TERMINAL LETS ITS CONTRACT

McLain and McLain to Build on North Front Street at Once—S. P. Negotiations

General Manager W. S. Chandler of the Terminal Railway has awarded the contract for the completion of their line from the present terminus on North Front street to the North Bend city limits, a distance of about 4500 feet, to Hugh McLain and Fred McLain of Myrtle Point. They are to put in the piling foundation and do the entire construction, including the laying of the rails. The distance is about 4500 feet and the contract price is understood to be in the neighborhood of $26,250.

The work is to start at once and is to be completed on or before November 1. Messrs. McLain have been doing part of the work on the bridge approaches and trestles on the Smith-Powers line beyond Myrtle Point. The contract was awarded on a new set of bids, the first bids being too high and above the estimate for which the Terminal thought that it could be done by day labor under their own direction. There were several bidders.

Just as soon as the city puts in the new paving on South Broadway south of Central and to Mill Slough, that piece of track will be put in to connect the North Front street track with the line already in south of Mill Slough.

The company will now take up the question of equipment and arrange for it so that the latter will be available when the line is completed.

S. P. Negotiations.

The awarding of the contract for the completion of the balance of the Terminal line follows the failure of the Southern Pacific to close negotiations to take over the Terminal Railway. Vice-President Calvin is now in the East with the other Southern Pacific officials about the separation of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific merger and will not return until July. C. A. Smith, who has been handling the Terminal negotiations has also been in the East.

HOUSE ON RECESS.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—After completing the details of organization, the House again today lapsed into a state of inactivity that promises to continue until June 23, when it probably will adjourn until July 4. All general legislation save tariff, currency and appropriation bills have been blocked for the session.

TARIFF LOBBY PROBE HAS BEGUN

Investigation Includes All Legislation—Indian Contract Graft is Suggested by Senator Ashurst—Three Millions Involved.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Search for the tariff lobby, such as President Wilson declared was operating in Washington, began yesterday with the Senate Judiciary subcommittee holding open meetings. Every Senator will be obliged to answer a series of eleven questions to determine whether he has any interest in tariff or other legislation and find out what persons have approached him in efforts to influence his actions on the schedules of the tariff bill. It is estimated that hundreds of men interested in manufacturing and other business affected by the tariff have been in Washington during the last few weeks.

President Will Not Be Called.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Senator Borah in his testimony also referred to "the man Senator Ashurst mentioned." Just before the committee began taking testimony Chairman Overman and Senator Reed conferred with President Wilson. It was said the President would not be called before the committee but would transmit any information he might have on the subject of the "lobby."

tariff and having heard arguments and protests, but all considered such proceedings strictly legitimate and had not considered men with whom they talked as "lobbyists." Senator Ashurst said, however, that "A man named McMurray," had been attempting improperly to influence Senators against a movement to cancel certain Indian contracts by which McMurray, it is said, would stand to receive $3,500,000.

SENATE LOBBY PROBE.

Investigation of Wilson's Charges Will be Completed in Four Days.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The second day of the Senate lobby probe started with approximately one-fifth of the total number of Senators disposed of. At such a rate of progress, it would take four days to finish the investigation. The Senate has allowed ten. Senator McLain testified that he is a small stockholder in several corporations but he has never sought to influence the Senators because of his interests.

Penrose's Views.

A number of Senators told of being importuned by persons interested in the various commodities affected by the tariff, but nothing of a startling nature developed. Senator Penrose told the committee that in his 16 years of experience in Washington he had never known of any attempts to influence improperly members of Congress. He gave the names of 175 persons who had called on him since January 1 on the tariff bill and declared that none were "lobbyists" in the general acceptance of the term. He said undoubtedly that several interests maintained men at Washington, but their work was perfectly legitimate. He expressed the opinion "that the lobbyist is principally a thing of the past. Congressional committees pay little attention to them now. The steel industry and coal interests of Pennsylvania have had no permanent representatives in Washington for many years," Penrose said.

MILLIONAIRE WOOD MUST DEFEND DYNAMITE CHARGES

TARIFF BILL NEARLY DONE

Wool and Sugar Kept on Free List Despite Hard Fights in the Senate

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Practically without change the wool and sugar schedules as they passed the House are expected to be recommended late this week to the Senate Finance Committee by the Senators who have had them under consideration for more than a month. The free sugar schedule, which Senators Ransdall and Thornton, of Louisiana, fought so persistently has been approved by Senator Williams' subcommittee and the free wool schedule has been agreed to by Stone's subcommittee. There is some speculation as to meat and flour, which have been restored to the dutiable list by the Senate subcommittee.
Left to President.
It was learned that President Wilson has decided upon free listing raw materials as well as the finished products as the best means of equalization. It was said that while the subcommittee's recommendations that finished products be made dutiable and raw material free was reversed at the White House, it was only after many Senators had expressed through Chairman Simmons their acquiescence. The decision was left to the President.

Court Refuses to Instruct Jury to Bring in Verdict for Defendant Woods Today

CHAUFFEUR TELLS OF TRIP TO WOODS' HOME

Says He Took Alleged Leader of Plot From There to Meet Others on Fatal Night

BOSTON, Mass., June 3.—The prosecution rested today in the trial of President William M. Wood, of the American Woolen Company, Frederick E. Atteaux and Dennis J. Collins, who are charged with conspiring with John J. Breen of Lawrence and the late Ernest W. Pitman, of Andover, to plant dynamite at Lawrence to discredit the striking textile workers in January, 1912. After a few minutes of consultation following the close of the government's case, Attorney Hurlbut announced that the case of Wood was also rested. He announced his client would offer no defense and requested the court to instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty on the indictment of Wood.
Taking of testimony was suspended while the counsel argued the motion for an instructed verdict. District Attorney Pelletier protested against such an argument as being unfair to the other defendants but Judge Crosby permitted Hurlbut to continue. The latter argued the Government had not shown any active participation by Wood in the alleged plot.

The Supreme Court held the article to be contemptuous, but ordered Nelson discharged of contempt solely on the ground that Circuit Judge Guthrie prepared the opinion the night before the trial for contempt.
