ANOTHER OPEN LETTER:

suggested by our Glorious Fourth and addressed to the men who can't quite see their way clear to build their own homes.

Gentlemen :-

The Mutual Local Building and Loan Association is our way out. While your Chamber of Commerce is trying to get "capitalists" to double their money building your homes, just look up this matter of Mutual Building and Loan Association.

The Liberty Bell rings in Philadelphia, the City of Homes, and the home of the Building and Loan Association. I am sending for the constitution and bylaws of an association which has made a splendid success. Remember, there. is no similarity at all between such an association and those conducted for profit by "financiers." Either of our home banks would gladly act as fiduciary agent, without charge, for our association and there is absolutely no expense connected with it except a small salary to a secretary, postage and printing.

This is the proven way for working people to get themselves homes, and hundreds upon hundreds of towns bear witness to it.

MARSHFIELD CYCLERY,

E. Bandel.

Who said "Hire a hall?" This space is my hall and I pay for it regularly. And if you real estate agents would take this matter up, there would soon be more little homes in Marshfield.
