

BEELZEBUB IS DECLARED REAL FATHER OF FLIES

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., 29.—That there is no Biblical foundation for the story of the final day of judgement was declared by Prof. Paul Haupt of Johns Hopkins university, in an address before the American Philosophical society.

The book of Zachariah, which Jews as well as Christians give as authority for the description of the last judgement, he said, "refers merely to a municipal plan for municipal improvements laid out by the Maccabees. The poetic and fanciful language of the scriptural scribes has been misinterpreted."

The speaker also declared that Beelzebub had been described by the ancients as "the father of flies not lies, as a modern horror of these germ carrying insects was shared in biblical times."

BROTHER KIDNAPS BROTHER

EUGENE RELATIVE COMES AND TAKES H. H. HERBERT FROM COOS COUNTY POOR FARM.

The Coquille Sentinel says: "When C. B. Zeek of Bandon arrived in Coquille the other day with the pension papers of George Herbert, a county charge at Grayce hospital, he was surprised to learn that the veteran had unceremoniously departed for Lane county in the company of his brother, W. H. H. Herbert, Mr. Zeek, is commander of the G. A. R. Post at Bandon, from which place the unfortunate ex-soldier had been brought to the county institution, and had charge of his comrade's financial affairs. George Herbert, 83 years of age, concluding that his time was about to arrive had given Mr. Zeek the last $50 he possessed as a burial fund, and this money had been deposited in the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank in this city.

Mr. Wilson of Grayce hospital learned that a brother of George Herbert resided in well-to-do circumstances near Eugene, and wrote to him. He received no reply. On Friday of last week an attendant at the hospital informed Mr. Wilson that a gentleman was in Herbert's room, and a few moments later both men were walking leisurely down the street toward town. Not returning within a reasonable time, one of the hospital attendants instituted a search for the patient without avail. They had driven to Myrtle Point, and on the following morning took the stage for Roseburg.

The old soldier's clothing and his other worldly effects, including a small sum of money, are still at Grayce hospital.

JACK LONDON IN THE MOVIES

Jack London Says He Will Give Pictures "Punch."

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—Jack London, author, adventurer, sociologist, will enact in motion pictures here all of his novels and short stories, giving them in his red-blooded manner, "the punch," that has made his stories famous. Today he completed a deal in this city by which a local concern gets the exclusive use of London's stories in motion pictures all over the world.

"I have just completed a deal," said Mr. London, "by which I shall appear as the leading actor in all my own short stories and novels dramatized into motion pictures. I am going into the pictures to give them 'the punch' that is almost impossible to communicate to another.

"Will it mean a fortune to me? Well, I'll buy two or three Jersey cows for my Valley of the Moon ranch with proceeds."

RESIGNATION.

The president declined to keep my claims in mind. I thought I had a chance to hold a post in France, or play around St. James my diplomatic games. "I cannot you appoint," said Woodrow, "so armit! You can't have what you want," cried Woodrow, "so armit! I have no place for you, so armit! skedaddle! shoo!" At that my heart was sore, and fervently I swore, and said I would aspire to a reputation dire. "I'll poison Woodrow's cow," I said, with darkening brow. But when I looked round on those who won, and looked them worried and distraught, I said, "Revenge is rot." All troubled were the chaps who gathered in the naps; all burdened with their woes, and tagged by jealous foes, all doing countless chores, all trailed by tireless hores with ne'er an hour of rest to soothe the savage breast, and so I cried: "Cogs wounds! And also are and 'ounds! Ods fish," quoth I, "I'll trail back to my native vale, and there, among my aunts, I'll tend my cabbage plants and herd my umble bees, and prune my pumpkin trees." And here at home, in ease, I deal in elbow grease. Paladiums may bust and bulwarks fall to dust, and spangled banners rot, I am not a jot. My peas are doing well—my onions, how they smell! —Wait Mason.

WARDEN OVERSTEPS RIGHT.

Jury Awards Hotel Keeper $35 Damages for False Arrest.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 29.—The damage suit of Frank Russo, a hotel proprietor, against W. L. Finley, State Game Warden, for false arrest resulted recently in a verdict for $35 in favor of the plaintiff. Judge McGinn instructed the jurors that they must return a verdict for the plaintiff, as Mr. Finley had been clearly without his legal rights in invading and searching the hotel and arresting Russo without a warrant.

