

DAY'S NEWS IN POLICE COURT

Wm. Ferry Fined for Slapping Logger — Arrested Entering Grocery

William Ferry was arrested at the Blanco bar last night by officers Shoupe and Smith and charged with assault and battery. Ferry was later released on his own recognizance and appeared at the City Recorder's office for trial today.

He pleaded guilty to "slapping" an unknown logger who had made an insulting remark about his family. It developed from the testimony that the logger was slapped so hard that he was rendered unconscious by the slapping and bled freely. In this condition he was dragged into a rear room of the Blanco Saloon to "sober up."

"If punishment is to be meted out, we have a proper set of city officials to do that," said Judge Goss, "and that is no reason why you or anyone else should take the law in your hands. For their own protection the saloon men should conduct their establishments in such a manner as to merit no criticism from the public or the city and if they fail to do this, drastic measures will result. A barkeeper is supposed to maintain order, but he is also expected to be orderly in enforcing order."

"Well, I plead guilty," said Ferry. "Ten dollars fine," said Recorder Butler.

Arrested Entering Grocery

H. Durkee was arrested last night by Officer Doane and charged with attempting to enter the Stauff Grocery Company after hours. At the police station Durkee made a statement that M. A. Sweetman, formerly employed by the Stauff Grocery Company had given him the keys and asked him to enter the premises and get a few packages of groceries.

Officer Doane immediately left and picked Sweetman up in front of the Stauff Grocery Company. At the police headquarters Sweetman told a different story, saying he wanted a pound of coffee and Durkee had volunteered to procure the Java. Officer Doane placed him under arrest at once. In default of bail, Hal Stutsman phoned at the request of Sweetman to Stauff, proprietor of the grocery, and explained the circumstances of the arrest. Stauff consented to furnish bail for Sweetman and he was released.

After hearing the evidence and circumstances in the police court today, Stauff refused to prosecute either Sweetman or Durkee, but recommended that Durkee be ordered to leave. City Recorder Butler gave Durkee until four o'clock to get out of town.

BOURNE IS WILLING.

Former Senator Ready to Run Again in Oregon.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 6.—Whether Jonathan Bourne will enter the lists as a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator is still an open question, and the answer depends upon the attitude of the voters of the state, according to a letter received by C. W. Hodson, Bourne was Senator from Oregon for one term ending March 3, 1913.

WEST OPPOSES DISSOLUTION

Governor Acts on Central Pacific and Southern Pacific Case

SALEM, Or., Feb. 6.—Governor West announced that he will ask President Wilson to delay the action contemplated by the Government for the dissolution of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific Railroads until an investigation is made and shippers and others interested have an opportunity to present their contentions. This announcement followed a conference with Chairman Miller and T. K. Campbell, of the Oregon Railroad Commission, and others. The Governor stated that he could see where no good could result from divorcing these two lines, while the development of the state would probably be retarded and an injury result to the shipping interests.

BILTMORE IS CLOSED DOWN

Famous Forest School, Well-Known on Coos Bay, Suspends Operations

The Biltmore Forest School, which is so well known in Coos Bay through its graduates and through the three or four annual excursions here of Prof. Schenck and his students, has gone out of existence. Word to this effect was received here today.

Prof. C. A. Schenck states that he has decided to discontinue the school and return to his old home in Germany. The news comes as sad tidings to Coos Bay because it meant much in many ways to this section. Prof. Schenck's many friends here will wish him well for all future time. In announcing the suspension of Biltmore, he says:

"When in 1898 the Biltmore Forest School entered the arena of American lumberdom, it was the only forest school in America. Today, things have changed, or seem to have changed. Today, lumbering is supposed to be taught, in one way or other, at no less than 83 American schools. There seems to be no more need, therefore, of a unique school like the Biltmore Forest School. As a matter of fact, the enrollments at the Biltmore Forest School have been so small, recently, that its continuance is not worth while—is not in keeping with the dignity of the interests which I have advocated incessantly."

"The Biltmore Forest School has had nothing to support it except the good will, free from any financial obligations, first of G. W. Vanderbilt's Biltmore Estate, and thereafter of such firms as Cummer-Diggins at Cadillac, Mich., of C. A. Smith at Marshfield, Or., of J. L. Roper at Norfolk, Va. To these firms we are indebted deeply for their copious hospitality and for their encouraging friendship. Had we had fifty such friends instead of three, this Biltmore Forest School might have been 'conserved.'"

"The conclusion is evident that such a school as I had been planning or as I had been developing, is not so badly needed by the lumber interest of the United States as I had been supposing to be the case."

"We should not attack and vilify those who have made a success from timely investments in timber lands. They are—in the same manner as successful farmers, miners or brokers—reaping the reward of farsightedness. The very rarity of the successful timber owner in a field where the opportunities were endless, is proof of his peculiar talents. And because a genius deserves a reward, I beg you to bear no grudge against those who had the talent or the genius which you or I did not possess, or not apply."

Cleveland Wants to Collect $12,000,000 from Him.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 6.—John D. Rockefeller was called on by the local tax commission to pay $12,000,000 taxes on an estimated $900,000,000 of personal property. CHANGE BY RAILWAYS

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Beginning Wednesday and hereafter the central passenger association discontinued stop-over privileges on home-seekers' tickets. The reason for the change is due to the fact that a large number of country folk who travel on these tickets become easy victims of pickpockets in conference points. The principal stop-over points on such tickets were Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Paul, St. Louis, Kansas City and Minneapolis.

The letter, after explaining that Mrs. Bedell had seen Miss Chandler's name in the newspapers, continues: "I see where you need a husband to take care of your property and be a father to your baby. DIPHTHERIA AT BANDON.

Schools Will Not be Closed on Account of Scare.
The Bandon Recorder says: "The Bandon school board held a meeting yesterday morning at which Dr. Smith J. Mann, the city health officer was present. The main subject for discussion was whether or not the Bandon schools should close on account of the diphtheria which is now on, but as there are only two families in Bandon who have the disease, Dr. Mann thought it not necessary to close at this time. Dr. Oblin, county health officer, was down from Coquille yesterday to look into the situation, having heard that there were about seventy cases of diphtheria here, but when he heard the true condition he said there was no cause for alarm and no reason to close the schools."
