MRS. EMMELINE PANKHURST IS ORDERED DEPORTED FROM U. S.

Noted Leader of English Suffragettes Not Allowed to Land in America.

MRS. O. H. P. BELLMONT OFFERS $100,000 BOND

Has Engagements to Speak at Madison Square—Will Appear Case Immediately

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the noted English militant suffragette leader, who arrived here today for a lecture tour, was ordered deported within less than three hours after the vessel on which she arrived had docked. The special board of inquiry which decided her case, voted to not admit her to this country under bond, but to send her back to France forthwith.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—Officials of the Immigration Bureau said today that they would consider Mrs. Pankhurst's appeal tonight or tomorrow, or at any time the papers may arrive outside of regular hours, in order to expedite the decision.

Mrs. Pankhurst's lawyer, Herbert Reeves, announced his intention of appealing the case immediately to Commissioner General Caminetti. Pending the decision by Caminetti, Reeves said he would seek to have her admitted to the country under bond so that she may be able to fulfill her engagement to speak at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the New York woman suffrage leader, who was to have been Mrs. Pankhurst's hostess, was prepared to give bond to one hundred thousand dollars for Mrs. Pankhurst's good behavior while in the United States. Under the ruling of the special board she will not be permitted to do so, and Mrs. Pankhurst must remain at Ellis Island until deported, unless the board's findings are reversed by the authorities at Washington. Mrs. Pankhurst's deportation was ordered under a section of the immigration laws which provides for the exclusion of persons convicted of crime involving moral turpitude. The board held that Mrs. Pankhurst's conviction in England of conspiracy to commit arson brought her within this class.

Mrs. Pankhurst's case moved with unusual celerity. She was interrogated by immigration inspectors aboard the liner Province, on which she had made the trip from Havre and was detained but a few minutes aboard the vessel when it docked, and was rushed in a special tug to the Detention Station at Ellis Island. She was taken immediately before a special board of inquiry there. Her examination by this board lasted but a little over one hour. She was not represented by counsel. Mrs. Pankhurst told the immigration officials that her purpose in coming to America was not to advocate militant methods for obtaining suffrage, but to lecture on the history of its progress in England.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 18.—When Mrs. Pankhurst was informed that she was to be deported, she turned to her lawyer and announced her intention of beginning a hunger strike to compel the authorities to release her. She changed her mind, however, when she learned she was to be given a prompt hearing on her appeal. Instead of beginning a hunger strike, she ordered tea, chicken soup and sandwiches. After luncheon she saw reporters and again protested she had not been given a fair hearing inasmuch as her lawyer was not present.

A big meeting of welcome, which local suffrage leaders planned to give Mrs. Pankhurst tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden was postponed today until Monday night, in order that Mrs. Pankhurst's status might be fully determined before meeting.

SCARCITY OF BEEF CATTLE

United States Now Forced to Import Instead of Export—Prices Have Fallen.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—The United States Bureau of Foreign Commerce announces the disappearance of American beef and cattle as a factor in the world's commerce. In 1904 this country sent cattle and beef abroad to the value of more than forty million dollars during the eight months ending with August. In the corresponding eight months of this year a scant $1,000,000 in such products have gone to other lands. The United States has been forced to import beef and cattle, mostly from Mexico. Despite the scarcity of cattle prices of beef animals have fallen steadily.

Radical changes in the saloon regulations in Marshfield are reported to be under consideration by the City Council for adoption by next Monday night's meeting. The matter has been brought up in connection with the closing of the Svan bar this week by Mayor Straw and the fate of which will be determined by the Council Monday night.

Among the things that are said to be proposed is the elimination of back rooms, the elimination of back door entrances, the requiring of saloons to have windows allowing plain view of the interior from the street and prohibiting the placing of curtains or signs to obstruct the view, and of signs in the front part of saloons.

FINAL VOTE IS IN SIGHT NOW

President and Senate Republicans Have Currency Situation in Good Shape.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—Exchanges between President Wilson and Senate Republicans have placed the currency situation in a position where definite agreement for a report from the banking committee and possibly a final vote on its passage, is in sight. November 10 is the date tentatively set for the report from the committee. Among Democratic leaders the idea is gaining that the President might consent to a recess of Congress if the Senate agreed to vote on the bill on a certain day. Early today the President conferred with Senator Nelson. It was his first conference with Republicans on the currency question.

Nichols Denies It.—Al Nichols, water buff, was here from Empire on business today. He reports that fishermen generally are complying with the law in good shape. He made one arrest near Coquille and the news was telephoned to all the other fishermen on the lower river, who pulled out their nets and proceeded to hastily comply. Mr. Nichols says that the story credited to Capt. Olson, formerly of the Esther Buhne, about Nichols running through Olson's nets in the lower Bay the other night is absolutely false. Mr. Nichols has not been out in his launch Traveler, since October 4 and the night in question was up South Slough. He says that either Capt. Olson or the author of the yarn must have been touching up the "conversational brand."

