Enjoy Visit—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Powers were the guests of Col. and Mrs. Grimes at Long Beach, Calif., and later at Los Angeles, the latter part of last week. In letters here, neither of them intimated when they would be back to the Bay, but it is expected that Mr. Powers will return within another week.

Sail February 25th—Word has been received from W. S. Chandler that they will sail February 25th from San Francisco on the Matsonia for Honolulu. They were unable to get accommodations on an earlier boat. Mrs. W. G. Chandler and Mrs. Tremaine will make the trip with them.

Lighter Goods—The Randolph completed taking on a cargo of general merchandise for Port Orford and Gold Beach yesterday. It is planned to use Capt. Porty's small boat to lighter the Port Orford goods in, the destruction of the long wharf by the recent storm there preventing the sea-going launches from unloading there like they formerly did.

Court Next Monday—Judge Coke will convene an adjourned term of Circuit Court at Coquille again next Monday to hear equity matters. There were few cases ready Wednesday. It is expected that several cases will be tried in chambers in Marshfield following next Monday's session. A. D. Loud, the new court reporter, is now at work, and although it has been nearly seven years since he followed court reporting, he is rapidly picking up his old ability.

McMinville Won—Mrs. Daisy Richardson is in receipt of a letter from her sister, Miss Alice Richardson, who is attending McMinnville college, saying that McMinnville had just defeated the Portland Y. M. C. A. team at basketball. This was the sixteenth game this season for the Y. M. C. A. team and it was their first defeat, so that at the McMinnville college students are highly elated over it. Mrs. Richardson and the children are getting along fine at McMinnville.

Cuts Foot—While slashing brush with a scythe at his ranch on South Coos River ranch yesterday James Landreth accidentally lacerated his instep, cutting a deep gash. He bled so freely that by the time he returned to his home he was exhausted. He was brought to Marshfield immediately, where he was treated by Dr. Mingus, returning home today.
