WEST AROUSES IRE

Governor Supports Republican For Attorney General.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 9.—Democratic ire was aroused in this county today when Governor West made the positive declaration that he would support George M. Brown, a Republican, of Roseburg, for Attorney General. The Governor says Mr. Brown stands for law and order and deserves the support of every law-abiding citizen of the state.

Asked what he would do if the Democrats nominated a good man for the office, the Governor said he would be sorry, but that he would have to stick to Mr. Brown.

"I am not surprised at anything Governor West does politically," said Daniel J. Fry, chairman of the Democratic county committee.

Vancouver Fighter Far Beyond Lightweight Limit.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 9.—Bud Anderson, weighing 145 pounds and minus any intention of ever again reaching 135 pounds, left for California to prepare for the battle with "Red" Watson on February 20. Bud hopes to beat Watson without trouble. Should Anderson win he will leave for New York to join Mandot and Brown in the race for easy money. He will train at Willett's, near San Francisco. Bud will box at 135 to 140 in the future.

SPORTING TALK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—They certainly can't get away from it. Here comes an announcement from Fred Thompson, who lives out in Pasadena, California, and who has been doing the Billy Sunday act, that he wants to get one good fling at the all-round athletic record before he leaves the field altogether and settles down to his work of preaching the gospel. It is the fond hope of athletic enthusiasts that Thompson will keep on "coming back" until it's time for the 1916 Olympics. It is not hard to imagine just how valuable a man who can beat Jim Thorpe's all-round performances will be in Decathlon at Berlin.

Down in Columbia, S. C., there is a paper that thinks that if Roosevelt had gone in for professional baseball he'd have doubtless have chosen the I-I-I League. Well, perhaps, but that organization has no club in Chicago, the chief noise center of the game.

Jimmy Dwyer reports that he has a promising featherweight who bears all the necessary earmarks for becoming a champion Dwyer, who is one of the shrewdest judges of boxers in the world, will give this lad the benefit of his knowledge.

Jack Blackburn made his first appearance in five years before the public when he boxed an exhibition bout at the Proceador Theater this afternoon. The wonderful colored pugilist will box at each performance of the show there this week.

Roger Peckinbaugh, who is only two syllables removed from real baseball fame, has been dragged, unresisting, into the Yankee fold for another year of service under Chance.
