above the town of Stirling. No one knows exactly how long ago it was built; but it is very old.

Away back in the time of the Romans these invaders of Britain had a station in the town of Stirling. Alexander II., king of Scotland, gave the town its first charter in 1226, and he made Stirling Castle the royal residence. During the wars of Scottish independence the castle was besieged many times. Edward I. of England captured it in 1304. For ten years after that it was held by the English; but Robert Bruce besieged it fiercely in 1314. Edward II., who was king of England at that time, was a weak ruler, and he knew that if the Scots captured Stirling Castle they would probably win their freedom. So he gathered an army and marched north. But he was so badly beaten by Bruce at the battle of Bannockburn that the Scots won their independence, and Bruce became their king. On the esplanade before Stirling Castle stands a statue of this great man.

The tragic story of the execution of Mary Stuart, who was crowned at Stirling, is one of the most pathetic episodes in history. Condemned on an unjust charge, she was sentenced to death by Elizabeth. The final scene in the life of the beautiful Queen of Scotland took place in Forthringay Castle in England. As Mary approached the block, the melancholy sweetness of her beauty touched every heart. Even her executioners knelt and begged her to forgive them for the sad duty that they were forced to perform.

"I forgive you with all my heart," sadly replied Mary. She knelt down and laid her head upon the block amid a tense silence broken only by an occasional sob. A moment later the chief executioner perched up her head, exclaiming, "So perish all the enemies of Queen Elizabeth!"

Every day a different human interest story will appear in The Times. You can get a beautiful intaglio reproduction of this picture, with five others, equally attractive, 7 by 9 1/2 inches in size, with this week's "Mentor." In "The Mentor" a well known authority covers the subject of the pictures and stories of the week. Readers of The Times and "The Mentor" will know Art, Literature, History, Science, and Travel, and own exquisite pictures. On sale at The Times office. Price ten cents. NEWFOUNDLAND DOG RESCUES LITTLE MISTRESS FROM SEA.

Jumps 40 Feet Off Pier Into the Ocean and Swims Ashore With Child's Dress in Teeth.

VENICE, Cal., April 24.—Rover, a Newfoundland dog, plunged forty feet into the water from the end of a pier here and saved the life of the eight-year-old daughter of his mistress, Mrs. Frank Hartley. The girl and the dog were romping on the pier when the child started to climb upon the railing. The dog seized her dress and tried to pull her back. The child persisted, however, and when she reached the top of the railing lost her balance and fell into the ocean. The dog instantly plunged after her, caught her clothing in his teeth and brought her safely ashore.
