INSPECT WORK ON RAILROAD

Thomas Dixon Says Good Progress Is Being Made On Tunnel.

Thomas Dixon, who has general supervision of the construction of the Coos Bay and Eugene line for the McArthur Perks company, arrived here yesterday from Eugene, coming in via Drain and Gardiner and later inspecting the big tunnel at Schofield. He is simply on an inspection trip and may remain here until Monday looking over the work at this end of the line.

NO BRIDGE ORDERS.

Mr. Dixon said that no word had been received concerning the starting of construction on the bridge across Coos Bay. He said that they had been expecting orders to have it started. Mr. Dixon is inclined to think that the bridge may be a more difficult job and require more time than some have anticipated.

TUNNEL PROGRESS.

Mr. Dixon states that they are making good progress on the Schofield tunnel. So far they are working simply from the north end. They are in about 1000 feet. One month they made about 180 feet progress on the tunnel. They have practically completed the clearing of the south approach so that they can start the underground work most any time. They may open it up before long and work the tunnel between 150 and 175 feet progress at each end each month. It would take considerably less than a year to complete the 3200 feet more of tunnel work that remains. Mr. Dixon says there is nothing to the report that they cannot work as well from the south entrance as the north.

LAYING RAILS NOW.

The Southern Pacific has completed laying rails as far as Noti and also finished the surfacing. The wet weather may delay them so that they will not be able to finish the laying of rails from the Noti tunnel to Madleton before spring.

Mr. Dixon has not been over the work around Florence since he made the trip in company with the party of officials some time ago.

WAS SPANISH WAR VETERAN

P. Heckmeier, Who Died From Fall, Leaves Wife and Family in San Francisco.

Further particulars in regard to P. Heckmeier, the man who fell from the steamer Redondo into the harbor yesterday and died a few minutes later, are to the effect that he was a Spanish war veteran and leaves a wife and family at his home, 225 Anderson street, San Francisco. The theory that he was intoxicated when he tried to board the vessel by way of her deckload of lumber is doubted by acquaintances he had in this city. During the morning he called on Mrs. Barbara Preuss, with whom he had been acquainted in Germany years ago, before he came to America.

HECKMEIER HAD BEEN WORKING IN THE VALLEY FOR THE LAST THREE MONTHS AND APPEARED TO BE ALL RIGHT WHEN HE VISITED MRS. PREUSS YESTERDAY THAT THERE WERE INDICATIONS THAT THE MAN HAD HAD AN ATTACK OF ANOXYA, SUPPOSED TO HAVE BROUGHT ON WHILE HE WAS TRYING TO CLIMB ABOARD THE REDONDO, ON WHICH HE HAD SECURED A PASSAGE.

The dead man had fought under the Stars and Stripes in the capture of the Philippines, and it is expected that the Spanish War Veterans of San Francisco, where the body will be shipped, will look after the funeral arrangements.

DOG GOT FUR.—Mrs. Wm. Sullivan, of Knob Hill this morning had a parcel post package containing furs delivered at her home by Mail Carrier Sneddon. No one was at home at the time and Mr. Sneddon left it on the porch with the other mail. Some dogs playing around smelled the fur, chewed the corner off the pasteboard box and got away with the fur, leaving only an empty, mutilated box for Mrs. Sullivan. It has not been found yet. Mail Carrier Sneddon says that if the shipper had only insured the package at an extra cost of eight cents, the box would not have been left until Mrs. Sullivan was there. Anyway, a receipt is being put up to guard against further trouble, and other citizens are warned to profit by this experience.

Feminine Clothing Found With Oregon Girl's School Book Alongside Revolver.

TEACHER THOUGHT DEAD ALIVE NEAR HARRISBURG

Illinois and Oregon Police Seek Clues to Evidence of Horrible Crime.

AURORA, Ill., Nov. 22.—A process of elimination today only served to intensify the mystery of murder traces, of which in the form of a blood stained school book, a similarly discolored section of a woman's undergarment and a revolver, were found in a lumber-laden box car here yesterday.

Miss Elsie Day, of Springfield, Oregon, owner of the book, was found last night at Des Moines. She thought the murdered woman might have been Miss Alice McCormack, a school teacher, but the latter is reported alive and well at Harrisburg, Oregon, today.

The police are proceeding on the theory that the woman was murdered and the clothing stowed in the car with the incriminating revolver. Some of the clothing could have worked out of the open end of a door near which it lay, they think.

No Explanation Given.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., Nov. 22.—No explanation could be given at the offices of the South Bend Mills and Timber Company of finding blood-stained articles in a car of lumber and shipped by them to Aurora. All doors were securely fastened and sealed when the car left the mill. Mill men think it was probably broken into after it left South Bend.

Never Owned Books.

PORTLAND, Nov. 22.—Miss McCormack positively denied she ever had the German grammar bearing her friend's name. She has been teaching school near Harrisburg since October 6 and has not been away from the neighborhood since that date.

Powell retains his interest in the business, but the conduct of the establishment will be in charge of Mr. Reise. Mr. Reise has of late been a resident of the Yakima Valley section, but became interested in the Coos Bay section and an investigation of its prospects proved so flattering that when the opportunity for securing an interest in the Twin City Laundry presented itself he promptly accepted.
