Look Back a Month Ahead a Year

LOOK backward one month and recall how your money went. Was every cent wisely spent? Would the little fragments of fortune, tossed after trifles, total a dollar, or two, or five?

Which would you rather have now, the trifles you bought, or the coin you paid for them?

Now look ahead a year: Will your present habits cause a repetition of last month's spending, until the year is gone?

Today's history is part of your life history. What fortune are you building? To what extent is a bank account shaping your future?

BOOSTS MYRTLE POINT CANNERY

TELLS OF BENEFIT TO THE COMMUNITY IN PROVIDING MARKET FOR PRODUCTS AND EMPLOYMENT TO CITIZENS.

(Special to The Times.)
 MYRTLE POINT, Or., Oct. 27.—F. H. Turner has accomplished a great deal that is beneficial to the Myrtle Point community. In running the dryer and cannery he is using products of the farm which otherwise might be a waste to the farmer, giving him a chance to realize on his unmerchantable apples, and to sell his prunes at a profit, and giving employment to a score of persons, which in turn assist the local merchant and also bring new business to the financial institutions for all of his finished product are sold south and north, and are handled directly through the local banks. Therefore every business enterprise for the best interest of the community should do all in their power to help make his business a success and to encourage such institutions which take hold and try to do something.

Mr. Turner has the faculty of revolutionizing any business which he undertakes. He has discarded all the hand-paring machines and uses power exclusively; he also gets all the by-products, such as jelly, from juice of the apple parings and vinegar from the pulp. His vinegar is made chemically pure by the concentration process.

He is solely interested in his business, having rented the dryer from Mr. Dow and bargained for the cannery on a guarantee to run it for period of five years.

The first of his products were shipped on last Thursday to Haas Bros., in San Francisco, and included 250 cases of evaporated apples and about 100 cases of fancy Oregon prunes. Mr. Turner says Oregon prunes are at a premium in the South, while most prunes sold here are imported from the South. He is an adept in the sale of the manufactured product and does not believe in packing anything unless he finds sale for it prior to its manufacture. All should boost for more such industries which will make for the best interest of the community and help to build up cities here.

Mr. Arthur M. Arneson and Miss Eunice Rouse were married last evening at the M. E. Parsonage, Rev. E. S. Mace officiating.

H. D. Duffy, a locomotive engineer who for a number of months has been running one of the Willett & Burr engines on the extension, went to Marshfield Monday, expecting to secure employment with the railroad contractors on the Willamette-Pacific.

The foundation for the school building has been completed and this week the framing of the structure was commenced.

Geo. W. Stewart, who for some time over a year has been conducting a livery and feed business in the Machado barn on Spruce street is this week moving his stock into the Binger Hermann barn at the foot of First street on Maple, near the depot. In connection with this livery business Geo. Martin will drive a private hack between here and Roseburg.

MINER'S HARD LUCK.

For the past two months J. C. French and George Forty have been at work putting a dam in Hubbard's Creek near where the stream enters the ocean for the purpose of going down to bedrock after the rich deposits of gold that are thought to be there. They had flumed the creek away from its channel and turned it onto a waterwheel that was to furnish the power to pump things dry as they went down. They had just completed their work and everything was running nicely when a heavy rain raised the creek and sent a log through the dam, leaving it in a badly delapidated condition. The gentlemen will not try to repair the damage this fall, owing to the lateness of the season, but will try to save the work they have already done and start in again as soon as spring opens.—Port Orford Tribune.

CURRY COUNTY SICK.

Reports from San Francisco say that Alf Caughell has about recovered from his operation for appendicitis, and that Fred Caughell will not have to undergo an operation, the doctors claiming that his is stomach trouble and not appendicitis as was first thought. He is under treatment for stomach trouble and is gaining in strength and flesh. Mrs. Jas. Kennedy is at the same hospital as the Caughell boys, undergoing treatment for cancer.—Gold Beach Globe.

RUNAWAY NEAR MYRTLE POINT

FOUR-HORSE TEAM DUMPS LOAD OFF GRADE, INJURING ONE OF ANIMALS. OTHER NEWS OF MYRTLE POINT.

