An Open Letter:

TO THE WOMEN OF COOS CO.

New York, July 25, 1913.

We have just visited the factory of the John B. Anisfield Co. and purchased our stock of La Vogue Suits and Coats for fall.

These garments will be manufactured during the remainder of this month and next. They were designed long since the lines shown by the traveling men were on the road. You do not order a garment for fall made up in April, May or even June. Yet the samples shown in Portland and San Francisco, from which our competitors buy were designed and manufactured even so early as April.

We have no fall garments to show in June or July. We do not sell that kind. We do not believe you wish to buy that kind.

The La Vogue Suits and Coats we will show you soon will be up to the minute in style of the best workmanship and the price the lowest.

Don't make the same mistake a few women made last spring. Don't think of buying until you see the La Vogue garments at the GOLDEN RULE. If it's a Coat or a Suit, a Dress or an Evening Gown, we can please you and save you money.

R. A. COPPLE, Proprietor The Golden Rule.
