DUTCH MASTERPIECES

"LEARN ONE THING EVERY DAY"

No. 6. "THE AVENUE," BY MEYNDERT HOBBEEMA.
Copyright, 1913, by The Associated Newspaper School, Inc.

W HILE Meindert Hobbema lived no one had any respect whatever for his pictures, not even the wonderful "Avenue at Middelharnis," now in the National Museum in London, but he was admitted to be a competent wine gager. If, after his death, someone who saw the genius in his works had gone to Amsterdam seeking knowledge of him as a painter, the good Dutch folk would probably have said: "Meindert Hobbema? Oh, yes, he tried to paint pictures. Foolish things, indeed—a pond full of ducks and geese, a moss-covered mill, little houses with red roofs and sunsets—things anybody can see for himself, mere daubs! Jakob Ruysdael tried to make a painter of him; but—"

Then, perhaps, the bored tone would give way to one of lively interest, in the telling of something important.

"He escaped dying of starvation in the strangest way. He had a business head after all, had Meindert Hobbema.

"He married old Eltinge, but maybe it was she who had the business head, for she was four or five years older than Meindert and she had worked as a servant for the burgo-master."

Eltinge had a girl friend who worked as servant to the burgo-master too, and she had great influence with him. It was arranged that, if she had Meindert appointed wine gager he was to pay her out of his salary an annual pension of $100, unless she married and secured a similar position for her own husband. The contract was drawn up all in proper form and signed before a notary, and the servant did persuade the burgo-master to give Meindert the position.

There was not much romance in Meindert Hobbema's life. He was born in Amsterdam in 1638 and was buried there in a pauper's grave in 1709. So, it is seen, his work received small appreciation while he

FOR GOOD ROADS.

The Roseburg News says: "Coos County in 1910 had a population of 17,959. Douglas County had 19,674. In 1900 Coos County had 19,324 and Douglas County 14,565. In the ten years between 1900 and 1910 both counties made big gains. It is safe to say that this gain is still going on and an estimated population of Coos County today is about 21,000 or 22,000 and for Douglas County between 23,000 and 25,000. And as the years roll on these two counties are going to grow more and more, both in number of inhabitants and commercially. The trade between these two great counties should increase. We raise many products here in Douglas County that cannot be raised in Coos County with its cooler climate. Coos County has many articles of commerce that Douglas needs. There should be a greater exchange going on between these two sister counties.

But how can that exchange go on?

The only means of communication between the two counties is a wagon road that is a disgrace to the

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.
