BORN

CAPPS—To Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Capps, at their home in South Marshfield, Tuesday morning, May 27, 1913, a girl. Mother and child are doing well and the father will recover in time. Just now he is certain that the only real queen of the May is the beautiful little baby girl that already calls him "da-da." He is acting like a proud parent of royalty and would scarcely recognize any European emperor. The Times takes an unusual interest in the new arrival as Mr. Capps has been foreman for several years. If you find any errors in the paper attribute it to an exuberance of joy that exists all over the office, for everyone feels a share in the happiness of this worthy couple over their first born.

Makes Auto Trip.—Luther Judy made the trip in his auto yesterday from Loon Lake to Allegany. This is the first trip over the road this season.

Ribs Broken.—A further examination of Carl Westerlund, who was injured yesterday by a fall on the Breakwater, disclosed the fact that his ribs were broken. He was so badly intoxicated that he became violent and had to be confined in the city jail. He just came here from Mapleton and was en route to San Francisco where his wife resides.

Society to Meet.—The Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet at the home of Mrs. A. L. Buttz at Bunker Hill on Wednesday afternoon.

Will Resign.—Capt. T. J. Macgenn, commander of the Coos Bay division of the Oregon Naval Militia, announces that he will tender his resignation to Governor West at once.

Moves Shop.—J. O. Langworthy has moved his barber shop into the new quarters on Front street just north of the Ekblad hardware store, which he recently completed. The new quarters have been attractively arranged.

Dixon Coming.—Thomas Dixon, who is the representative and inspector of the MacArthur Porks Company on the construction of the Coos Bay line, was at Gardiner a day or two ago. He expects to visit the Bay soon.

Wife Arrives.—Mrs. H. C. Dutton, wife of the superintendent of the Tidewater Mill at Florence, has arrived in Gardiner to assist in caring for her husband who sustained a fractured skull in a runaway accident a few days ago. Mr. Dutton is reported improving.

Train Late.—The train from Coquille was late today and the Breakwater was delayed in sailing about 20 minutes to await the party of five coming from the valley on the way to Portland. In the party were Miss Lydia Dodge, Mrs. J. S. Barton, J. S. Barton, Mrs. Johnson and Miss H. Lenn.

Gardiner Election.—The election to determine whether or not the Port of Umpqua shall be organized is being held at Gardiner and vicinity today. It is expected that the port proposition will carry this time as the upper Umpqua Valley, which fought and defeated it before, is not included this time. H. C. Diers of North Bend, has been at Gardiner and vicinity for the last week or so aiding in the campaign in behalf of the port.

Myrtle Point Girl Dead.—Among the incoming passengers on the Breakwater yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hall, formerly residents of Myrtle Point, but now located in Portland, who were bound for their old home in Myrtle Point on a sad journey. Their daughter, Miss Cecil Hall, a beautiful girl 17 years old, died recently in Portland and they were taking the body back to their old home for burial. Rev. G. LeRoy Hall left for Myrtle Point this morning to conduct the funeral services.

Horse Goes to Sleep.—One of the horses of the Ferguson transfer line has a habit of going to sleep and toppling over when left standing alone. Saturday afternoon Duncan Ferguson, Jr., left the horse in the rig on Broadway near Central, while he went to the Smith mill fire. The excitement about the fire did not perturb the animal, which proceeded to take a nap and toppled over, breaking one of the shafts of the rig and causing some difficulty in getting back on its feet.

Will Graduate.—Miss May Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bennett, is one of the members of the graduating class in the training school for nurses at Lane Hospital and will receive her diploma tomorrow night, May 28. The commencement exercises will be held in Lane Hall. Miss Bennett will remain at Lane Hospital for some post graduate work, but will return here before long to visit relatives. Her many Marshfield friends have sent congratulations on the successful completion of her three-year course.

Mill Man Here.—Geo. Houck, president of the Coos Bay Milling Company, arrived here today to look after the mill. Mr. Houck came in via Myrtle Point and says it is the worst road he has traveled in a long time. He had to walk a considerable portion of the distance and when he was riding, he wished he was walking. Part of the time, the stage was overloaded and they would not let him ride. On this end, the autos were running, making good traveling. Mr. Samuel met him here and informed Mr. Houck that they were making good progress in getting the Courtney mill at Millington ready to operate.

Clear Boulevard.—Abner Tribbey and a force of men have cleared about 1000 feet of the distance on the Marshfield-to-the-sea boulevard. They are doing it by day labor. Messrs. Haines, O'Connell and McLain and Mayor Straw directing the work. More money is being raised and they hope to get slashed through at a reasonable rate.
