Dredge Stops.—The dredge Seattle is shut down today for minor repairs, but will probably operate tomorrow and then shut down for a couple or three days while the engines are overhauled.

Home Burned.—Wm. Weir was in from the Newport mine yesterday and reports that fire of unknown origin destroyed his house and all its contents and his clothing the day before.

Dance Tonight.—The regular monthly dancing party of the Marshfield lodge of Elks, visiting Elks, and their wives, sisters and sweethearts, will be held at the Masonic Hall tonight.

Better Work.—The dredge Seattle has been making better progress lately and has turned out in excess of 9000 yards on the all-day run. The dredge is now receiving about fourteen cents per cubic yard for dredging.

Three Are Fined.—John Hamlin, Jim McGregor and John Miskall, were each fined $5 this morning by City Recorder Butler, the first two being found guilty of appearing on the streets in a drunken condition and the third prisoner being charged with vagrancy.

High Tide Delays.—Charles Noble reports that the high tide is delaying the pile driving for the Mill Slough drain. Yesterday the tide flooded the boiler and Mr. Noble had luckily just extinguished the fire and prevented an explosion. The other day he made a record of sinking over thirty piling in two hours.

More Friday.—The Parent-Teachers' Club will meet Friday night. Miss Landrith will read a report on school nurse work. Dr. Straw will talk on throat and nasal troubles and Dr. White, secretary of the State Board of Health, who is expected here tomorrow, will probably speak. The musical part of the program has not been arranged.

Pulmotor Used.—Mrs. J. E. Jenkins, of Bellingham, Wash., who is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Snyder, on South Broadway, was suddenly overcome by a fainting spell last evening. A physician was called and he immediately secured the pulmotor and resuscitated her. She was reported getting along nicely this morning.

Delay Building.—At a meeting of the building committee of the Marshfield Lodge of Elks this week, the opinion was expressed that they had better delay starting the structure a year unless arrangements could be made to lease the lower floor at a good rental. The lodge will probably take action on the report at the meeting a week from tonight.

REDONDO STILL IN THE HARBOR

Steamers Unable to Depart for San Francisco—Will Try Again Tomorrow

Prevented again from crossing the bar at the entrance to Coos Bay, the steamer Redondo returned to Marshfield this afternoon and will try to get clear for San Francisco tomorrow about noon. The bar is reported to be heavy and not safe enough to risk an attempt at going out. The Adeline Smith is still anchored in the lower harbor. Tomorrow will make three days that the steamers have been prevented going and it is reported that the same condition prevails at the Umpqua where there is a fleet awaiting a smooth bar.

Alliance in Sight.
The steamer Alliance, bound from Portland to Marshfield, was reported off Hecate Head this morning and was sighted this afternoon about ten miles off the entrance to Coos Bay. If the bar remains in its present condition, it is probable that an attempt to come in will not be made until the morning.

Passengers Entertained.
Last evening the bar-bound passengers on the Redondo and a number of Empire people enjoyed a dance at the Arago Hotel in Empire. Music was furnished by Leslie Isaacson and Miss Nora Tower of Marshfield, two of the passengers. Following the dance, Mrs. Jas. Magee entertained a number of them at a little dinner at her home.

Among those participating were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Chambers, Mrs. Belle Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McEldowney, Miss May Magee, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Maloney, Miss Stella Wicklund, Miss Nora Tower, Miss Frances Williams, Miss Eileen Getty, Miss Alpha Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Getty, Mrs. Hayden, Leslie Isaacson, Harley Saling, Miss Bessie Coke, John Wickman, Capt. Erickson, Chief Engineer Dickey, Purser Harry Reynolds and Assistant Engineer Sullivan.

MORE POLICEMEN.
Ruling Brings Them Under Eight-Hour Law Provisions.
SALEM, Or., Jan. 14.—Under a recent ruling of Labor Commissioner Hoff, and upheld by Attorney General A. M. Crawford, all policemen in the state are subject to the provisions of the eight hour law. As a result, Mr. Hoff will soon notify the different municipalities of the state that policemen cannot be employed more than eight hours out of twenty-four.

No notice of the decision has yet been received in Marshfield and it is not known as yet whether any action will be taken to increase the force or whether the present force will be shifted so as to have their working hours come within the provisions of the state law.

PREPARE TO RETURN.
Evicted Family Will Defy Mob With Firearms.
(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
ABERDEEN, Wash., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Margaret Ross and two sons, Earl and Frank, who were evicted Sunday night from their homestead on North River, Pacific county, by a mob of neighbors who burned the Ross home, left the home of W. D. McCormick yesterday to return to the scene of the trouble. The three were armed.

Mrs. Ross, speaking with an Associated Press man over the rural telephone from the McCormick home, said she was almost ready to start on the return trip to the homestead. They expected to reach Brooklyn settlement, about three miles from the homestead, at noon and planned to stop there at the home of Postmaster Vaughan.

