

Truth Crushed to Earth Will Rise Again

YOU know that it costs Jones about the same to do business as it does Smith, and after quality is considered, if you pay the former less, you probably get less some where along the line. We are carefully building our business for the future—telling the truth about what we have to sell, selecting our stock with the greatest care. We invite you to inspect our stock at all times and know that your verdict will be as it has been in the past, a clean stock of

New Auto Line.—A new auto line has been started out of here, being from Marshfield to Sunset Bay. It is planned to make from two to four round trips daily during the summer outing season.

Many to Carnival.—The Arnold Amusement Company opened their carnival shows last evening and got a good crowd. The attendance was even larger than was anticipated. The usual line of shows are offered.

Travel Increasing.—Travel is increasing on the Marshfield-Roseburg auto stage line. Among those leaving this morning were J. W. Peterson, F. C. Esch, Mrs. Chriffringer, Hyrd Parleigh, H. W. Peters, A. J. Mendel.

Have New Auto.—The Marshfield-Roseburg auto stage line came in last night with a beautiful new Winton seven-passenger car. The autos now make the trip through to Roseburg, reaching there about 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Seek Man Here.—Marshal Carter today received a telegram from Lizzie Kelly of Eureka, Cal., asking him to locate Epp Coffron here and notify him that his mother is dying. No further particulars were given. Who Coffron is or what he is doing Marshal Carter is trying to find out.

Dances for Boat.—Messrs. Crockett and Reynolds, of North Bend, who built the red motorboat that made such a showing in the races here July Fourth, that is when the boat ran, are now planning to build a new hydro-aeroplaning boat to enter in the Pacific Coast regatta next year. They are arranging to give a series of dances to raise money to build the boat.

Inspect Barge.—A Portland paper says: "Captain E. S. Edwards, United States Inspector of Hulls for this district, is to leave for Coos Bay on the steamer Breakwater to inspect a sea-going barge named the Frederick, which Porter Bros. are using there in railroad construction. The law provides that sea-going barges must be inspected the same as other deepwater vessels."

Fast Auto Trips.—Mr. Pilkington arrived here from Roseburg yesterday with a party of four, having made the run by auto in less than nine hours. He left Roseburg at 6 o'clock in the morning and reached Marshfield at 3 o'clock. It is claimed that a young man named Lambert drove his machine from Marshfield to Roseburg in a little less than seven hours the first of the week.

Outing Party.—A jolly outing vacation party consisting of G. W. Leberg, of the Marshall Wells Hardware Co., Portland; Miss Rose Trott, of Kansas City; Miss Anna Donohew, of Kansas City, and James Donohew, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Goodman, and Miss

STAFFORD'S

Muriel and Hazel Goodman, of Roseburg, reached Marshfield this morning on their way to Bandon beach for a couple of weeks camping out. They came through Brewster Valley on the way over and report a delightful trip.

Boat Licenses.—It is reported that henceforth the U. S. vessel inspector will issue licenses to captains and engineers during their visits to Coos Bay instead of requiring the applicants to make a special trip to Portland. This will eliminate expensive trips unless the applicants require their licenses in a hurry.

Three-Cornered Case.—A three-cornered case is being thrashed out in Justice Pennock's court. Ollivant & Weaver sued George Robinson for an $80 grocery bill and attached a claim he had against the Hardwood Lumber Company, Messrs. Hoffman and Filcroft. The latter claim they do not owe Robinson anything and he has begun suit for $102, claiming they contracted to give him work running an engine. They claim that he nearly ruined the engine by putting salt water in the boiler.

Little Talks on the Teeth

This is the second of a series of helpful and informing talks on the care of the teeth, which will be well worth reading:

REXALL ANTISEPTIC TOOTH POWDER

will help you maintain your teeth in their proper condition by removing the tartar and other discolorations, making them clean and beautifully white. It helps to harden the gums and keep them hard and rosy. More, it assists greatly in preserving the life of the teeth, by freeing them of the substances that cause them to decay or become loose. It makes the mouth more beautiful, more wholesome. It is delightful to use and comforting in its effect.
