

New Year's Greeting:

To All Good People Everywhere:

May this New Year find each comfortable in mind, body and estate. May you have work for your days and sleep for your nights; a supply for your needs and the heart's desire with the less fortunate. May you have strength for your duties and courage for your trials. May you enjoy the love of friends, the confidence of neighbors, the companionship of children and the respect of your own souls.

To Customers and Friends:

Greeting cordial and hearty is here extended. We appreciate your growth in numbers in patronage and friendship. We extend sincere thanks for trade that has made the past year our busiest, biggest and best and that inspires our determination to deserve it the more.

Moreover in consideration of the stress of modern business life Magnes & Matson here add a word of greeting.

To All Competitors:

May the New Year bring us more business without bitterness and a fair reward for good work squarely done.

Done at Marshfield, Oregon, in the month of January, of the year nineteen fourteen.

IN HONOR OF THE NEW YEAR.

Magnes & Matson

A GLAD NEW YEAR.

A glad New Year, oh, baby mine,
For you the stars of pleasure shine;
For you the song the joy birds sing,
For you the flowers of play-time spring;
May winds be soft, may skies be clear,
A glad New Year, a glad New Year.

A glad New Year, oh, you who press
Life's upward path, may fortune bless
The guerdon crowning days of toil;
The conflict won, be yours the spoil;
No sad regrets, no foes to fear,
A glad New Year, a glad New Year.

A glad New Year, oh, aged grown,
May calm and comfort be your own.
Life's dusk as cloudless as its day,
And for your feet a thornless way,
Heaven dearer as earth's end draws near,
A glad New Year, a glad New Year.
