ENJOY READING

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sengstacken entertained at a most delightful evening last Saturday at their beautiful home complimentary to Prof. Reddie, head of the public speaking department of Oregon University, who gave a series of readings in the various Coos County towns. Prof. Reddie is a Yale graduate, has travelled extensively abroad and has a most charming personality, as well as marked ability in literature and dramatic art. He is a great believer in the stage as an educational factor and thinks that another ten years will see it occupying a leading place in educational work. In the new building at the University of Oregon, a theater will be included for his developing dramatic art and he plans to organize companies among the students to present educational plays in Oregon towns. Last summer he and the students scored a remarkable hit in the presentation of Peer Gynt in the natural settings of the campus, a view of which appears in the current issue of Sunset. Miss Marjorie Cowan, of Marshfield assisted in it. He has written a number of dramas and is proving a strong factor in developing the University of Oregon to a foremost rank in educational institutions.

At the Sengstacken home, he gave a number of readings, including French-Canadian dialect selections, dramatic selections, some from Shakespeare and some from Riley and Mark Twain and they were greatly appreciated by the assemblage.

CARD PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Burrows entertained at cards at their home on South Fourth street Sunday evening. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by A. E. Gagnon, John E. Stack, Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Daigle, Mr. and Mrs. George Hennessy, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Thoreson, Emmett Stack, John E. Stack, Jr., Frances Stack, Orrin Burrows and Clarence Burrows. Miss Stack and Mr. Bennett won first prizes and Mrs. Murphy and Levi Daigle won the consolation prizes, after which a light lunch was served.

TO NORTH BEND

Thursday evening a number of members of the Marshfield Baptist congregation and friends attended the North Bend revival meetings in a body. Among those going were

EIGHT NEW FORD CARS

Goodrum's Garage Will Reassemble an Auto Show When Next Breakwater Arrives

The long delayed shipment of Ford cars, consigned to Geo. Goodrum, the Coos County representative is in Portland and will be shipped on next week's Breakwater when they will be put on display at the Goodroad's Goodrum Garage.

These cars are all Model T and have been sold several weeks in advance. There are out of the eight, probably two customers who will not take the cars, and those who are thinking of purchasing a car, may get one of these.

The Model T Ford is the family car; plenty of room for five large persons, and will go anywhere any other car can go, at a much less cost per mile.

All of these cars are equipped with United States tires, which is a decided improvement over cars sent out last year. The many new features added make the 1914 car a most attractive bargain. Then the price has been reduced to $650 freight prepaid.

Edgar Daniels, of North Bend, has used a Ford car for nearly a year and has driven it about 9000 miles. The only cost incurred has been for tires. No springs, no broken axles, no gears worn out, or broken, no engine work required, nothing but tires and gasoline. It drives so simply that anyone can drive it and for women and children it is the ideal car.

Those thinking of purchasing a car had better take advantage of the opportunity of getting one without waiting several weeks to have it come from the factory.

Mrs. C. H. Marsh, Mrs. C. S. Hoffmann, Miss Frances Franse, Miss Mamie Gulovsen, Miss Florence Rehfeld, Miss Helen McLaughlin and Miss Alpha Mauzey. Miss Rehfeld rendered a solo as a feature of the evening's program.

DINNER PARTIES

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Turpen entertained informally at a couple of little dinner parties this week Thursday they had Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nasburg and Dr. Straw as guests and last Sunday they entertained Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Simson, Capt. Edgar Simpson and Rev. Father Munro.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Yesterday was the ninth birthday of Miss Edna Kronholm and she celebrated the event by entertaining a few of her little friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kronholm in Ferndale. Games and music were followed by refreshments. Her guests were Misses Maxine and Elizabeth Jones, Stella Christenson and Helen and Della Terry.

HONOR VISITOR

Mrs. R. K. Booth entertained a few friends at her home Tuesday afternoon informally, complimentary to Mrs. H. G. Butler, of Myrtle Point. Refreshments were served. Among those present were Mrs. G. A. Bennett, Mrs. W. G. Chandler, Mrs. Ben Chandler, Mrs. M. C. Maloney, Mrs. J. T. Harrigan, Mrs. W. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Carrie Dungan, Miss Agnes Hutchison, Miss Mamie Mahoney, Miss Laura Kruse, Mrs. Butler, Miss Wilcox, Miss Sengstacken and Miss Evelyn Anderson.

SEWING PARTY

Miss Florence Aiken was hostess at a delightful little informal sewing party Wednesday afternoon. In serving she was assisted by the Misses Madge Barry and Grace
