"Fair Dealing and Good Bicycles"

Marshfield, May 23, 1913.

To the Public:—

This is to state that for fair dealing and good bicycles, I can heartily recommend E. Bandel, of the Marshfield Cyclery. Three wheels in the same family inside of one year ought to be good proof of my statement. This statement was not solicited by Mr. Bandel, but given freely in justice to him.

(Signed) NELLIE E. WHEREAT.

Thinks Coos County a Marvel.—Judge L. T. Harris has returned from his trip to Coos county, where he held a term of court for Judge Coke. He says that section of the state is certainly a marvel of richness in natural wealth and predicts that when the railroads are built in and are in operation, that part of the state will come to its own and will develop marvelously.

Two Hurt at Catholic Picnic.—The annual picnic of the Catholic academy of "Our Lady of Victory," which was held at the country house of the German Aid society today, was attended by slight accidents. While playing with some children on the porch, Rev. J. A. Moran jumped up in the air a little, and being a tall man and the ceiling low, his head came in contact with a joist with such force as to cut a severe gash in his scalp. Father Moran walked to the car line and came to Eugene where it required four stitches to close the wound. He went to the hospital to rest for a day or so. Shortly afterward little 6-year-old Jack Jasper was struck on the forehead by a swing in which other children were seated and had quite a severe flesh wound inflicted. He was painfully but not seriously hurt.—Eugene Guard.
