A NEIGHBORHOOD DANCE.

(Written for The Times.)

They all went up to the dance last night. 'Twas just above the bridge; It wasn't as far as it might have been. For it might have been over the ridge.

Some of them came on horseback, yes, In lumber wagons a few; Most of them came afoot through the mud, In buggies a couple or two.

The room was small in a new-built house; The floor was not half bad; And the crowd was enough for a larger place, So a very nice time was had.

The music was "so-so"—I guess that is right— 'Twas furnished by fiddlers three, And all of them scrubs, the dancers would say, So every one else should agree.

They danced the schottische, and waltzes all right, And the two-step, or possibly three; The quadrilles were many, a polka or two— 'Twas right up to date, you will see.

Some of the best ones came in a bit late, And staying a little while, Were hurried off home by the strong hand of fate, Which seems to be quite the style.

They danced and ate, and tended the kids Located in beds and chairs; Sometimes they danced with other men's wives, Sometimes they danced in pairs.

The supper was royal—fit for a king, But that is always the case, To the little home dances we always enjoy, Most come with a smiling face.

Some of them danced till about worn out; Some got a fall or two; Some would have liked to dance more yet— Which of the "some" are you?

Then all come out to the jamboree When the big new hall is done, We'll have better music, a bigger floor, But will there be any more fun? —Hearsay.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Grade Six B of the Central School will have some close competitors for spelling honors in the school if some of the other grades can keep the pace. Grades Four A, Six A and Seven B of the high school made some remarkable gains in general average this week, several other grades are saying little but working hard. The competitive tests come the last week of the second month.

Speed tests in the manipulation of easy number combinations are receiving constant attention in Grades Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth.

It will be the policy of the school this year to make little departure from the regular work at the Christmas season. The lessons of the season will be taught and the application of the same emphasized, but no time will be given to trees in the grades above the second.

This policy of the school will give the churches of the city an opportunity to make more use of the children and so intensify the quality of their own Christmas programs.

Grades in the school deserving honorable mention for improvement in penmanship are the fourth and seventh of the Central School; the fifth B and seventh in the high school.

The best work in music is done in the first five grades. Those deserving honorable mention for good work are fifth grade Central School and fourth grade High School.

Wish that every grade pupil in our schools might have heard the concert given by the 400 fourth and fifth graders of the Salt Lake City schools at the N. E. A. last summer. It was something never to be forgotten for its excellence.

Rapid progress is being made by the penmanship class in the High School. Special improvement is noticeable since the third week. The change from wrong movements to correct ones is made slowly but most of the class is making sure progress. The Palmer system is being taught.

SOUTH MARSHFIELD SCHOOL

Eighth Grade.

Pupils making 100 in the weekly test follow: Blanche Schroeder, Hazel Cook, George Englund and Ethel Lingo. Those making 98: Mildred Bundy, Mary Holland, Ernest Burrows, De Forrest Mason, Wilfred McLain and Helen Rees. In an arithmetic test the best papers were handed in by George Englund, Guy Clausen, Helen Rees, Hazel Cook and Lloyd Le Mieux. Studies in water color this week were finished by Ethel Lingo, Lulu Benson, Mary Holland, Zelle Wallace and Helen Cook.

First Grade.

Ruth Jarvis was transferred to the Central building this week. Mrs. Hildebrand and Mr. Hullin were visitors in our room this week.

Second Grade.

Pupils who received 100 per cent in written spelling during the week: Edith Anderson, Virginia Gosney, Ruth Hopson, Augustus Hoffman, Myrtle Johnson, Florence Kardell, Jarl Nerdrum, Anna Ogren, Eli Sampson, Josephine Savage, George Scott, Lorna Wilson, Jack Sacchi and Paul Johnson won in the oral contest, which was held Tuesday.

Fourth Grade.

Those having won first place in the daily arithmetic contest for the week were: Ervin Storm, Mabel Sneddon (two days) and Arnold Sampson. The winner of the weekly review contest was Mabelle McLaughlin.

Those having perfect papers in the first month's spelling test of 50 words were: Arnold Sampson, Helen Perkins, Dorothy Bassford, Mabel Sneddon and Ervin Storm.

Lower Fifth Grade.

Louise Gidley, Ferdinand Lecocq, Arthur Hilstrom and Elmer Hildebrand are the best in arithmetic.

Mrs. Hildebrand visited this week.

Mr. Dorsey Kreitzer conducted a recitation in arithmetic Thursday morning of this week.

Fifth A and Sixth B

A spelling contest between the Fifth A and Sixth B resulted in a victory for the fifth. The Fifth A and Sixth B had a short program Friday afternoon. Those who took part were the pupils who did some of the best work in English. Compositions were read by Lillian Seaman and Howard McLaughlin. Poems, "The Corn Song" and "The Builders" were recited by Gladys Ferrey and Edith Ayre.

Sixth Grade.

The Sixth A and Seventh B grades in the South Marshfield school had a test in spelling on Thursday. Those in the Seventh making grades of 90 per cent or more were: Ruth Anderson, Charles Doane, Ernest Drews, John Dye, Glenda Farrell, Helen Gulovsen, Harold Haines, George Hansen, Wil-

GIVE SCORES OF FOOTBALL

O. A. C. Overwhelmingly Defeated by Washington Saturday—Other Games.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) Local football enthusiasts are much interested in the big victory which Washington won over Oregon Aggies Saturday. Fawcett and some of the other football authorities had been prophesying that Washington would win only by three to six points.

Frank D. Cohan, a Washington alumnus, says that a victory is great, especially after Manager Stewart had to give in and play Mays.

The scores of the principal games of interest Saturday were: Washington 47, O. A. C. 9. Oregon 27, Idaho 9. Multnomah 7, Pullman 9. Pennsylvania 7, Carlisle 7. Yale 9, Washington-Jefferson 0. Cornell 7, Pittsburg 29. Harvard 29, Pennsylvania State 0. Navy 17, Six Maryland Aggies 0. Dartmouth 6, Princeton 0.

WILL NOT PLAY CARLISLE TEAM

All-Star Washington Team Has Abandoned Plan to Bring Indians to the West.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—The project of bringing the Carlisle Indian football team to Seattle late this season to meet the All-Star Washington team has practically been abandoned. This announcement was made by Graduate Manager Ralph A. Horr of Washington University.

FIND COAL IN TUNNEL.

The Florence West says: Wednesday afternoon the men working at railroad tunnel No. 3 between South Slough and Maple Creek found a nice vein of coal where they are blasting out for the tunnel. The vein is about 10 inches thick and is clear soil of a good quality.

The entrance to the tunnel is on the Ferguson ranch at Alder Ridge, and is only a short distance from where Mr. Ferguson has been opening a tunnel into the same hill in the hope of finding coal in paying quantities.

The head of the tunnel is now about 65 feet underground and the bench is about ten feet.

ma Hoagland, Thelma Lyons, Gertrude Krommings, Frances Lang, Mary McArthur, Augusta Micklem, Carol Rahkopf, Arthur Wheat and Ernest Wheat. Those in the Sixth grade of 90 per cent or more were: Eugene Kelley, Reginald McGarber and Everett Nordstrom.
