FLORENCE CITIZENS DEPORT NINE I. W. W. LEADERS TODAY

Taken from Town and Started Northward on Sandspit—Told Not to Return.

PRACTICALLY ENTIRE COMMUNITY JOINED IN

Deportation Followed a Mass Meeting Last Night—Had Threatened Tie-up.

NAMES OF MEN WHO WERE DEPORTED

(Special to The Times.) FLORENCE, Or., Nov. 14.—The following were part of the men deported today, only seven I. W. W. members being left in this town: Ed Ross, of Eugene, Secretary of Local I. W. W. 88, Organizer; Wm. Duggan, Ed Hooper, Geo. Bradley, Mark Tepozac. Names of other four not obtainable.

(Special to The Times)

FLORENCE, Or., Nov. 14.—Nine members of the I. W. W. were deported from here at noon today by a crowd of the business men of Florence and other residents of the community. The action followed a mass meeting held last evening. The deportation took place without any signs of violence and the ousted I. W. W.'s made no special resistance. They were escorted by a number of the citizens to the North Spit and started up the coast northward towards Yaquina. Before departing, they were told that Florence and community had no room for the I. W. W. and their pernicious teachings, and not to come back until they disowned that organization. The action resulted from threats by the I. W. W. that they would tie up the mills, camps and railroad construction work in this vicinity unless their demands for a shorter day, better pay, better conditions, etc., were granted, but none of which were specified.

The I. W. W. organizers have been busy among the mill employes and the other workmen in this vicinity for some time, and had organized a local branch here which was designed as "No. 8." They had secured some members, and the ring-leaders had bonded together. The nine deported were the active ones who had been sent in from Eugene and along the railroad work. The business men and citizens felt that if they were allowed to continue much longer that the community would suffer severely. Some men who had witnessed the deportations in Coos County last summer were here today and saw the local deportation, but did not actively participate in it. Business was practically suspended about noon, when the citizens' committee were conducting the deportation.

FIVE VESSELS THOUGHT LOST

Four Others Have Not Been Heard From—Additional News of Lake Storm.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) PORT HURON, Nov. 14.—With five big steamers given up for lost with all on board and practically all hope abandoned for four others that encountered the storm early this week, interest is centered again today on the identity of the overturned freighter which lies in Lake Huron a few miles northeast of here. Weather conditions indicated today that it would be possible for a diver to go down and examine the derelict before night. Five steamers given up for lost are John E. McGean and Charles S. Price, of Cleveland, and the James S. Carruthers, Regina and Wexford, all of Toronto. Four others, the destruction of which has not been so definitely determined, are the Harry B. Smith, Hydrus, Argus and Isaac M. Scott, all of Cleveland.

ANOTHER OVERTURNED SHIP REPORTED ON LAKE HURON

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) PORT TOWNSEND, Nov. 14.—Two more vessels were added to the toll of those lost in the heavy gale the first of the week. The Henry B. Smith was sunk in Lake Superior, and the freighter Major was abandoned off Whitefish Point. The Major's crew of eighteen were rescued by the steamer Byern. A message indicates that Lake Huron holds another overturned mystery ship, besides the one near here, a red-bottomed vessel having been reported off Harbor Beach.

WILL REVOKE GEER PAROLE

Former Restaurant Man and Others Cited to Explain Reports of Gambling.

M. Geer, formerly one of the proprietors of the Blanco cafe, who is out on parole on the charge of having sold liquor to a number of Marshfield boys in the recent cafe-liquor cases, has been cited to appear before Judge Coke at Coquille next Tuesday to show reason why his parole should not be revoked. The notice was served at the instance of County Attorney Liljeqvist, who had been informed by the officers that Geer had recently been playing cards. A number of witnesses will be summoned, and it is proposed to prosecute all who have been involved in the card games. Geer will be asked to make a clean breast of the whole affair at the hearing and while his evidence is not necessary, his attitude will probably have some effect on the sentence he receives.

2500 EMPLOYEES OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC STRIKE IN TEXAS

Traffic Suspended on Southern Pacific Lines Between El Paso and New Orleans—Government Mediation.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 14.—No disorder was reported early today among the 2500 skilled employes in the operating department of the Southern Pacific lines between El Paso and New Orleans, who went on strike last night. Aside from two transcontinental trains said to be en route, reports indicated a general suspension of traffic. Just before the walkout went into effect, an offer for government mediation was received at union headquarters. Union leaders replied that the only possible way to avoid a strike was for the railroad to meet a federated committee representing the four unions involved, the engineers, conductors, firemen and trainmen. Such a conference has been the company's main point of objection during the negotiations. The company was today preparing to install strike breakers with the aim of restoring passenger train service. Places to house such employes are said to have been arranged along the Sunset lines.

PROFIT SHARING ONLY SOLUTION SAME DATES FOR CONVENTIONS

Says Condition of Working People Has Become Intolerable—Proposes Remedy.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) BOSTON, Nov. 14.—Profit-sharing seems to afford the only way out of the intolerable conditions of industrial strife, is the opinion of President Emeritus Charles W. Elliot, of Harvard University. "Democracy plus the wage system, has produced a state of affairs in this country which are intolerable," he said, addressing a club of printing-house craftsmen. "The two great forces of capital and labor are organized into hostile camps, both grown strong. Something fundamental in itself must be done to relieve the situation. The only way to bring efficiency is to give the same motives to both capital and labor. Profit-sharing will make every man take an interest in his work."

