MRS. PANKHURST TELLS ABOUT TAFT'S VISIT

Martin Mulhall Still Relating Political Activities of the Manufacturers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—Martin Mulhall testifying before the Senate lobby committee today introduced a letter that he wrote to General Manager Bird of the manufacturers, describing conferences with Senators Lodge and Charles E. Hatfield, chairman of the Massachusetts Republican state committee. "Senator Lodge pays us all kinds of compliments for the work we are doing and I know we will have his aid more actively during the next campaign," wrote Mulhall in August, 1910. In other letters that month, Mulhall wrote, "Through our efforts, we have beaten T. D. Nichols of the Tenth Pennsylvania, and we have also beaten the notorious George A. Pearce, of injunctive fame, in Maryland."

August 30, Mulhall wrote President Taft asking for an interview for Bird and himself. "It will be a great help to have a number of leaders of the manufacturers' association in touch with the leaders of our party throughout the country in the present crisis," the letter ran. Mulhall swore he received a reply from C. D. Norton, the President's secretary, arranging for an interview for September 12 at Beverly.

October 5, 1910, Mulhall wrote former Senator Foraker about his talk with President Taft, saying that he had submitted the names of men who would help in the campaign. "He seemed to scrutinize the list very closely," Mulhall wrote, "and talked as if John H. Taylor of East Liverpool and H. M. Hanna were not enthusiastic friends of his. He was greatly pleased with the work I told him had been done in Massachusetts and other states and advised me to inform our people to do everything we possibly could to keep in touch with the leaders of the congressional committee so we might be able to help him in the close congressional districts."

FLOAT HOUSE BURNED DOWN

Think That Early Morning Blaze on Waterfront Was of Incendiary Origin.

A floathouse on the waterfront near the old stove mill was destroyed by fire about 5 o'clock this morning. The blaze had got a big start when discovered and the whole structure and its contents were destroyed. The house has been vacant most of the time lately and it is said that the fire this morning was either incendiary or was accidentally started by prowlers who were in the place. The floathouse was one of those left vacant when the recent "red-light crusade" caused the demimonde to seek other localities. It was recently bought by Billy Cox and Clay Roberts from Cecil Lynn and with the contents was valued at between $1200 and $1600. The place was insured for $500. Another floathouse nearby, belonging to Carl Schroeder, of Ten Mile, and looked after by John Heron, was not damaged.

The fire alarm was turned in and the firemen went to the scene, but when they reached there the building was so far gone that it was useless to turn on the water. Jim Varney, a bartender at the Owl saloon, has been sleeping in the house, but last night he did not go home. He lost part of his clothing in the fire. The nightwatchman on the S. P. work near the scene, reports that he saw a launch pull in near the house a short time before the fire broke out and an endeavor is being made to ascertain who it was. Some of the places there have been pillaged once or twice recently and it was thought that perhaps someone yesterday or last night took everything they wanted from the place and then set fire to the building.

PORTLAND HAS 246,650 SAY CENSUS GUESSERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—Portland's population, according to the census bureau, on July 1, 1913, was 246,650. On April 1, 1910, it was 207,214. Seattle's present population is estimated at 295,225. San Francisco's 440,995. Los Angeles 412,466. The system at which the census bureau arrives at these figures is to compute the increase at the same ratio indicated by official returns for decade between 1900 and 1910 and all in the population of territory taken into city limits since 1913. These figures have no official force, as the census people have had no data since 1910 on which to base estimates of present population.

CURRENCY BILL IS TAKEN UP

President Wilson Tries to Adjust Difference Between Democrats on Measure.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—President Wilson endeavored today to reconcile the differences of opinion among the Democrats of the House Banking Committee on the administration currency bill. It seemed that the administration supporters would make an effort to have their bill reported soon with the hope that the fight on amendments would be settled in the Democratic caucus. The President's conference last night with Representative Henry, who has been recommending certain changes, was described today as satisfactory and the administration officials were optimistic that the differences would be adjusted.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, was elected today president and director of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railway. ALLEGED I. W. W. GIVEN BEATING

Ed Walker, Cook at Blanco Cafe, Lands on His Dishwasher—Latter Leaves.

