IF A LAD LOVE
 IF a lad love and a lass care, Now tell me, come tell me, what shall a lad do?
 Sit down with his trouble and dine off despair.
 While other lads sit with their sweethearts and woo?
 No, No! Let me tell you, that never would do!
 No, never would do!
 There's only one thing I can think of to do—
 Only one thing, and I'd do it I swear!
 Although, it is true, 'tis old as 'tis new,
 Just kiss her and kiss her, however she flare,
 And take ye no care whatever she
 swear,
 Whatever she swear, sir, or do.
 For women be women, and care not a hair
 For the man who don't dare, however he woo;
 And they who would win 'em, foul weather or fair, Must fly them, not follow, and they will pursue;
 And that is the way, let me tell
 The way, sir, to woo!
 —Selected.

Once upon a time two girls who were clever, bright looking, jolly young persons, but not at all pretty, even in the eyes of their most devoted friends, became unwittingly confidential and fell to talking the situation over.

One of the girls was distinctly bitter at Nature's stinginess in their direction.

"Sometimes after I've seen a particularly pretty girl," she said, "I can't get to sleep at night for envying her. It isn't just the pleasure of being admired without any effort, though goodness knows there are times when I'd gladly exchange my brains I have for that, but pretiness opens so many doors to you, and prejudices people in your favor right from the start. It's like an attractive show window that makes people want to come inside and see your wares."

The second girl was thoughtful.
 "It is a great advantage," she admitted, "but you know perfectly well that you are popular, and that you have succeeded in business without it."

"Oh yes," said the rebellious one,
 "I suppose I have done pretty well, and you've done better, but I know we could both have done a lot more if we had only had prettiness as well as brains."

The other girl's eyes shone with a brightness, says Ruth Cameron, that brought her very near to the beauty she was admiring she lacked. "Somehow I don't feel that way," she said.
 "Of course sometimes I wish I were pretty, and then again I take the greatest pride in seeing how much I can do without it. I think it's really the most fascinating thing in the world to win in spite of odds. It's just like cards. You know it's fun to have such good hands that you can't help winning, but it's a lot more fun to win in spite of a poor hand just because you played it perfectly. I can stand having poor hands in cards. The only thing that troubles me greatly is to feel that I did not get the most I could out of what I had. Even if I win I'm not content when I feel that I didn't play my cards as well as I possibly could have."

"The only failure is not to have done the best you could," says Cameron Farrar.

I doubt if this young person would have realized that she was expressing the same sentiment, but wasn't she?

Life is a game. Some people have good cards and play them for half their value, and others with a mediocre hand win out. We can't all have the high cards, but we can play the ones we have in the best way possible. Are you doing that? or are you playing a slovenly game because the great dealer did not see fit to give you just the cards you would have liked? Which?

WED IN NEW YORK.

One of the surprises in local social circles this week was the announcement of the marriage of Geo.
 Goodrum, of Marshfield, and Miss Marie Waller, of Boise, Idaho, in New York City, August 21. Mr.

Goodrum is one of the best known and most prominent of the younger business men on Coos Bay. His bride is well known here through visits at the F. M. Parsons home.
 She had just returned from a year's tour of Europe, when Mr. Goodrum met her in New York and their nuptials were quickly solemnized there but members of Miss Waller's European party gave them a little surprise by turning their departure into a real country wedding, with rice, labels and all, as they left Atlantic City, much to the surprise of the metropolitan crowds. Mr. and Mrs.
 Goodrum will reside near Fourteenth and Central and since their arrival have been showered with congratulations and felicitations by their host of Coos Bay friends.

HONOR BRIDE-TO-BE.

Thursday evening Miss Hedwidge Poirier was most pleasantly surprised at the home of her uncle, A.
 E. Gagnon, when a party of her friends gave her a linen shower.
 The affair was a great success, and the evening was complete when Misses Lina Dalgle, Lora Dabney and Emma Hansen served delicious refreshments to the party, who were:
 Miss Hedwidge Poirier and G. E.
 Hennesey, Misses Lina and Lillian Dalgle, Minerva Meeum, Mable and Cora M. Thilson, Esther and Myrtle Sullivan, Mary Derzbach, Lucy and Lilly Thorwald, Vivian and Mable Craig, Emma Hansen, Bruce Kelley and Lillian Bremer.

HONOR NEWLY WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Van Dayn will entertain a few friends this evening complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Geo.
 Goodrum. This is the first of a number of little social courtesies that will be extended to the newly-weds by their Marshfield friends.

