Party Tonight.—Mrs. A. F. Bassford entertains this evening at her home on South Fourth street, in honor of the members of the Christmas cantata, which was given at the church Christmas eve.

Father Dead.—Dr. E. E. Straw received a telegram from Mrs. Straw stating that her father, Mr. Lakeman, died yesterday in Santa Rosa after a long illness. Mrs. Straw has been there for several weeks. He will be remembered by many friends having resided on Coos Bay at one time.

Merchants Cafe Safe.—Frank Smallwood says the Merchants Cafe escaped all damage in yesterday's blaze. They only moved the cash register out and then turned around and moved right in again and were kept busy serving patrons. They did not even miss a lunch.

On Hard Trip.—Bartlett Flanagan, Carl Larson, Alva Grout of North Bend and Max Reigard of Marshfield leave this evening over the old Coos Bay wagon road to resume their studies at Corvallis and the State University, the latter two going to Eugene, after spending the Christmas holidays at their homes on the Bay.

Wed Forty Years.—Yesterday marked the fortieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Kaufman and they celebrated the event with a little family dinner at their home. They were the recipients of many handsome presents and congratulatory telegrams from relatives at other points.

Will Return.—Mrs. Flueella Turner is expected home tomorrow from Albany, where she has spent three or four months at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marks. During her stay there she could not escape her old work, as the Chambers & McCune store pressed her into service to help them in a big dry goods sale. She says she will be more than glad to get back to Coos Bay.

W. H. Lilly Married.—Of interest to his many acquaintances in Coos county is the marriage of W. H. Lilly, the traveling representative of the Sherwin-Williams Paint company, to Miss Fanny Struck, of Spokane, in the latter city shortly after midnight last Saturday. The bride is the daughter of the late Carl E. and Mrs. Zasilia Struck, formerly of Minneapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Lilly will make their home in Albany, Oregon.

Extending Service.—The North Pacific Steamship company, of San Francisco, which operates the steamer Alliance, has purchased the British steel steamer Cotriana, which has been used on the British Columbia coast, and will establish a freight and passenger service between San Francisco, San Pedro and ports on the west coast of Mexico. vice is to start about the middle of the month.

More members.—W. L. Claybaugh, J. A. Blatt and F. P. Hunter are three new members added to the membership roll of the Marshfield Fellowship Club.

Closes Business.—Geo. N. Bolt today finished closing out the business of the Coos Bay Cash Store by disposing of the fixtures. Mr. Bolt has not decided yet what he will engage in now.

Vestry Meeting.—There will be a meeting of the Marshfield Episcopal Church Vestry at Bennett Swanton's office at 7:30 this evening to transact important business.

Signing Minutes.—Mayor Straw spent this afternoon signing up all the minutes on the books of the city recorder that required the act to make them legal, and got through a large amount of work in an effort to have everything shipshape when he goes out of office Monday in favor of F. E. Allen.

Kinney Was Violent.—Chas. Cavanaugh and M. Weatherell returned on the Redondo from San Francisco where they took Major L. D. Kinney to the sanitarium of Dr. Newmark. They report that he grew quite violent going down, forcing them to strap his hands. Once he got out of the stateroom and they had difficulty in getting him back, but finally the ship officers came to their assistance and he was strapped to a cot in the smoking room. He was quite weak when they reached the city, but they were hopeful that Dr. Newmark would be able to handle him all right.

ALLIANCE IN AFTER DELAY

Stormy Weather and Shallow Entrance to Harbor Hold Back Portland Steamer

Bucking head winds all the way down the coast and then having to stand off the entrance of the harbor because of shallow water and breaking seas, the steamer Alliance, Captain Lofsted, arrived at her dock in Marshfield yesterday afternoon about 30 hours behind her schedule.

She was due to go out today for Eureka, but with the gale blowing outside and a heavy bar there was little prospect that she would get outside the harbor.

The passenger list down was as follows:

L. A. Grant, R. E. Grove, Grigor Birtak, Mike Antonecke, M. Dallis, F. C. Kilpatrick, H. Johnston, H. H. Gaunt, E. C. Smith, Irvin Brothers, S. A. Dabner and James Robertson. Purser Strauss was called to San Francisco as witness in a trial and his place on this voyage was taken by C. T. Booth, of London, England.

RED MEN HOLD A MASQUERADE

Nearly One Hundred Couples in Costume Attend Enjoyable Function

Masked couples in almost every imaginable costume to the number of nearly one hundred, turned out for the masquerade ball given by Coos Tribe No. 33 of the Red Men in Eagles' Hall last night regardless of the inclement weather and had a very enjoyable time, Keyser's orchestra furnishing the music.

The Red Men were largely represented in their regalia costumes of buckskins and feathers, masks taking the place of war paint for the evening. Some of the costumes of the guests showed that considerable care had been taken to get something unusual and variety was the biggest feature of them. Punch was served and the members of the lodge proved to be splendid hosts.

SCOTS PLAN TO HONOR BURNS

Meeting at North Bend Sunday to Arrange for Birthday Celebration

The Coos Bay Scots will hold a meeting at Logg's Hall in North Bend next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to make plans for celebrating the birthday anniversary of Bobbie Burns on January 25.

The meeting has been called by Dan McDonald and some other loyal Scots and they propose to make the birthday anniversary celebration of Scotland's greatest poet and one of the world's greatest writers an event that will long be remembered. All Scots who can possibly attend are urged to be present Sunday.

POMOS PICKED UP BY ADELINE

Report From San Francisco Indicates Marshfield Vessel Was Rescue Ship

Word received indirectly from San Francisco indicates that the steamer Adeline Smith, which left here early this week with a cargo of lumber, has arrived in that port with the steam schooner Pomos in tow.

As far as can be learned with the wires in such a demoralized condition, the Pomos is a small lumber schooner operating on the northern California coast and was picked up north of Point Reyes in a disabled condition. The passengers were removed from the smaller craft to the Adeline Smith, which took the injured vessel in tow.

Just what injury was sustained by the Pomos could not be learned, but it is not believed any lives were lost.
