FAMILY OF HUERTA SECRETLY DEPART FROM MEXICO CITY

Dictator Sends Them to Vera Cruz and Himself Returns to Capital in Automobile.

ACTION INDICATES CRITICAL SITUATION

Army of Seven Thousand Rebels Nearing Chihuahua. Deserted by Federals.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] MEXICO CITY, Dec. 5.—The family of Provisional President Huerta is said to have gone secretly to Vera Cruz November 30, and are now living quietly in that city, where their presence is known to only a few intimates. The departure of the Huerta family on that date on a special train gave rise to a report that the President himself had left Mexico City. The report is based on the fact that he boarded the special and accompanied his family as far as Texcoco, returning later to the capital in an automobile.

ARMY NEARS CHIHUAHUA.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] JUAREZ, Dec. 5.—Seven thousand and troops of Villa's command were within a few miles of Chihuahua today, but at 10:30 had not entered the city. Villa regards the capture of the city as a formality, as the Civil Governor was ordered by the deserting Federals' military commander, General Mercado, to turn the city over to the Constitutionalists.

To attend a conference with Carranza, head of the revolutionary government, Villa returned today from the vicinity of Chihuahua to Villa Ahumada, eighty miles south of the border. It was said that recent events, such as the evacuation of Chihuahua and the further extension of rebel territory, necessitated a more united understanding concerning the future operations of the Constitutionalists.

ALLIANCE IS IN AND OUT AGAIN

Makes Fine Passage up From Eureka and Departs for Portland Today.

Making a fine passage in clear weather up the coast from Eureka, the steamer Alliance, Captain Lofsted, arrived in the harbor this morning with a good list of passengers for this port and Portland. She left the California port at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and arrived in Coos Bay about 9 o'clock.

The Alliance spent several hours in North Bend, discharging and taking on general merchandise, and shifted to Marshfield at 12:30 p. m. Her passenger list is as follows:

James McHale, Patrick McHale, Michael McHale, Jack McHale, Thomas McHale, Mary McHale, J. T. Rhodes, Jesse W. Cole, T. Helms, W. Brown, H. S. Hart, Hazel Ashmere, White Fawn, S. Avery, Willard Wagner and J. Matters.

The Alliance was due to sail for Portland at 3 p. m. today with a good list of passengers and a small amount of freight.

Fighters Are Arrested.—Pete Parle, the street sweeper, and Lester McDonald, automobile driver, engaged in a mill in front of the Chandler today and were arrested. Although they were somewhat deaf to the law as represented by the local police, they will get their hearing in the morning at 9 o'clock before Recorder Butler, when witnesses will be permitted to describe the battle. It is understood that the right of way on the street was the cause of the scrap. McDonald sustained a knob on his head and his trousers were torn. Parle exhibited a cut lip and bruised eye.

FALL OF SNOW BLOCKS TRAINS

Nearly Thirty Inches of The Beautiful Blocks Street-Cars in Denver.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] DENVER, Colo., Dec. 5.—A mantle of approximately twenty-nine inches of snow covered the city this morning and the fall continued. The weather bureau could give no promise of immediate relief. All street car and suburban traffic is blocked. None of the railroads sent trains out of Denver since 6 o'clock last night and it was announced that no attempt would be made to move any before noon today.

REFUGEES IN TEXAS TREES

Hundreds Are Marooned by Flood and Death Toll Is Between Thirty and Forty.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 5.—Hundreds driven from their homes by the high water, are reported to have taken refuge in trees in the bottom lands about Hearne, the center of the Texas flood district. Many more refugees are marooned in Collin Gin houses awaiting rescue.

The flood death toll is estimated between thirty and forty today, but this number may be slightly increased because bodies have been reported floating in the current at several points. Hundreds of head of live stock have been drowned and scores of homes carried away. Despite last night's downpour conditions in north Texas are improved. Many flood victims are being taken into the town of Calvert, near Hearne, today.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] EL CENTRO, Cal., Dec. 5.—Two men charged with robbery of the Palo Verde bank at Blythe and the murder of the cashier, A. W. Bowles, last Tuesday, were arrested here today. They gave the names Hall Case and Tom Green and said they were motion picture cowboys from Southern California. They had $4466 in their money belts.

LIGHT FINES ARE IMPOSED

[Special to The Times.] COQUILLE, Ore., Dec. 5.—The offenders of the "moral law" from Marshfield and Bandon entered pleas of guilty when arraigned before Judge Morrow in Circuit Court yesterday on indictments charging them with being in and with conducting disorderly houses. ARREST SUSPECT IN MYRTLE POINT BANK ROBBERY CASE AT PROSPER

FRANK BONDS, WANTED IN YREKA, CAL., AND TRAVELING UNDER ALIASES, ARRESTED—DENIES CHARGES.