WED IN PORTLAND.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Dr. T. J. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fox of West Marshfield, and Miss Alice Maney, a prominent Portland young woman, which will be solemnized in Portland September 24. Dr. Fox is a former Coos Bay young man who has gained success in his profession in Portland and has many friends here who will extend congratulations.
 His sister, Mrs. J. W. Chapman, will leave next week for Portland to attend the nuptials.

CHANCEL GUILD.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chancel Guild of the Episcopal Church was held in the Church yesterday at 2:30. The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. George March, preceding this there was a devotional address by the Rector, who emphasized the thought of the cultivation of the spiritual life as an essential part of church work.

The question of a slight change in the designation of the Guild was brought forward by the Rector and adopted by the meeting. The Guild is to be known as the Chancel Guild instead of the Altar Guild, as it was felt that this name was more in harmony with the scope of the work done by the members and also prevented any misunderstanding that might have lingered in the minds of some when the Altar Guild was the only working guild in the Church, as was the case up until the old Guild was revived. The Rector appointed Mrs. George March and Mrs. Ansar Lagerstrom as the Chancel committee for this month.
 A new constitution was proposed by the Rector and adopted by the meeting. The next regular meeting will be held in the Church on Friday, the 3rd day of October. Those present were: Mrs. Robert K. Bouth, Mrs. Fanny Hazard, Mrs. Charlotte Fort, Mrs. C. K. Perry, Mrs. Geo.
 March, Miss Nettie Savage and Mrs.
 Robert E. Browning, Jr.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETS.

The Epworth League of the M.
 E. Church held a business and social meeting Wednesday evening.
 The business was transacted at the church from whence the members went to the home of Mrs. C. W.
 Davis and enjoyed a most delightful musical evening. Musical games were the main diversions while all present were pleased by a solo sung by June Cooley. Those out at the meeting were: Mesdames Mary Thompson and C. W. Davis, Misses Bertha Davis, Cora Dye, Mildred Storey, Luella and Marjorie Graham, Roxie Hall, Harriet and Eva Hansen, June Cooley, Effie Church and Irene Preuss. Messrs. Eric and Ed Holt, Le Roy Robertson, Frank Heath, Lee Byerley, Rev. Cooley and Clay Church.

was entertained this week by Miss Agnes Hutcheson at her home. It was the first meeting of the season and plans were made for the year's work. Plans were made for a cake sale to be held this afternoon at the Perry-Nicholson store, to be in charge of Mrs. E. G. Perham, Miss Evelyn Anderson and Miss Florence Alken. The next meeting will be held next Tuesday with Miss Evelyn Anderson. Those present this week were Mrs. E. G. Perham, Mrs. Per-

MINNIE-WIS CLUB.

The Minnie-Wis Club was entertained by Mrs. M. E. Thompson Thursday afternoon. The next meeting will be held on September 25, when Mrs. W. Brown will entertain. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent at Mrs. Thompson's by Mrs. E. E.
 Kelley, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. J. C.
 Doane, Mrs. W. E. Hoagland, Mrs.
 W. H. Perkins, Mrs. H. Nerdrum, Mrs. F. H. Dresser, Mrs. E. A.
 Harris, Mrs. Chas. La Chapelle, Mrs.

 Mrs. W. Brown, Misses Ruth Hed-den, Bertha Davis, Virginia and Gertrude Brown. Mrs. Thompson, assisted by Bertha Davis and Ruth Hedden, served a dainty luncheon to those present.

Marshfield, Oregon, Sept. 13, 1913.

Dear Madam: We take pleasure in informing you that our complete FALL and WINTER LINE of LADIES' COATS and SUITS will arrive on the Alliance.

Our stock is not the first to arrive—we don't believe in rushing things, so deferred purchasing until the last moment, thereby enabling us to obtain the very latest designs.

Has it ever occurred to you that very few people are prepared to purchase their FALL and WINTER garments in August? Have you ever given any thought to that particular subject?

Now a great many people like to be the first to get this or that article, but the staid, conservative customer who bides her time, is usually the most satisfied.

Another point—and a good one—is the fact that the early arrivals are handled and tried on many times before you have decided to purchase. Our garments escape that early rush; are fresh and clean, and are priced within the reach of all.

Watch for our window display; then come in and let us show you OUR beautiful line of FALL and WINTER CREATIONS.

The work that the young ladies have been doing at their meetings will be displayed and up for sale.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Missionary Society met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. L. W. Langdon. A very interesting paper on "North American Missionary Work" was read by Mrs. A. L. Butz. Mrs. J. E.
 Burkhardt gave a very instructive talk on "Home Missions." Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. The next meeting will be held on September 24, at the home of Mrs. C. H. Walters.
