STEINNON IS SENT TO JAIL

Jean Steinnon, who was arrested here Saturday for carrying a revolver, today entered a plea of guilty before Justice Pennoek and was sentenced to a fine of $10 or five days in the county jail.

Steinnon, through his attorney, C. I. Reigard, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned and Justice Pennoek expected him to pay his fine and so made it rather low, being his first offense.

Steinnon is middle aged and claims to own a ranch on North Coos river, and also one on Isthmus Inlet. He has been staying in Marshfield for the past six months, doing little or nothing.

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Liljeqvist announced this afternoon that the charges of dynamiting fish against Henry Hoeck and Chas. Fariss of North Bend, would be taken direct to the grand jury.

Hoeck and Fariss claim that the charges against them are the result of some J. W. W. trouble in Hoeck's camp and both declare they are innocent.

Liljeqvist Won't Resign. The report that Mr. Liljeqvist might resign soon as deputy district attorney is erroneous.

Paris, the Incomparable

"LEARN ONE THING EVERY DAY"

No. 1. THE RIVER SEINE.

Copyright, 1913, by The Associated Newspaper School, Inc.

WALK among the pleasant tree-clad hills just northwest of Dijon, France. The green grass waves gently in the breeze. Suddenly a white nymph comes unexpectedly into view, bending over and gazing into the bubbling waters of a spring that wells up at her feet. This is a sacred spot to the people of Paris, although it is two hundred miles away, for here is the birth of the River Seine, at a height of 1545 feet above the sea. The city of Paris has set the statute of the nymph here to mark the spot. It is a small stream at first, and is often dry for the first 31 miles of its journey to the sea, during which it descends 795 feet, nearly half the height. But, as it wanders cheerfully on, it receives the waters of the Aube, the Yonne, the Oise, the Essonne, the Loing, and the Eure, and joins the Marne just before reaching Paris, here it becomes a considerable river, capable of floating vessels that draw from nine to ten feet of water.

The ordinary volume of water in the Seine at Paris is 5,300 cubic feet a second, but in times of dry weather this has been known to be as low as 1,200 cubic feet. On the other hand, the flood waters in rainy seasons have frequently risen very high. In 1910 they reached 24 feet above normal, almost 100,000 cubic feet a second, and caused great damage and suffering. The under-ground railways were flooded, as were thousands of dwellings in the city, and some of the streets resembled the canals of Venice. This, however, is not the ordinary conduct of the Seine, but a rare exception. About 500 feet wide at Paris, the river sweeps by the beautiful city under many bridges. It carries many trading vessels to and from the capital and its banks are bordered with broad quays with ports for loading and unloading below them. Passenger steamers, too, ply the waters of the Seine, and some most delightful excursions may be made in this way to points of interest up or down the river.

Entering the city from the south-east, the Seine flows under the Pont National and takes a north-westerly course past the Jardin des Plantes, the Isle St. Louis and the Isle de la Cite, with its splendid cathedral of Notre Dame. Soon it passes the Palace of the Louvre and the garden of the Tuileries, where it changes its course to west, past the Petit and Grand Palaces, and soon turns again to southwest, sweeping tranquilly by the Eiffel tower on one side and the Trocadero on the other.

Many are the excursions and outings taken upon the Seine, and the gay-hearted people of the capital take advantage of the easy transportation it affords. Many, too, are those who yearly seek to forget their sorrows beneath its quiet waters.

Every day a different human interest story will appear in The Times. You can get a beautiful intaglio reproduction of this picture with five others, equally attractive 7 by 9 1/2 inches in size, with this week's "Mentor." In "The Mentor" a well known authority covers the subject of the pictures and stories of the week. Readers of The Times and "The Mentor" will know Art, Literature, History, Science, and Travel, and own exquisite pictures. On sale at The Times office. Price ten cents. DOCTORS INDORSE NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE FOR THE HAIR

When a doctor indorses a preparation it means more than an ordinary testimonial. His opinion is always that of the professional man devoted to the welfare of the people.

Dr. J. J. Boyd, Covington, Tenn., says: "I feel it my duty to write this for the benefit of those suffering from dandruff. In the average case a few applications of Newbro's Herpicide will remove all dandruff. It is advisable to continue its use for several weeks."

The words of J. B. Thompson, M. D., No. 2 Burrough Place, Cor. Hollis st., Boston, Mass., are not less enthusiastic: "I can only speak in praise of Newbro's Herpicide. It is all that is claimed and perhaps more. Herpicide not only cleanses the scalp, but brightens the hair, gives it life and makes it soft."

Dr. T. A. Moore, Duncan, Ariz., writes of his experience: "My scalp was in places covered by patches of dry, scaly material and the itching was incessant. Since using Herpicide all these evils have disappeared and my hair is soft, smooth and growing. Hair has grown on spots before but thinly covered."

Newbro's Herpicide is "the original remedy to kill the dandruff germ," and stop falling hair. The terrible itching which goes with dandruff is allayed almost at once.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded. Applications may be obtained at the leading barber shops. Be sure you get genuine Herpicide. Lockhart-Parsons Drug Co., special agents.