[Special to The Times.] COQUILLE, Ore., Dec. 5.—The Bond, who has been going under the alias of Woods and Smith, was arrested last night at Prosper as a suspect in the Myrtle Point bank robbery case. He is also held on suspicion of having stolen a fine team of horses belonging to A. E. Adelsperger from the Smith-Powers ranch at Rural, formerly the Wagner place, and another team from near Eckley.

Bonds was brought here today and placed in the county jail. He denies having been connected in any way with the bank robbery or the horse thefts.

He is wanted at Yreka, California, on the charge against him there is not known.

He was accompanied by his wife and two-year-old child. The circumstantial evidence against him is strong. He formerly worked for the Smith-Powers people and was discharged. Later he was employed at the Max Dement ranch above Myrtle Point. He came here about two months ago from California. He was reported to have secured a ticket to leave on the Speedwell. However, when arrested, he claimed to be going to work at Prosper.

He had only forty cents in his pocket when arrested. It is claimed that Bonds made overtures to various ones to go in with him on the bank robbery deal, but this he denies.

Deputy Sheriff Clyde Gage, who made the arrest, thinks the bank robbery evidence is strong and feels certain that he will at least be convicted of stealing Adelsperger's horses from the ranch.

Bonds is about forty years old and a hard looking customer.

GERMAN RULER ARSON SQUAD IS EXERTS POWER AT WORK AGAIN

Orders Transfer of Garrison and Speedy Court Martial of Riot Participants.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] DONAUERSCHINGEN, Germany, Dec. 5.—Emperor William ordered the transfer of the entire garrison at Zabern, Alsace, this afternoon, owing to trouble between the soldiers and citizens there. He also directed that the court martial proceedings in connection with the recent rioting be accelerated.

Suffragettes Charged With Setting Fire to Fine Mansion for Arrest of Leader.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] GLASGOW, Scotland, Dec. 5.—Kelly House, one of the finest mansions at Womys Bay, a suburb of Glasgow, was destroyed today. The fire was the work of the arson squad of militant suffragettes, and was apparently an act in revenge for the government's arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst.

CHANNEL BUOYS IN POOR SHAPE

Captain Macgenn Reports Whistling Buoy Out of Commission and Other Adrift.

Captain Macgenn, master of the steamer Breakwater, reports that the whistling buoy off the entrance to Coos Bay harbor is out of commission, and that it cannot be heard until it is only a few feet away. The whistling apparatus has succumbed to heavy weather and a combination of ailments.

The able skipper of the Southern Pacific steamer states that the combination gas and whistling buoy to be established off the entrance is not to be placed there until next spring, when the buoys are overhauled.

He said this morning that the two lights petitioned for and now being established near Jarvis landing and the Glasgow wharf, will complete ranges from the sea to Marshfield. He declares that lights established at the railroad dock and the bunkers would provide a direct course to and from the Smith mill slip.

Captain Macgenn, besides reporting that the end of the jetty has been sunk several feet more and the channel shoaled by the last few storms, declares that the jetty, or can buoy, has dragged considerably inward, in line with the jetty.

During the last trip of the Breakwater, following the stormy weather into which she had run when the President lost four persons, the passengers drafted resolutions thanking Captain Macgenn for the manner in which he handled his ship during the storm.

The three mistresses of the Bandon resorts were fined $100 each, which they promptly paid.

The inmates of the places also pleaded guilty and paid $50 apiece, two of them being from Josie Hoyt's place in Marshfield.

JUDGE MORROW IS ILL AGAIN

Circuit Court Adjourned Today Much to Disappointment of Attorneys.

Owing to a recurrence of the illness of Judge R. G. Morrow, who came down from Portland to preside over the present term of Circuit Court in the place of Judge Coke, the former was unable to go over to Coquille today and a host of attorneys and others interested in legal matters coming before the court who went over from Marshfield and North Bend were disappointed.

Judge Morrow annexed a severe cold on his way down from Portland, but opened the present term of Circuit Court on Thursday. His quick dispatch of the work in hand, and his system of dispensing with a lot of red tape, made a hit with the legal lights of this city and they were considerably disappointed today on learning that the Judge was ill, especially those who did not learn this fact until they had reached Coquille.

Judge Morrow is stopping at the Chandler, and while not seriously ill, was sufficiently under the weather to prevent him from resuming his duties today. Owing to tomorrow being Saturday, it is expected that even if he is feeling better, the resumption of court will be adjourned until next Monday morning, when a number of trials will be brought up.