"Do you think I am going to be driven from valuable property?" she asked. "I am not afraid of the mob. They took us by surprise once, but they will not find us unprepared hereafter. You bet I am going to carry a gun. I have a rifle and know how to use it. I shall be able to take care of myself. I do not believe I shall be molested, as those outlaws are afraid."

PERSONAL NOTES

FRANK LOWE is spending a few days on the lower Coquille. REN SMITH, of Coos River, is a Marshfield business visitor today. ATTORNEY C. I. REIGARD was in Coquille on court matters yesterday.

JOHN HOLMES, of North Coos River, arrived in the city this morning on the launch Express for a brief business visit.

A. E. SEAMAN has returned from Bridge, where he purchased three thoroughbred Poland China hogs for his Coos River ranch from Fred Noster.

CHARLES ZIMMERMAN, of Coaledo, was in Marshfield last evening attending the big session of the Moose lodge. He returned to the camp this morning.

MR. AND MRS. RAY WILLIAMS, of North Bend, were visitors in Marshfield last night and this morning, the former attending the doings of the Moose lodge.

ARCHIE KRUSE, of the Prosper shingle mill, is a Marshfield business visitor today. He reports that the price of shingles, the same as other lumber, has slumped badly.

J. LEE BROWN is expected home the latter part of the week from Salem, where he is on matters connected with his duties as member of the State Board of Pharmacy.

ATTORNEY I. N. MILLER, of Marshfield, left on the morning train to attend court in Coquille this morning and returned on the noon train after attending to some civil business.

ROBERT AGERS, a former well-known Coos Bayite and now owner of a fine vineyard at Napa Valley, California, is visiting friends and relatives here. He was called back as a witness in the Fletcher estate cases.

W. B. PIPER and wife, of Coos River, are expected home soon from Southern California, where they have been spending a few months. Mr. Piper writes that there is no place like Coos Bay.

A. JOHNSON, who has been engaged in logging for some time here, left yesterday for Limber, Oregon, to resume his old position as foreman, operations having been resumed there after a short shutdown.

WALTER DUGGAN, who is in from his homestead in the Rock Creek section, had some of his friends guessing as to who the stranger with the great growth of hirsute adornments was but he did not have enough to conceal his identity. He expects to return there in a few days.

J. W. HILDENBRAND returned yesterday from Coquille, where he was pressed into jury service unexpectedly in a damage suit. He was on a little outing and was picked up by Sheriff Gage when the latter found he was now a retired capitalist and did not have anything particular to do.

I. R. TOWER, who is making a trip to Eastern auto factories, has been taking in the big auto show in New York City. He will visit with his parents and sister at Monrovia, California, en route home and reach here about February 1.

L. T. MATTHEWS is up from his South Inlet ranch today. He reports that Banen Bros. are making good progress with the road they are building and will soon bring out a raft of about 100,000 feet and will then deliver logs regularly.

CAFFERY ON TRIP.
E. J. Caffery, former chief of police at North Bend, and holder of many interests in lumber in this state, passed through here this morning on his way to California, where he will spend some time looking after his business interests. Mr. Caffery, who has traveled much over the Northwest, says that Roseburg has a distinctive reputation on account of its splendid climate and surroundings in many of the distant localities; and especially in Idaho, where he formerly lived, he says it was spoken of as one of the best sections of the state. He is of the opinion that Roseburg has a bright future.—Roseburg Review.

TWO INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Charles Spencer and Mrs. Lottie Cappious Will Plead Friday Morning

Marshfield attorneys were notified this morning that Charles Spencer, charged with forgery, and Mrs. Lottie Cappious, held for attempting to kill Elmer Parkinson, would be given a chance to plead on Friday morning at 10 o'clock in circuit court at Coquille. Word to this effect was sent over by Sheriff Gage and indicates that the grand jury has returned indictments in these two cases.

It is understood that Spencer has been indicted on two charges, one for passing forged checks and the other for obtaining money under false pretenses, so as to cover his case thoroughly.

Elmer Parkinson, who swore out the complaint against Mrs. Cappious on the charge of attempting to shoot him over a week ago in the Right Cafe, and who testified early this week before the grand jury, was notified to appear again before the grand jury this morning.

Parkinson went over on the morning train following the receipt of a telephone message by Marshal Carter from the Sheriff that Parkinson was required at Coquille. It is understood that Mrs. Cappious has made charges against Parkinson and that he will be grilled by the grand jury.

Parkinson is suffering from a badly burned leg, sustained when scalding hot coffee poured on him when the bullet from Mrs. Cappious' pistol punctured the coffee urn.

Lost His Suit.
The case of Rexford Starr, a clerk at the Hillyer Cigar store in Marshfield, against the Conglog Logging Company for $10,000 damages for the loss of a leg found for the defendant. R. O. Graves was Starr's attorney and in December the jury that tried the case disagreed.