OSWALD HANSEL HANGED TODAY

Accused of Killing Judge Frank J. Taylor in Astoria Last Summer—Collapsed Before Execution--Attempts Suicide

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 14.—Oswald C. Hansel was hanged at the state penitentiary at Salem at 8:45 this morning. The man collapsed and had to be carried to the gallows by prison employes. Early when he found that clemency was not to be extended, Hansel sought to kill himself, lacerating his throat and wrist. Several main arteries in the wrist were cut with the top of a tin tobacco can, but he immediately called the guard, as his religious views were opposed to self murder. Hansel paid the death penalty for murdering Judge Frank J. Taylor on the streets of Astoria last month. He had accused Judge Taylor of drafting a divorce complaint for his wife.

Lectures in Washington City and Pays Respects to Present Chief Executive.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—Former President Taft visited at the White House today. He came to town to lecture before the National Geographic Society. "I just came to pay my respects," he said to Secretary Tumulty. "Please take my card to the President and tell him so. I know he is a busy man, so I don't want to trouble him." Wilson directed that his predecessor be ushered in immediately, and the two chatted a few minutes. Judge Coke today handed down a decision in the case of Mrs. F. K. Gettins vs. the Menasha Woodware Company and Southern Oregon Company, involving 160 acres of land on Coos River. He set aside an old tax title and an old judgment quieting title on the grounds of serious defects in the actions and the land now goes to Mrs. Gettins. The property was originally bought by John Yoakam at a tax sale and he sold it to L. D. Smith. Later L. D. Smith sold the property, which has considerable timber, to the Menasha Company.

TENSION RELIEVED TODAY IN THE MEXICAN SITUATION

REBELS WAIT U. S. DECISION

CONSTITUTIONALISTS ARE HOPEFUL THAT AMERICAN ACTION WILL AID THEIR CAUSE—EXPECT EMBARGO RAISED SOON.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) NOGALES, Nov. 14.—Word from Washington was eagerly awaited at the headquarters of the Constitutionalists here today, and adherents of General Carranza believed that the plans of the American administration, when fully revealed, could not fail to be advantageous to the Constitutionalists' cause. Opinion was held here that the withdrawal of John Lind from Mexico City and the conference between William Bayard Hale and General Carranza indicate that this border town would be the theater of important events in the near future. It was deemed virtually certain that the embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition across the border would be lifted soon. Carranza's Generals expressed the utmost confidence in their ability to eliminate Huerta from the situation were they given sufficient ammunition. AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVE STILL CONFERS WITH REBELS (By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) NOGALES, Nov. 14.—General Carranza, the Constitutionalist leader, and William B. Hale, the president's special envoy, renewed the conference today. Neither would give out any information.

CONSTITUTIONALISTS CAPTURE CULIACAN

Constitutionalist Leader and William Bayard Hale Continue Conference.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—Confidence in the early accomplishment of the aims of the United States in Mexico was expressed by Charge d'Affairs O'Shaughnessy. Overtures made by the Mexican Minister of the Interior, Manuel Garza Aldape, yesterday are taken as evidence that Huerta is ready to recede from the stand he has previously taken. Secretary of State Bryan today declared that none of the instructions to John Lind contained any statement of the alternative the United States would pursue in the event of Huerta's failure to meet the demands of this government. Bryan declined to say what course of action this country would pursue if the Mexican Congress convened tomorrow in the face of representations made that the United States will not recognize as legal any of the acts of that body. It was understood that O'Shaughnessy was expected to have a further conference today with Aldape. At this conference it was expected that the ideas of Washington officials as to the wisdom of John Lind returning from Vera Cruz to the Federal capital, or receiving a committee representing Huerta, be made known to representatives of the provisional President. Dispatches from Washington published here indicate a probable settlement of the Mexican question without resort to arms, which hitherto seemed a forlorn hope. It has created an atmosphere of optimism and relieved the tension.

REBELS TAKE AND OCCUPY ANOTHER STATE CAPITAL

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) TUSCON, Nov. 14.—Cullacan, capital of the state of Sinaloa, was captured yesterday by the Constitutionalists. This was announced at military headquarters here in a telegram from General Alvaro Obregon, who commanded the insurgents, Felipe Riveros, Governor of Sinaloa, who was deposed by Huerta, was reinstated. Mazatlan now is the only city in Sinaloa remaining in the hands of the Federals.

In the assault on Cullacan, twenty were killed and eighty wounded, according to figures given out by General Obregon, who was slightly wounded himself. Obregon confirmed the death of Colonel Garmendia, formerly an officer of the regular army, and who shot down the army colonel who attempted to arrest President Madero during the Felix Diaz uprising in Mexico City. Cullacan is the capital of the state adjoining Sonora on the Pacific Coast. Already the insurgents hold Cullacan's seaport. This leaves Mazatlan, the principal seaport of Sinaloa and Guaymas, on the Gulf of California, and the port of Sonora, the only important points on the West coast still held by the Federals. If the city of Chihuahua falls, the Constitutionalists will hold three border capitals and three coast states, forming a wedge in Northwestern Mexico.
