race, Ruth Thurston, Pennant, Mrs. C. O. Gosney.

Mrs. E. W. Sullivan proved herself an expert carpenter by winning the all driving contest. Mrs. E. Kelley and Mrs. J. Brown tied in the one minute suffrage speech and in the race, Mrs. A. Downs won the prize. The kindness of the Johnson Brothers, grocers, was especially appreciated by those in charge.

At 5 p. m., the Traveler brought back the tired but happy crowd.

Those attending were: Mrs. E. E. and Erwin, Mrs. N. Hill and J. Mrs. M. McLean and Maydram, Marie and Kathrine, Mrs. W. W. Steel and Thelo and Edith, Mrs. R. T. EPISCOPAL PICNIC.

The Sunday School of the Episcopal church held its picnic on Tuesday of this week on the wireless station hill. The day was a splendid one for the little ones to enjoy a capital outing in so beautiful a spot. Dainty baskets filled with all good things were spread out under the trees and to see the longing eyes of those gathered about the lunch table was enough to make the most cynical believe in the happiness and joys of child life. Among the older members lending their help and presence to the party were: Mrs. John Butler, Mrs. Mary McKnight, Miss Anna Browning and Rev. R. E. Browning, the rector. As the event had to be postponed a couple of times owing to bad weather, thus making it later than usual, a number of the children were out of town on camping trips and similar expeditions. Those taking part were: Pasquin Bradford, Abbie Ledward, Grace Farrin, Johnnie Butler, Maud and Madge Stutsman, Florence and Alice Flanagan, Francis and Jack Sacchi, Robert Browning, Jr. Among the visitors were Master Proctor

Mrs. C. A. Sehlbrede and Mrs. Isaacs entertained the Christian Women's Board of Missions on Tuesday at Plat B. Mrs. Hopson, Mrs. H.

Planagan and Eleanor Planagan. After the lunch was over the privileges of the hill were placed at the disposal of the visitors and various games were engaged in, making abundant merriment for old and young. Later on some of the keen eyed youngsters found that an ice-cream freezer had been hid away in the grass and this created such a frenzy of excitement that all games were abandoned immediately and a second circle was formed with the freezer as the central attraction.

The little outing was highly enjoyed by the young ones and was especially successful from the standpoint of those in charge of them because no other limbs than those on the trees were broken and everyone responded to the roll call when the affair was over.

SILVER TEA.

The ladies of the Marshfield Baptist church will serve a silver tea at the church parlors Wednesday afternoon, July 30. It will be in charge of Mrs. A. Z. Downs, Mrs. F. H. Dresser and Mrs. J. C. Doane.
