Here are the Names Suggested for the New Harris Pleasure Launch

The committee, J. Albert Matson, Hugh McLain, and Frank W. Smith, charged with choosing a name from the many submitted for Captain Harris' new boat had a difficult task. It was almost as confusing as choosing a name for the baby and Hugh McLain has had that experience more than once. There were nearly four score names submitted and a large number arrived too late to be entered in the contest.

Strangely enough the winning name was sent in by someone who neglected to place his signature on his suggestion, but if he will present his proof at The Times office he will receive the award from Captain Harris.
