CHASE FOR JUDGE.
Announcement that Judge J. C. Hall would not be a candidate to succeed himself, which announcement was made exclusively by the Coquille Sentinel, has brought the subject into the limelight, and being the Hon. W. C. Chase, of this city, and Judge A. H. Derbyshire, of North Bend.—Coquille Sentinel.

TO CLOSE SHOWS.

Coquille Churches Oppose Moving Pictures on Sunday.
The several churches of Coquille at their morning services last Sunday voted on a resolution calling for the petitioning of the City Council to close picture shows on Sundays, and in each instance the resolution was unanimously adopted. The ministers of the city held a meeting Tuesday forenoon, and after thoroughly discussing the situation prepared a petition to the Council in accordance with the resolution, and this will be circulated generally within a few days.—Coquille Sentinel.

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALLPOX

The home of Robert Irvine, on Second street, is quarantined, one of the children having smallpox. It was told at the Irvine home on Tuesday that the child had had the disease nine days before being quarantined, and that the malady had practically subsided without ill effects.—Coquille Sentinel.

MAKING MUCH BUTTER.

The Coquille Valley Creamery is making 25,000 pounds of butter per month, which may be considered a good output for this season of the year.—Coquille Sentinel.

DEAL FALLS THROUGH.

Owing to some misunderstanding over the deal, Mr. Fredericks, who several months ago bought the Bunch ranch at $8,500, has relinquished the place to Mrs. Bunch and returned to the Johnson ranch up the river, on which he holds a lease until next March. Nick Johnson, who was "holding down" the lease for Mr. Fredericks, has moved back to his pretty bungalow on First street.—Coquille Sentinel.

EPIDEMIC IN CURRY.

The measles and whooping cough are still prevalent in the Rogue River country. There are six cases of measles in the home of J. G. Porterfield, at Euchre Creek. IS FINED FOR WEDDING DELAY

J. C. Rumpf, of Coquille, Punished for Interfering With Marshfield Couple.

The Coquille Sentinel says: "Ed Stiekney was arraigned before Magistrate J. S. Lawrence on Monday charged with assault, to which he pleaded guilty, and promptly paid an assessment of $10. Early that morning J. C. Rumpf and a Miss Johnson came to Coquille from Marshfield and procured a license to wed, after securing which precious document they went to the Skookum restaurant and rented a room. While there engaged in conversation with some acquaintances, Stiekney entered and addressed himself to Miss Johnson with, "Hello, sweetheart!" Naturally this ruffled Rumpf's feathers and he ordered the intruder from the room, a rough house following. Rumpf afterward swore out a warrant for Stiekney and he was arrested.

Immediately after the magistrate had tossed the sawbuck into the municipality's exchequer, there came a request for Judge Lawrence to perform the marriage ceremony, but he declined with thanks and rustled the Rev. Thomas, who did the job in his usual artistic manner.

SCHETTER RETIRES.

CATCHES WILD CAT.

Rev. Jones, of Four Mile, found evidence of some animal coming around his buildings after night and supposing it to be a skunk, he set a small steel trap for the prowler. When he looked for the trap the next morning it was missing, but with the aid of his dog, he soon located it and found it was holding down a large wild cat. The dog is only an 8-months-old pup, but he was eager to tackle "big game," and the trap being only a number 1 size it made a rather ticklish situation until Mr. Jones put a couple of 22s into the cat's head, which quieted things down some.—Bandon Surf.

E. W. Dean made a trip to Gold Beach last week in connection with his position as Deputy Sheriff, in charge of Lib Haines' property after the shooting affair at Eckley. Haines was a bachelor, about fifty years of age, and leaves an estate valued at approximately $10,000.—Gold Beach Globe.

The Cost of Living and Advertising

A very few people get the impression that advertising adds to the cost of goods. The truth is that the very opposite is true. The goods that are advertised are invariably the cheapest and best.

The only store that cannot afford to advertise is the one that gets higher prices or sells inferior goods. The town where the cost of living is the cheapest is always the one where the stores advertise their prices.

Merchandise that is advertised can always be sold cheaper than that which is not if it has quality. It is generally admitted that Ivory Soap is of the highest quality and you get a bigger bar for a nickel than of any other kind of equal grade. And yet more money is spent for advertising Ivory Soap than any other.

Why? Because advertising makes it possible to sell such enormous quantities of Ivory Soap at so little cost of salesmen's time that dealers cannot afford not to keep it.

This saving of time of salesmen is the real secret of all advertising. Advertising is salesmanship on paper and the goods are sold before the customer comes to the store. One salesman can sell ten times the amount of goods in the same length of time it takes to explain and argue about the non-advertised brands. But no article can be successfully advertised unless it has merit for it is the value of established business that makes advertising pay.

Whenever you find a town where the merchants don't advertise there is always a suspicion that the cost of living is higher than it might be, for it costs the merchant who does not advertise more to do business. His business is not one of quick sales and small profits for he cannot afford to advertise if his prices are too high or the quality too low.

Coos Bay has some live merchants who are not afraid to advertise and quote prices in competition with stores everywhere. If you are not trading with an advertising merchant watch the advertising columns of all the papers you read and compare the prices you pay with the bills you receive.

And if you want to learn more about advertising and map out a campaign for your own business consult the advertising man on The Times. He has not only ideas but experience.
