A SATURDAY SERMON.

THERE is a whole lot in atmosphere and attitude. Like attracts like. The man who looks prosperous and acts prosperous attracts prosperity.

Self-confidence is a great asset with a community, no less with an individual. Just now Coos Bay needs confidence in itself.

There are some timid individuals who because of a temporary halt and hesitation in the general business of the country see evil signs and portents. If a mill closes temporarily for repairs and improvements stagnation sits and slumbers on the threshold of every industry.

It doesn't pay to be too much of a shrinking daisy. Shrinking daisies have their place, but not in the development of a city's commerce.

The shrinking man and the shrinking community will usually have a shrinking trade.

There should be none of this timorous and tiptoe attitude. Too many people are saying: "Coos Bay has a great future, but when is it coming? She has the goods but when are they to be delivered?"

Coos Bay's future will be here just as soon as the people of Coos Bay have the faith to make it. Ornamenting the street corners waiting for something to turn up never put any community on its feet. Seeing nothing but the hole in the doughnut never yet produced coffee and sinkers for breakfast.

In the language of a former president "buck the line hard." Even the man, or the corporation or the community will like you the better for it. I remember once hearing a very expressive line "play up and play the game."

If you are going to get in the game at all you have to play it for all you are worth.

Endowed with unlimited resources, an ideal climate, a geographical position of great commercial value, one of the great harbors of the Pacific Coast, one railway actively building and another in prospect, Coos Bay has a present that is prosperous and a future that is glorious with the golden glow of promise.

The present is no time for doubt or doldrums. Psychology may count for more than capital.

After all, your mental attitude is your chief asset. Don't get bankrupt in that whatever may happen to your bank account.

Look like a winner. Talk like a winner. Boost Coos Bay as a winner. If you do the door man to the temple of success and the hallway of prosperity will know you are a member of the Elect and for the Elect there is always a place at the banquet board of plenty.

SAFETY AT SEA.

AN international meeting to increase safety at sea is to be held at London this coming Summer. The leading maritime countries have prepared to take part—except America. English and German government commissions of technical experts have studied the subject in all its bearings. America has done nothing. Its coast is the second longest in the world; its mercantile marine the second largest. It should be represented by the foremost naval architects of the United States. But Secretary Redfield has had to announce that there is little likelihood of Congress appropriating money to send them. It is pitiable that Congress lacks appreciation of the most important maritime conference ever attempted.

WITH THE TOAST AND THE TEA

GOOD EVENING. Progress is the law of life; Man is not as yet. — Robert Browning.

MONEY.

Money won't buy happiness. Or ease an aching heart. It will not bring the sunbeams back if ever they depart. It will not drive the rain away Or make a sad day glad some Nor chronic indigestion cure. But still I wish I had some.

MONEY.

Frank Laise says: "A man with lofty aims may be a poor shot."

MONEY.

Few of life's pleasures are inexpensive.

MONEY.

Many a cultivated voice fails to yield a profitable crop.

MONEY.

An Ohio man boasts of having an umbrella that has been in his possession for more than twenty years. That's long enough; he ought to return it.

MONEY.

And many a woman has married a man to reform him—because she discovered him before the foolkiller found her.

MONEY.

Wild oats have a few tears mixed with them.

ENTERTAINS PEACE ENVOYS.

LONDON, June 7.—King George entertained the peace delegates of the Balkan states and of Turkey at a luncheon at Buckingham Palace today to celebrate the signing of the treaty of peace. Other guests included the Duke of Connaught, Premier Asquith, Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Gray and Viscount Morley, Lord President of the Council. While the peace is being celebrated in London the situation in the near East is still threatening. A report comes from Constantinople but lacks official confirmation that the European powers have decided to demand a demobilization of the Turkish Balkan armies in order to secure peace. It is believed that the initiative of this action is due in a great measure to Russia. The Russian government is said to hold the opinion that the Balkan governments are acting under pressure of military influence and that no sane course is possible to them unless at least two-thirds of their armies should be demobilized. The position of the Servian cabinet is said to be unsafe, but the resignation of the ministers had not been announced up to noon.

PROTEST MADE BY NORTH BEND

Fourth of July Committee Objects to Proposed Marshfield Sports Program

North Bend has launched a protest against the plan of holding a race meet and sports program in Marshfield July 2 and 3 as detrimental to the celebration which North Bend is to hold July 4 and 5.

F. P. Norton and others who took up the Marshfield project are working on it and whether they will concede to the North Bend protest remains to be determined.

The following protest was handed to The Times today by the North Bend Fourth of July committee: To the Business Men of Marshfield:

We hereby protest against the move started in Marshfield to hold horse races and other sports and attractions on July 2nd and 3rd as detrimental to the success of the celebration to be held at North Bend, July 4th and 5th. It being generally understood that North Bend was to celebrate this year and with that understanding in view North Bend has refused in the past to interfere with 4th of July celebrations held in Marshfield, but instead have helped all we could.

This action is taken in a spirit of fairness only.

HELMING'S PAL IS CAPTURED

Youth Who Broke Jail With Marshfield Boy at Portland is Taken Into Custody

A Portland paper prints the following in connection with the capture of the youth who broke jail with Cavour Helming of Marshfield there: "The escape of Wilbur Dean, 17 years old, and Cavour Helming, 15 years old, from the county jail several weeks ago was more thrilling than had been supposed, according to the story told by Dean to Sheriff Word, who brought the lad back from Tacoma. Dean stated that after they had opened a way through the screen at the window of the 'bull pen,' they managed to climb to the top of the high wall which surrounds the jail on top of the courthouse.

"Crawling around to the Salmon street side of the building, they found a rope left by the men who were cleaning the outside of the building. Dean started to descend this rope to the ground, six stories below. Half way down he observed two policemen standing directly underneath him. Afraid to descend farther and unable to climb, he hung there for several minutes. The policemen at last walked on and he slid to the ground.

"The two boys went to Vancouver, Wash., on the night of their escape, crossing the railroad bridge over the Columbia. Then they separated and Dean went to Tacoma. Helming is not being sought, as he was merely held here for the juvenile authorities of Marshfield. Dean is under indictment for passing bad checks.

FRESH STOCK MICHELIN TIRES

Goodrum's Garage Increases the Efficiency of Its Service Department

"Every thing for automobiles" is the motto I have adopted for Goodrum's Garage," remarked George Goodrum this morning in talking of matters of interest to car owners.

The service department of Goodrum's Garage is one of the best in Oregon outside of Portland, and is equal to any in that city in the cars which I represent. "It is my purpose, however, to carry everything possible. I have always had in stock a line of 'United States' tires and now I have just received a fresh stock of 'Michelin' and 'Goodyear' tires and tubes. My policy of making an immediate adjustment on any tire that falls for any reason is proving popular with car owners as they are not required to wait until the matter is taken up with the factory."

Mr. Goodrum has made an attractive window display of his new stock of Michelin tires and is ready to serve auto owners with any tire they may prefer.
