

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID PASTOR

FAREWELL RECEPTION TENDERED REV. A. F. BASSFORD HERE LAST EVENING.

The farewell reception at the Marshfield Baptist Church last night was tendered the Rev. A. F. Bassford, who recently resigned the charge on account of ill health. Between 150 and 200 people, members of the congregation and friends, were present.

The church was very prettily decorated for the occasion, being converted into a regular bower of roses and Scotch bloom. Following the program refreshments were served by the ladies of the church under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Doane. Mrs. John Nagle and Mrs. Alva Doll. Alva Doll presided at the meeting and a dozen speakers expressed regrets over Mr. Bassford's departure. Appreciation of his work here and the hope that he might regain his health and later be able to return here. Seldom has such tribute been paid a Coos Bay pastor or citizen as was given Rev. Bassford.

Rev. Bassford in response, stated that he regretted leaving Coos Bay, that he liked the country and its people and his work among them. However, his own health and the health of Mrs. Bassford required that he leave, at least temporarily.

The program was as follows:
Hymn, by congregation.
Address, by Joan Fitzgerald, in behalf of Baptist Junior Society.
Address, by Dr. G. W. Leslie, in behalf of Baptist Sunday School.
Address, by Miss Alice Tickle, in behalf of Baptist Young People.
Address, by Mrs. M. J. Anderson, in behalf of Baptist Ladies' Aid.
Address, by Mrs. A. Z. Downs, in behalf of Baptist Missionary Circle Solo, by G. G. Dewey.
Address, by Rev. J. E. Burkhart, in behalf of other ministers.
Address, by Carl Albrecht, in behalf of city.
Duet, by Miss Bessie Ayre and Mrs. George Ayre.
Address, by Dr. O. A. Wright, of Portland.
Address, by C. H. Marsh, in behalf of congregation.
Anthem, by choir.
Response, by Rev. A. F. Bassford.

The Way to Succeed.

Paraphrasing the words of Horace Greeley, "The way to succeed is to advertise." There is scarcely a notable commercial success that has not been built upon the solid foundation of advertising, and, likewise, practically all good, clean, honest business that advertises legitimately is successful.

Whenever you see a manufacturer co-operating with the retailers of this city or a group of cities or of all the cities in the United States in an advertising campaign on behalf of his merchandise, you may safely make up your mind to three things—First, his merchandise has merit.

Second, both the manufacturer and the merchant are progressive, dependable people with whom to do business.

Third, they are successful and merit your confidence and patronage.

Manufacturers are beginning to understand that the only way to create actual, "over-the-counter" demand for a product is to advertise it locally—in daily newspapers.

Flowers of Decoration

"LEARN ONE THING EVERY DAY"

No. 6. THE CARNATION.

Copyright, 1913, by The Associated Newspaper School, Inc.

EVERY flower, like every human soul, expresses some unique quality. The lily is loved for its purity, the violet for its modesty, and the carnation for its "odor divine."

E. Gerard has written a fascinating idyl called "The Voice of a Flower." In this he describes how the armorial bearings of the famous Italian house of Ronsecco came to be charged with a "garofano" or carnation.

It seems that Margherita Ronsecco was betrothed to a chivalrous knight named Orlando. Their marriage hour was already set. But on the eve of their wedding a call was sent out for all brave hearts to repair to the Holy Land and deliver the tomb of the Savior from the clutches of the infidel. Who but a dastard could turn a deaf ear to such a summons? So Orlando, broken hearted, went to his adored Margherita.

"Farewell, anima mia!" he murmured, clasping her to his breast. "Be true to me, Beloved," she sobbed. "Do not forget thy Margherita in your distant land."

"Never while I breathe; but give me this flower that nestles in thy sweet bosom to wear as a talisman next my heart."

Blinded by tears, the expression of her inward anguish, she fastened a white carnation to his breastplate.

A NOTRE DAME LADY'S APPEAL.

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism, whether muscular or of the joints, sciatica, lumbago, backache, pains in the kidneys or neuralgia, pains, to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these tortures. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers. FREE. You cure yourself at home as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purifies the blood, and brightens the eyes, giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. If the above interests you, for proof address Mrs. M. Summers, Box B, Notre Dame, Ind.

Then after one last embrace, the youth was gone—never to return. A year later a comrade of her lover came back with the news of his death, but bringing with him a solace for her lonely heart. It was the flower Orlando had worn, and through which the deadly arrow of a Saracen had pierced his noble heart. Margherita took the flower. While she was tenderly touching its withered petals some little brown pads dropped into her white hand. These she planted and tendered every day with infinite care. They were watered often, one imagines, with her tears. At last her efforts were rewarded. One morning a white carnation spread its fragrance through her room. And wonder of wonders, when she went to look at it closely she found that the petals were streaked with red. Of course she believed that the blood of her beloved flowed through them. So now the Ronsecco family has a red and white carnation emblazoned on its coat of arms.

Wild pinks are supposed to symbolize tears—the tears of the Virgin Mary. "When the Jews led Christ to Calvary, the Virgin Mary followed, though her heart was breaking with grief. When she saw on the way the bloody tracks of her Son's wounds she wept bitterly, and from these tears of Christ's mother and the blood of her Son sprang forth along the way to Calvary such flowers as these."

The origin of the carnation is as old as the rose. It was cultivated as far back as 300 B. C. by the Greeks, along with the iris, the narcissus and the violet.

Every day a different human interest story will appear in The Times. You can get a beautiful intaglio reproduction of this picture, with five others, equally attractive, 7 by 9 1/2 inches in size, with this week's "Mentor." In "The Mentor" a well known authority covers the subject of the pictures and stories of the week. Readers of The Times and "The Mentor" will know Art, Literature, History, Science, and Travel, and own exquisite pictures. On sale at The Times office. Price ten cents. Announcement

The Modern Woodmen of America, Forestry Team, are building a pavilion back of the Bank of Oregon, where they will hold a "Bowery" Dance July 4th and 5th, opening on evening of July 3d. Music will be furnished by Lew Keyser's Orchestra. Dancing July 4th will start at noon time, to continue until midnight. The same program will be followed July 5th.

The pavilion will be 70x90 and will have a good floor. The entire Forestry Team, in uniform, will have charge of the pavilion. Before dancing starts on afternoons of July 4th and 5th, an exhibition drill will be given free. Refreshments will be served on the grounds. The team will also give fancy drills during the parade on July 4th. Police protection will be furnished at the pavilion at all times. The pavilion will be handsomely decorated, and everyone is assured a good time.

Definite Privileges

WHEN you bring money to the counter of this bank and receive in exchange a "checking account" pass book, you are doing more than placing your funds in safe keeping. You are employing, without cost to you, RESPONSIBLE AGENTS, whose services are those of experts.

From the first day you begin a checking account, you have the use of some definite privileges.

You wish to pay a debt. The person to receive the money may be across the street, or several miles away. You may never have seen him.

But you write a check in his favor. You may carry it to him. If he is not there, you can leave it—no one can use it until the one it is payable to has properly endorsed it. If he is at a distance, you can mail it at the nearest box or give it to the carrier. When it comes back to you, it will carry an "iron-clad" receipt on the back.

You can pay out $38.92 as easily as a single dollar—no change to wait for.

Having to remember what you paid out is done away with. You have a double record—your checks and your stubs.