(Special to The Times.)

MYRTLE POINT, Or., Oct. 27.—A big runaway causing little damage occurred near Jim Hobson's place on North Fork. Jim says that while his man was driving four horses to a load of thirty-six bales of hay, the horses became scared and began to run. One of the wheel horses jumped over the stretcher causing load, horses and all to fall off a culvert six feet high. One horse had its head severely cut but no other serious damage was done. The boys had to reload the thirty-six bales.

Dr. C. R. Bennett is adding another pretty cottage to our group of bungalow residences on the hill.

O. A. Coleman, of North Fork, returned Thursday from a six-weeks' trip, visiting Portland, Seattle, Moscow, Lewiston, Ellensburg and other principal points in the Northwest, coming home via Eugene and Roseburg. Mrs. Coleman and their sons accompanied him.

A new meat market has been opened on Fourth street between Spence and Maple, by Frank Davis, of Marshfield, who was formerly in business here.

CURRY COUNTY SHEEP.

One of the best bands of mutton sheep ever driven out of Curry County went through Port Orford one day last week. They were bought by a Portland butcher by the name of Swingle, and were being driven to Roseburg from whence they will be shipped by train. About half of the band, which numbered 900, were bought from the Wedderburn Trading Company, and the rest were picked up in the Rogue River country and as far south as Pistol River. It was claimed that there were a number of wethers in the lot that would dress 150 pounds, and one that it was thought would go close to 200 pounds.—Port Orford Tribune.

WED IN CURRY.

Married—At Port Orford, Wednesday, October 15, 1913, Willis T. White, Jr., and Miss Susie Neer, of Myrtle Point, Justice Wright officiating. Mr. White is one of Curry County's foremost stockmen and the bride is one of Coos County's prominent school teachers.—Gold Beach Globe.

CURRY COUNTY VOTE.

W. T. White registered ninety voters in Port Orford precinct; twenty-five of whom were women. Word comes from Checto that 250 registered in that precinct—a concrete number.—Port Orford Tribune.

CURRY COUNTY WRESTLER DEFEATS SIX MEN

BANDON, Ore., Oct. 24.—Last Saturday M. G. Lutsey, of Curry County, wrestled against six wrestlers of note, throwing them all in ninety minutes. The men matched against Lutsey included Smiling Dutch, 145 pounds; Jack White, lightweight champion of California, 134; R. Casey, 162; Lester Donaldson, 160; Harry Lockwood, 150, and G. Chapman. Lutsey's weight is 158 pounds. G. Chapman lasted twenty-three minutes and seven seconds. Smiling Dutch was the only man who acted on the aggressive, placing Lutsey in some apparently tight places for the first few minutes of the bout. The terms of the match were that Lutsey was to throw all the six men in an hour. After resting for an hour, Lutsey had a bout with Jack White for a purse of $1000. Lutsey to throw White in ten minutes to win, but he lost. M. G. Lutsey trained for two years under Gotch and Miller at St. Paul. He left there and came to Curry County, since which time he has entered many matches and has only been thrown once. This was by Smiling Dutch. Lutsey is arranging to wrestle Gordon this winter.

IT DOES PAY TO KNOW THE STORES

So great a part of every income is spent in stores, that it would seem that, next to "man-kind," "the proper study is stores!"

To the readers of THE TIMES ads, the stores take on individual characters—they become familiar—they come to be UNDERSTOOD. The Value-giving "habits" of each store—and the service rendered by each are known, and rightly valued.

The ad-reader knows an exaggerated statement by an educated instinct, and an ad that comes to the borderline of misrepresentation is a species of store-suicide.

Every merchant appreciates the NECESSITY of "making good" every advertised price concession—as well as the further NECESSITY of making price-concessions that are real enough to be notable enough to make the store's advertising WORTH answering.

Thus the readers of THE TIMES ads keep in touch with ALL buying opportunities in the stores of the city that make for economy in the home expenses—and thus, to "know the stores" DOES PAY!
