PROTEST.

God, I am sick of the hating, the cunning, the craft and the stealth;
I want to go back where the trees are waving with brimming flags of health.

I am wearied to death of the clamor, the weighing of loss against gain;

I want to go back where the moon's pale glamour lies white on the long-flowing lane.

To return to the gossiping grasses, the dust and the sky and the dew.

Where the night-wind whispereth low as it passes and earth seems splendid and new.

I long to flee far from the ringing of coin and the blazon of type.

Where the silence is sweet as a thrush's singing, and silvers the cricket's pipe.

Yea, let me go from the city, the fret and the fume and the stress,

To fields where the clouds look down in pity, and night has a mother's caress;

Where the wind-shaken leaves are sobbing; to stand 'twixt the sky and the sod,

And feel the pulse of my spirit throbbing close to the heart of God.

—Victor Starbuck.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL.

HERE is a business end to the movement for a city beautiful.

It pays in dollars and cents as well as in sightliness and satisfaction to have a city beautiful.

And there is more in beauty than merely paved streets and buildings.

Clean, well-kept door yards, flowering shrubs and rose bushes add to a city's beauty, but more than all else a city should be clean.

Perfume will never do the work of soap, neither will shrubbery do the work of the garbage man. To be clean is the first condition of being beautiful and the broom should always precede the Brussels carpet.

Marshfield has the natural endowment of climate and land and seascape to make the most beautiful city on the Pacific Coast. The recent flower show proved how easily beautiful flowers of many varieties may be grown here. Every citizen should see to it first that the door yards and vacant lots are made clean and next that they be beautified with flowering shrubs.

COOS BAY CURIOSITIES.

There is a man in Marshfield so unsober that he wouldn't talk, even in his sleep.

A SURE SIGN.

When you see a pair of white stockings on the line and a pair of white shoes sunning on the porch, it is a sign that HE is going to call that evening.

CULLINGS OF COQUILLE.

Coos County Seat News as Told by The Sentinel.

A new schoolhouse is being built at Dora on the old site. They bargained for another site with the Southern Oregon Company, but could not get a good title.

August 27 is the date set for the special election on the proposed Port of Bandon. If the proposition carries all of the property in the watershed of the Coquille River, from the mouth to a short distance above Coquille, will be taxed for the improvement of the bar and river. It is not the purpose to raise any large amount for this improvement in any single year.

The work of the Coos Bay Paving Company, contractors for the Second street improvement, is being delayed by the reconstruction of the water system on that thoroughfare. There is a shortage of pipe for mains, and some several days may elapse before it arrives here from Portland.

J. C. Savage returned to Coquille on Saturday last, after having spent, in company with Mrs.
Savage, several months in California.
Mr. Savage went thither with the intention of taking up a permanent residence, but was not favorably impressed with that country. Mrs.
Savage is visiting relatives at Eugene.

S. D. Pulford, attorney, returned from a point ten miles above Timothy Billings on South Fork and says the timber, fine land and coal can not be realized but by seeing.
The Government geologist is there examining the coal lands. There is the real bituminous coal. He saw many fine waterfalls.

MYRTLE POINT POINTERS.

News of Upper Coquille Valley as Told by The Enterprise.

A newcomer, whom we inadvertently failed to herald is a grandson who arrived at the home of Ben Saul. The mother, Mrs. T. P.
Hillyar, is a daughter of Mr. Shull.
Word has been received from Rev. E. E. Coulter, of Coos Bay, Oregon, to whom the local Christian congregation extended a call several weeks ago to become their pastor, saying he would arrive here next Monday.

William Hartley, who had been a resident of this city and vicinity for many years, died Monday at the County Hospital in Coquille, where he was taken a few weeks ago when his condition became helpless. Deceased was aged about 86 years and was a native of Ireland. Brief services were held at the grave in Myrtle Point Cemetery, by Rev. W.
S. Williams of the Presbyterian Church, Tuesday afternoon.

NED GALLOWAY

SEEKS GAMES FOR CARNIVAL

Denny Hull, of North Bend, to Select All-Star Team to Play Bandon.

Donald Mackintosh, the well-known Bandon booster, is in Marshfield today on matters connected with the White Cedar Carnival which is to be given in Bandon August 25 to 30. He is here especially in connection with the series of ball games for the event.

They had figured on games between the Bandon league team and the other league teams of the county, but find that the other league teams can't come and now are trying to arrange for an all-star team, composed of the best players of the other teams, to go up against Bandon. Denny Hull, of North Bend, has practically promised to select the team. Three games are to be played and Bandon will pay $100 per game and expenses for each game. Hull is trying to get twelve men, some from North Bend, some from Marshfield and some from Coquille and Myrtle Point.

Mr. Mackintosh says they are expecting a big crowd for the carnival. He made a trip as far south as Crescent City advertising it and they have also advertised all throughout the southern part of the state.

There was talk of bringing in a ball team from Roseburg or Mc-Minnville for the games, but Mr.
Mackintosh wants the Coos County teams.

A good program has been arranged and he says there will be something doing all the time. He will return to Bandon this afternoon.

IS OLDEST ODD FELLOW.

Grandfather of C. C. Going Celebrates Eightieth Birthday.

The following from the Portland Oregonian will be of interest on Coos Bay as Jas. W. Going is the grandfather of C. C. Going of Marshfield:

"James W. Going yesterday reached his 80th birthday. On the night of October 1, 1853, he slept on the banks of the Willamette River, opposite what is now Stark street. He crossed the plains with Charles E. Fendall and George Frazier and from that time to the present has been closely associated with the lift, interest and progress of the Northwest. Mr. Going for many years was the secretary and treasurer of the Loewenberg & Going Company, manufacturers of stoves and ranges. He is probably the oldest living Oddfellow of any organization in this state, having been a member of the Good Samaritan Lodge of this city since 1854.
He is now living at 662 Wasco street, in Irvington."