74 of 110 Members of the Chamber of Deputies Are Charged With Treason.

RUMORED NOW THAT HUERTA MAY RETIRE

Is Said to be Looking For Suitable Successor to Office of Presidency.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 18.—Seventy-four of the one hundred and ten members of the Mexican Chamber of Deputies, who were arrested by order of Huerta on October 10, were formally arraigned today before the Judge of the Federal district, who has had charge of investigating into the case. The period for filing charges against the deputies expired today. Charges entered today against the Deputies were all for political offenses designated by the law as rebellion, sedition and insults to important public functionaries. Ten of the Deputies, against whom there was said to be insufficient evidence, were released. Others had been previously freed.

HUERTA MAY RETIRE. Suggested Yesterday That Provisional President Is Looking for Successor.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—The possibility of Huerta's immediate retirement commanded the foremost attention in the Mexican situation here today, and administration officials are awaiting advices to supplement those of late yesterday, which suggested very strongly that Mexico's provisional president had been deterred only for lack of an agreement on the man to succeed him. Blanquet, the present Minister of War, one of the group who acted with Huerta in the downfall of Madero, was mentioned as his successor, but his name in this connection was not approved here. Reports of Huerta's impending retirement, rumors of plots against the life of Felix Diaz, and the attitude of foreign governments which have already recognized Huerta, and some of which are regarded as sympathizing with the position taken by the United States, all served to make the present situation more complex.

New Irving Block and Chandler Hotel Annex

MARSHFIELD'S FINE NEW BUSINESS BLOCKS.

The new Irving block and the Chandler Hotel Annex are the two most substantial improvements of the year in Marshfield and two of the best erected in the history of the city. Their completion marks a new epoch in the history of Marshfield's retail district and adds immensely to the appearance of the city.

The new Irving block on the corner, named in honor of the family name of Mrs. W. S. Chandler, wife of the builder, is one of the most modern and best constructed buildings. It is a handsome business block from every standpoint and one of which a large city might be proud. It is 50x100 feet, two stories high. It has 100 feet frontage on Central avenue and 50 feet frontage on Broadway. It is built of rough cast tapestry brick with marble finishings. On the first floor are three storerooms, the corner one being occupied by the Hub Dry Goods company. The other two are occupied by the Parisian Fashion Shop. On the second floor are sixteen office rooms, which are now only partly occupied. Those occupying them now are Judge J. S. Coke, Dr. A. L. Houseworth, B. B. Ostlund and the F. E. Conway company. The office rooms are especially arranged to afford excellent lighting. They are modern in every way and have every up-to-date convenience.

The Chandler Annex is also 50x100, having fifty feet frontage on Central avenue. It is the same type building as the Chandler hotel. The first floor is divided into two store rooms and a barber shop with a sample room in the rear. The Fair Store, of which Mr. Labovitch is proprietor, the Smokehouse and J. C. Terrell's barber shop are the occupants of the lower floor. The second floor will be part of The Chandler and has sixteen guest rooms with nine baths. The walls of the building were erected, so that three additional stories may be added when they are needed for the hotel.

Messrs. J. M. Wright, W. W. Nason and L. E. Bentley were the contractors for the buildings. The contract price for the Irving block was $25,000 and for the Chandler Hotel Annex $24,000. The Irving block was started April 1 and completed October 1 and the Chandler Annex was started June 1 and completed October 15.

Both buildings were designed by Architect W. G. Chandler. Nothing has been slighted in either, only the best materials and workmanship being permitted and the contractors and architects have received many compliments from out of town visitors who have inspected the structures on the excellency of every detail. So far as possible, Coos Bay material and workmen were used in the construction of the buildings.

ELEVEN WOMEN FROM VOLTURNO

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The arrival today of eleven women saved from the burning Volturno by the freighter Rappahannock, was the signal for the wildest scene of joy and thanksgiving witnessed here since the rescuing fleet began to bring in their cargoes of survivors. The women were transferred from the Rappahannock to the liner Florisel, which docked in Brooklyn. Ten of them were girls. They were taken care of by the Jewish Immigration Society. The eleventh was Mrs. Pella Polack, and there was an affecting scene at the dock when she met her three children whom she had given up for lost. The children were saved by the Kronland. Their father is a New York merchant.

SIMLA FOUND BADLY DAMAGED

ESTIMATE REPAIRS OF VESSEL WILL COST $80,000 AND WASH-TENAW WILL COST OVER $20,000.

The following from a San Francisco paper will be of interest here because the Adeline Smith and the Nann Smith rescued the Simla off the rocks:

"Repairs to the oil steamer Wash-tenaw and the barge Simla of the Union Oil Company, which struck near Point Gorda in a fog recently, will cost over $100,000. The Simla was damaged to the extent of nearly $80,000, while the job on the Wash-tenaw will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000. The Simla had only made a few trips at the time of the mishap. She was converted into an oil carrier at heavy expense, which made the accident particularly unfortunate for the company. The repairs are being rushed, as both vessels are badly needed in the oil trade."
