Dedicated to the service of the people, that no good cause shall lack a champion, and that evil shall not thrive unopposed.

And really it deserves to be. For it is "crooked," don't you see?

Because there was a delay in the delivery of a telegram, a Columbia, S. C., man tried to shoot the manager of the telegraph office in that city. If that should get to be a habit on Coos Bay Otto Schetter would have to build a bomb-proof office.

"There goes a man who always follows the doctors," remarked John Goss, as Fred Wilson went by. "Yes," said Dorsey Kreitzer, "and there goes one who can always get a foothold in business," as Curry, the chiroprapist, passed by.

It is extremely fortunate for some Coos Bay people that their habit of believing everything they hear will not land them in the insane asylum.

A Marshfield man always says he would rather have a clear conscience than a million dollars, because he hasn't the million.

SEPTEMBER MORN.

A copy of the famous, some say infamous, painting, "A September Morn," is on exhibition at one of the Marshfield stores. A Wise Guy, art critic of this department, was detailed to see it and prepare a criticism and turned in the following:

"I had intended giving space in this valuable family paper this evening to "Miss September Morn," the same being a liver-colored young lady, about frying size, standing on one foot in an absinth-colored wet spot about three inches deep and hugging herself because she is cold, or on second thought she may be hugging herself because we ain't present.

"She can't be hugging herself because she is cold, because she can't be cold. If she was cold she would have goose pimples and she ain't got a pimple, if she had we could see it. She is looking off toward the Coos Bay Laundry (this will cost Jones ten cents a line) and wondering why her wash don't come home. She is dressed in a wad of bourbon-colored hair—and that's all at present."

GLAD TO GET BACK.

THE returning vacationists are "so glad to get home" that those who haven't been away almost feel like congratulating themselves.

"There's no place like Coos Bay."

Why is the letter "S" like some people on Coos Bay?

You'll notice that the letter "S" is found quite often in "distress."

LOCAL OVERFLOW.

Will Give Recital.—Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler returned from Coquille, where she gave a recital last evening, and will give one in Eastside this evening.

Buys Harp.—Lew Keyzer who left yesterday to play for a bowery dance at the Myrtle Point Fair says he has ordered a $500 harp for his orchestra.

Sisters Died.—Mrs. J. W. Mitchell received a telegram yesterday bringing the sad news of the death of her sister, Mrs. James Burke, at her home in St. Joe, Missouri, from a complication of diseases.

Relative Dead.—Chas. Mahaffy, the well known Coos River rancher, yesterday received word of the death of his brother, Robert T. Mahaffy at his home in St. Louis of paralysis. The deceased visited here three years ago and won many friends who will regret to hear of his death. He was 56 years old.

North Bend Meeting.—There will be a mass meeting at the City Hall in North Bend this evening, at which Senator I. S. Smith will speak to the Chamber of Commerce on "Civic Affairs." The public is requested to be present at 8 o'clock.

Hunting Trip.—Geo. H. Rotnor, Walter Hill and son Dudley Hill left today for a hunting and vacation trip in the vicinity of the Sacchi ranch near Bandon. They expect to be gone a week or ten days and there will probably be no game left in that section when they have returned.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Look Young! Nobody Can Tell if You Use Grandmother's Simple Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.
