Many to Coast.—Parties returning from Sunset Bay yesterday report numerous auto parties motoring to the beach. The light house keeper reported 61 visitors registered.

Harbor Lights.—Capt. Macgenn is planning to petition Capt. Beck of the Light House Service for three new harbor lights, one near Jarvis, one near North Bend and the other near the Libby coal bunkers.

Will Wed.—Miss Alice Armsby, teacher of the Fourth and Fifth grades of the South Marshfield School, has apprised her friends that she will be married in the early summer to Dr. Greene at her old home in Pleasanton, Kansas.

Fine Fishing.—Jas. Cowan, Jr., returned today from Ten Mile with one of the finest catches of trout brought in this season. In an hour and a half he landed 45, some very large ones. They were on display in the Guntery window and attracted much attention.

To Write Booklet.—R. R. Howard, of the Southern Pacific, arrived here today to prepare the write-up of Coos Bay for the literature to be prepared for the Marshfield and North Bend Chambers of Commerce under the Sunset Community Advertising plan.

Grants Suit Money.—In the suit of Thos. H. Nichols for divorce, transferred from Clatsop County to Coos County, on change of venue, Judge Coke has ordered Mr. Nichols to pay into the court $150 suit money on or before June 1, for Mrs. Nichols' use.

Fine Outing.—The picnic at Allegany yesterday was a success. The day was ideal. The Rainbow carried sixty pleasure seekers, besides several automobiles. There was auto service between Allegany and Golden Falls and many people availed themselves of this opportunity to see one of Coos Counties' beautiful scenes.

Trip by Auto.—Several Bandon parties came over yesterday by auto to attend the Bandon-Marshfield game. They report the road to be in fairly good shape. Among the auto owners, most of whom brought several friends, were Dr. Leep, Dr. Mann, C. E. Kopf, Clint Malehorn and George Laird. All made the trip over without accident.

For New Buoy.—Capt. Macgenn will start a petition today asking for the establishment of a combined whistling and light buoy at the entrance to Coos Bay as an aid to navigation, the light buoy being especially advantageous in crossing out at night. The black buoy was washed away and this trip Capt. Macgenn will take out a new one and locate it.

Will Return Here.—T. J. Scaife, the well known painter, who with his family left some time ago to seek a permanent home in San Diego, Cal., writes friends here that they have wearied of the everlasting sunshine and long for the Coos Bay breezes. He says he is doing all right financially but the whole family long for the hills of Oregon and he expects before long to return to Coos Bay to make their home.

May be in Wreck.—Considerable apprehension was felt at North Bend today lest two North Bend women who went to Southern California last week were in the Long Beach disaster Saturday. They are Mrs. August Hoelling and Mrs. R. J. Robertson. No word had been received from them this morning. They were scheduled to reach Long Beach last Friday on their trip.

Water Service Bad.—Yesterday this morning the water service has been unusually poor, evidently some break in the mains causing poor pressure and in some cases no service. Yesterday there was less than 15 pounds pressure at the City Hall. C. J. Hillstrom, of West Marshfield informed Justice Pennock this morning that the big wooden main near his place was leaking badly and he thought that a new main would probably have to be put in.

Wedded Here.—Last evening, Justice Pennock officiated at the marriage of Harvey Chrissinger and Verda Wise, both of Bunker Hill. The bride is a sister of Mrs. E. C. Peachey of Bunker Hill. Owing to her being under seventeen years of age, the wedding was delayed a day, it being necessary to get the consent of the parents or guardians. Owing to the young lady's parents being dead and she having no guardian, Justice Pennock simply had to notify the clerk of this effect and secure the license.

Get Contract.—Nason, Wright and Bentley have taken the contract for the Chandler Hotel annex, the matter being approved at a meeting of the board of directors of the hotel company Saturday. The structure will be two stories at present, but the foundation and walls will be built so that three additional stories can be added later. The annex will be rented to H. J. McKeown, the first floor being divided into two rooms, one for a billiard and pool parlor and cigar store and the other for a regular mercantile business.