Ed Walker, a cook in the Blanco restaurant, was fined $15 and costs last night by Justice Pennock on the charge of assaulting Jack Rance, a dishwasher in the place. Walker was a little obdurate last evening and was confined in the city jail all night and this morning appeared before Justice Pennock and explained the situation. As a result of his explanation, Justice Pennock cancelled the $15 fine so that Walker had to pay only $7.50 costs. It seems that Rance, a recent arrival, made some insulting remarks and Walker hit him. In falling, Rance struck his shoulder on the coal hod. Rance claimed that Walker kicked him and the latter claimed he didn't.

Walker claimed that Rance was an I. W. W. disturber and intimidated that the latter caused the trouble. Marshal Carter also declared that Rance was an I. W. W. who landed here a few days ago. Rance vigorously denied that he was an I. W. W.

Skip Town.

Three loggers who were sentenced to work on the street yesterday when they claimed they did not have the cash to pay their fines, skipped out this morning when they were going to breakfast. The officers were not especially anxious to keep them as it was figured they had sobered up, done a day's work and would probably keep out of town until they could pay their fines. Their names were J. S. Miller, Washmoore and Ed Powers. Andrew Gaffney, of North Bend, was in Marshfield yesterday and celebrated too much and landed in jail. He had no money when arraigned before Recorder Butler this morning and was given time to get it.

Joe Brown was another drunk who was penniless and asked for time to raise the money to pay his fine.

Over 25,000 Miners Out of Work as Result of Western Federation Trouble.

STRIKERS OVERWHELM THE LOCAL OFFICERS

Seize Watchman at Shafts and Extinguish Fires and Stop Pumps—No Bloodshed.

CALUMET, Mich., July 25.—Two thousand strikers of the Keweenaw County mines, adjacent to the Calumet district, marched to Calumet this morning. They were from the Ahmeek, Mohawk, Allouez, Wolverine and Centennial mines. They did not appear to be in an ugly mood. They passed quietly through the streets. A large American flag was carried at the head of the line, and there were many small flags. The men were laughing and joking. The strikers this morning drove the deputies away from the Wolverine and Ahmeek mines. At Allouez the fires were drawn by strikers and the pumps shut down. Some of the upper peninsula militia are here, and others are arriving. The lower peninsula companies will arrive tomorrow noon. Twenty-five thousand men are idle because of the strike.

Slight Crash. At the Baltic location, a body of strikers clashed with the deputies, removing their stars and ordering them away. The mine managers considered calling for troops when one of the officers was beaten but the disturbances ended quickly and the union men march away to the other mines on the south range.

BIG BARGE IS PASSED TODAY

Porter Brothers' Frederick Passes Inspection—To Build Two Larger Ones.

Capt. Edwards, U. S. Inspector of hulls in this district, arrived on the Breakwater this morning from Portland to inspect the new sea-going barge Frederick which Porter Bros. had completed at the Kruse & Banks yards recently. The new barge was quickly passed. It was the first large sea-going barge that Capt. Edwards has had to inspect. It has three rudders, making it comparatively easy to handle.

The barge is about 104 feet long and about 36-foot beam. She will carry 600 tons. Capt. Edwards estimates, about 600,000 feet of lumber. Today she was laden with 600 tons of coal for Gardner, going to the Porter Brothers' construction camps.

She will then be taken to Florence and put in the mill service, carrying lumber from the Porter Brothers' mill on the Siuslaw. Porter Brothers have placed large orders with Kruse & Banks for two more large sea-going barges, larger even than the Frederick. They have steam winches to load and unload lumber. Capt. Edwards says this is his first trip to Coos Bay without Inspector Fuller, the latter nearly always going with him as Capt. Edwards inspects the hulls and Mr. Fuller the boilers. However, the Frederick has no boilers and the latter did not have to come this time.

Capt. Edwards says that they have not changed the rules about the issuance of licenses to engineers and captains. As they have always done, they will now renew licenses on personal application when they are here, by simply putting the O. K. on the application and forwarding it by mail to Portland. However, they cannot issue licenses without personally seeing the applicant and cannot delegate the authority to a deputy or any other officer.

RESERVOIR HILL SWEEP BY FIRE AT ROSEBURG

ROSEBURG, July 24.—Reservoir hill, located north of Roseburg, between this city and Edenbor, was swept by a bad brush and grass fire. Considerable excitement existed for a time when it appeared as if the fire would reach the dwellings located near. As no fire plugs are near, men and boys fought the flames with wet sacks and in the manner kept the fire from doing any serious damage.
