little rough, but not disagreeable and everyone was feeling fine.

Begins Suit.—Hall & Hall, through R. O. Graves, have begun suit against Eugene O'Connell for $146 which they allege is due them on account. The case has been filed in Justice Pennock's court. Mr. O'Connell, it is said, alleges that he does not owe them. The case has not been set for trial yet.

Prettiest Girl.—Alex Campbell has received a copy of a paper from Riverside, Calif., stating that his little niece, Helen Drew, was awarded a prize in a recent baby show there for being the prettiest girl under one year old. Her mother will be remembered as Miss Myra Campbell, whose husband is editor of the Riverside Press.

Buy Property.—Mr. McCloskey, of Juneau, Alaska, has closed a deal with H. J. Kimball of the Zimmer estate for the purchase of a tract 100x325 on North Front street, near the old stove mill, for $6500. The property has 100 feet water frontage and it is said that Mr. McCloskey, who is reported to be well-to-do, will improve it at once.

New Parish.—The Portland Oregonian contains a picture of the Rev. Father F. J. Springer, formerly of North Bend, and states that he has been appointed to the Roy Parish, which includes Banks, North Plains and other small communities in that section. He formerly was pastor in that community and his return there is reported to be very gratifying to his congregation.

Dancing School.—Earl Murphy, who recently came here with his parents, has leased the Odd Fellows Hall and will open a dancing academy there this week. Mr. Murphy is highly recommended and has all the late dances. He will have classes for children and grownups. His father will assist him, the latter being an excellent pianist, as well as an accomplished band musician.

Open Branch.—Don V. Bowman and O. C. Totten of Totten's Superior Cleaning Works at North Bend, have opened a branch in Marshfield at 132 Front street. They have arranged for a delivery service here, calling for and delivering goods. They have a fine plant at North Bend and are prepared to do all kinds of work in excellent shape and promptly. They are planning to serve all of Coos county.

Sign Firms Combine.—The Ward Sign company and the Lawhorne Sign Shop concern signed articles yesterday afternoon by which the two firms combined as one and they will do business hereafter under the firm name of the Ward-Lawhorne Sign company, with the place of business at 58 Anderson street. The partners are Roy Lawhorne, the pioneer brush artist in Marshfield, and J. Ward, formerly of Arizona.

Knox Pleads Guilty.—J. S. Knox, who was arrested last week on the charge of appearing on the streets in a drunken condition, and who demanded a trial, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon before Recorder Butler after preparations had been made to try the case. He also refuted charges that he had been declaring the police had retained money taken from him when arrested. He was fined $10.

Buy Lots.—Duncan Ferguson yesterday closed the deal with Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Tower for the purchase of lots on North Eighth street. They were the lots that J. R. Tower said were not worth the assessment for improving the street. Councilman Ferguson said that he did not want to see the remonstrance held up by this remonstrance and said that he would buy them. Yesterday he closed the deal and now the improvement of North Eighth through Ferndale is assured.

George Haines Injured.—While he was walking through the feed warehouse of his father, A. T. Haines, George Haines had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday. A wagon seat, loaded fifteen feet high on top of bales of hay, slipped and dropped on his neck with such force that he was unconscious for a moment, and a bale of hay landed on his hip, bruising him severely. He is covered quickly, however, and is around today suffering from some bad bruises with considerable pluck.

had an exciting experience the night of the recent storm, which has just come to light. Mr. Teppert was on his way down town and when at the corner of Central avenue and Fifth street the wind grew so strong that he seized a firmer hold on his umbrella. Just then a gust struck him which lifted him off his feet and nearly hurled him headlong through the plate glass of Cook's Grocery. The electric wires were loosened and Mr. Teppert also became the center of a vivid electrical display. Those who saw feared he might be killed, but he escaped without a scratch. In the melee his hat and umbrella disappeared and have not been seen since, but Max says he was glad to escape even with his shoes.

HERE WITH BRIDE.

Marriage of S. A. Carmichael and Miss Ruth Felter at Bandon.
S. A. Carmichael and bride have been stopping at the Chandler for a few days while here on their honeymoon trip. Mr. Carmichael is a well-known timber cruiser, having recently been in the employ of Dennis McCarthy on the Coos County cruise, and is a member of the Elks lodge and has been given a merry reception. Concerning the nuptials at Bandon, the Recorder says:

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Felter yesterday at 10 o'clock when their daughter, Ella Ruth Felter, was united in marriage to Mr. S. A. Carmichael of Marshfield, Rev. H. C. Hartranft officiating.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk mull, trimmed with white fur and pearl, and carried a bouquet of roses furnished from Coquille, and the table bouquet of pink roses and ferns was the gift of Mrs. D. L. P. Sorenson. Her only ornament was an Ivory brooch, the gift of her oldest brother and brought from Yokohama.

Only the family and a few immediate friends were present. Miss Viola Beyerle was bridesmaid and Sidney Williams acted as best man. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Everet Slagle of Coquille; Mrs. Lena Cochran of Coquille; Ruffel Nasburg of Marshfield; Messrs. and Mesdames Leonard Hoover, Wilbur Hoover, R. A. Felter and Mrs. Charles Felter.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael were the recipients of many beautiful presents as tokens of the high esteem in which they are held. The happy couple left this morning for Marshfield for a short honeymoon trip.