No Empire Robbery.—A wild report was circulated around here that some one named Anderson, a former Willett & Burr employe, was robbed at Empire. There was nothing to the report, as a pal of Anderson took his money away from him to prevent the latter, who was on a spree, from throwing it away.

Redondo in Port.—The steamer Redondo arrived in port this morning from San Francisco and shifted from North Bend to the bunkers this afternoon.

GOOD ROADS ELECTION IS POSTPONED BY COMMISSIONERS

TERMINAL DEAL IS NOT CLOSED

Another Meeting This Afternoon or Tomorrow to Arrange Details of Transfer

The negotiations for the transfer of the steam franchise rights of the Terminal Railway to the Southern Pacific had not been closed at noon today and another meeting was to be held this afternoon or tomorrow to conclude the details. The meeting will probably be held this afternoon and it was suspected last night that it would be closed up so that Ralph D. Moody, the Southern Pacific attorney who is to assist C. F. McKnight, could leave tonight on the Breakwater for Portland.

Pending the final closing of the deal and the signing of the necessary papers, it was stated that nothing would be given out.

FURTHER ACTION IS NOW PLANNED

Labor Leaders Consider Sympathetic Strike for Indianapolis Men Still Out.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 5.—Whether the central labor union here will call a general strike in sympathy with the teamsters now out will be decided tonight, according to a statement made today by President Beatty of the Central Labor Union. It was originally intended to take final action regarding the calling of a general walkout last night, but union leaders, hoping for a peaceful settlement, deferred action until tonight.

SLAYER'S TOMB UNSEALED TODAY

Deputies Prepare for Another Underground Battle With Mexican if Still Alive.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] BINGHAM, Utah, Dec. 5.—The Utah Apex mine, supposed to be the tomb of Ralph Lopez, the slayer of six, was unsealed today. Upon the removal of the double bulwarks at the exits, the pent-up gases escaped with a rush. Such a strong draft swept through the shafts and tunnels that it was expected the posse of deputies would be able to enter before night and search for the body of the desperado.

As it was supposed Lopez was still alive, the deputies prepared for another underground battle such as occurred Saturday when two were killed. Lopez took refuge in the mine eight days ago after killing a Mexican and three peace officers on November 21.

Petitions Lack Sufficient Names Owing to Registration Law Being Defective

PRESIDENT MORRISON TO CALL MEETING

No Further Action Until Plan Is Considered — Commissioners Oppose Division.

[Special to The Times.] COQUILLE, Ore., Dec. 5.—The

Coos County Commissioners have rejected the petitions of the Coos County Good Roads Association asking that a special election be called to pass on the $440,000 county bond issue to build permanent highways.

The court rejected it on the ground that the petition was not signed by the requisite number of registered voters. In considering the petitions County Attorney Liljeqvist took the stand that signers who had registered under the new registration law, which was recently knocked out by the Oregon Supreme Court, were not regularly registered voters and consequently not entitled to sign the petition. This resulted in 144 names being stricken from the petitions and left only 260 bona fide signers instead of the 304 required by law to compel the county commissioners to call the election.

The Association filed four petitions, one from Coquille, one from Bandon, one from Myrtle Point and one from North Bend, but somehow the petition from Marshfield failed to show up. The idea was to have 100 signers from each town but the Marshfield petition got lost. However, they had 404 on the petitions or 100 more than enough, and supposed they were all right until the question about the new registration law was raised and this knocked them out.

The petitions were presented to the court Wednesday morning. L. J. Simpson making the speech of presentation, and the court referred it to County Attorney Liljeqvist to pass on the legality of the petitions.

President Morrison of the Coos County Good Roads Association was not aware until this morning that the commissioners had rejected the petitions and he was quite peeved. He said that while there were not sufficient signers left to compel the court to call the election, there were enough to enable them to call the election if they wished, as the state law provided that the court might act on the petition of one-twentieth of the vote cast for supreme court justice, which would be only 240, whereas they had 260 good signers.

Mr. Morrison said that he understood that the commissioners were opposed to the apportionment of the bond issue as agreed upon by the Good Roads meeting in Coquille Tuesday night when $70,000 was set aside for Ten Mile, $240,000 for the road from Coos Bay to Bridge and $100,000 for the road from Bandon to Curry county.

The first petition for a special election which the commissioners rejected on account of the petitions asking for more than the county could bond itself for, was signed by over 900.

President Morrison stated today that he was not going to try to do anything more about the election until another meeting of the Association is held to determine what shall be done. He may call a meeting soon.

It is possible that steps may be taken next time to have the petitioners sign the petitions and also indicate which of the three projects they favor. Or it may be arranged to have an advisory vote taken at the election when held to let the people express a preference on the apportionment of the bond money to the different projects.