The Judge stated, however, that if the jury found that there was no malice, but that Mr. Finley was acting in good faith as an officer of the state, it might be taken into consideration in mitigation of damages. At the time of the arrest Mr. Finley confiscated a set of elk horns which he found in the hotel.

WHY HE SIMPLY COULDN'T.

It was midnight when the burglar entered the house, according to a story recently told by Secretary of the Navy Daniels, and though he tried to step softly every step of the stairway seemed to creak.

Suddenly there came a sound from one of the rooms above. The burglar instantly stopped. Then a voice was heard:

"John," yelled a woman's voice, what did I tell you about coming in to this house with muddy shoes. I was listening to you and you never scraped them or wiped them on the door mat one bit. You go right back and do it, this very minute!"

Slowly the burglar turned and went down the steps. Out of the door and through the night he strode to where his pal was waiting.

"What's the matter?" wonderingly queried the accomplice.

"I simply can't do it," answered the first: "that house reminds me too much of home."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

CURRY COUNTY NEWS

PORT ORFORD OFFERINGS.

News of Upper Curry as Told by The Tribune.

If report is correct a cannery is to be built at Gold Beach in the near future. It is said that several of the local people are interested in the venture in company with some cannermen from Eel River, Cal. The advent of another cannery will make things lively on the Rogue River, and will undoubtedly lead to much litigation, as the Wedderburn Trading company has even a stronger monopoly on the water frontage than the late R. D. Hume had, and they can hardly be expected to submit opposition without a struggle.

Forester W. B. Milbury returned to his home on Middle Elk yesterday from a trip of inspection through northern Curry and southern Coos. He reports that all the fires he found were bottled up and that they felt good even to a fire warden.

The steamer Fifield called in at Port Orford early Monday morning and landed two passengers, who took passage a few minutes later on the north bound stage. One of the gentlemen was Mr. Burgess, a main owner in the Fifield, Bandon and Speedwell line of steamers, who it is understood is interested in the Bane mill on Sixes, where he went to investigate conditions. It is to be hoped that Mr. Burgess will take hold of the mill as his doing so will insure its success.

Geo. Quigley and family have returned to their Port Orford home from Pistol River, where they have been for the past several months, Mr. Quigley having had the contract of building several miles of wagon road in his father-in-law's (Will Clarno) place on upper Pistol River.

GOLD BEACH NUGGETS.

Curry County Seat News As Told by The Globe.

Rev. G. LeRoy Hall, publication for the American Baptist Publication Society on the coast division, will arrive in Gold Beach this week to assist Rev. C. E. Short in a series of meetings to begin next Sunday, April 27th, in Gauntlett's hall. Rev. Hall is a friend of James Whitcomb Riley, American poet, and while he is here, will give one evening to his noted entertainment "Riley's poems." This will be a treat to all lovers of Riley, as well as a help to boost the new church to be built at Gold Beach.

Forester Helm is distributing the telephone wire which is to connect Agnes with the surrounding Ranger stations.

E. J. Baker, deputy game warden, received a message Friday requesting him to report at headquarters in Portland on the 24th. He left yesterday morning on the mail boat, going by way of Westfork.

After waiting a week for a favorable time, Colvin and Walker in their ship Queen of Rogue River, successfully landed a cargo of freight at W. J. Walker fish house on the bank of Pistol River, sailing in over the bar with ease and in safety.

Oh, How I Itched!

What long nerve-racking days of constant torture—what sleepless nights of terrible agony—itch—itch—itch, constant itch, until it seemed that I must tear off my very skin—then instant relief—my skin cooled, soothed and healed!

The very first drops of D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema stopped that awful itch instantly; yes, the very moment D.D.D. touched the burning skin the torture ceased. A 25c bottle proves it.

D.D.D. has been known for years as the only absolutely reliable eczema remedy, for it washes away the disease germs and leaves the skin as clear and healthy as that of a child.

All other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle of this guarantee—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.
