Ford-Electric Starters and Lights-Ford

ELECTRIC
Starters and Lights for the FORD

Any Ford can be equipped with an electric starter and lights for $100.00. This outfit is just as efficient as any starter on the highest-priced cars. In fact, it is the identical same thing designed to fit the Ford. Just think for $750.00 you can own a Ford with all the modern conveniences of any car. Better place your order now before it is too late.

BORN.

CHARLSTON—To Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Charlston at their home in South Marshfield, Sunday, February 16, a son, Mother and child are doing nicely and Mr. Charlston expects to have his heir out looking over the work of the dredge Seattle in a few days.

HESSLER—To Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hessler, Monday, February 17, a daughter.

Run Showhouse—Tower Brothers are again in charge of the Orpheum Theater here.

Father Ill—Mrs. Calvin M. Connor and Geo. M. Beatty have received word that their father, Rev. Beatty, a retired minister at Salem, is critically ill.

Take Degree—Dr. R. W. Morrow, R. H. Corey and Albert Halsted were the three taking the Royal Arch degree here Tuesday night, following which a little spread was enjoyed.

Plan Dinner—The Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary have completed plans to give a chicken dinner next Saturday at the Swedish Lutheran Church hall on Commercial avenue.

New Home—F. D. Clough is erecting a building on his recently purchased lot on Washington street, in First Addition. Rudolph A. Maas is clearing his lot preparatory to building a home in First Addition.

Dredge Delayed—As a result of encountering some black sand, the dredge Seattle is being delayed and Engineer Charlston said today that it probably would be a week before it would be able to start on the Mill Slough fill.

Newly-weds Trip—Mr. and Mrs. Ellis S. Dement, of Myrtle Point, who were married four days ago, were visitors in the city yesterday. They are on their honeymoon. They stopped at the St. Francis.—Albany Democrat.

Send up Balloon—A small balloon with a light attached was turned loose about 5:30 last night. There was practically no wind blowing and the air bag ascended directly upward and was visible for a half hour or so until it ascended through the fog and clouds.

Restaurant Here—D. M. Watson, for years a noted restaurant man at Portland, having conducted the eating houses in the Imperial and Perkins Hotels, came in on the Breakwater today and will go to Gardiner, where it is understood that he is looking over some investments.

Jones' Office—A Roseburg paper says: "B. F. Jones, who is soon to retire from the local United States land office, has leased offices on the third floor of the Perkins building, where he will resume the practice of law. During Mr. Jones' absence the office will be in charge of F. L. Jones, his son."

Hearing Today—The claim of Mrs. Sarah A. Yeakam, former administratrix of the estate of George F. Blood, for $2567 for services and boarding the deceased, will come before Judge Hall today for hearing. Attorney I. N. Miller and Harry G. Stoy will represent the heir, Mrs. Catherine S. Clark of Boston, Mass. Mrs. Yeakam is represented by Bennett Swanton.

New Camps—Mr. Kaiser, who was here a while last year with the Houser & Houser company, has returned to the Bay and will probably be in charge of the work again, or at least in charge of starting the three or four additional camps which they will set in between Ten Mile and Sand Point to rush the construction work. He has been in Canada. He came to Marshfield last evening to take in the Elks' ball.

Mother Dead—Mrs. Chas. H. Curtis today received a letter from Mrs. E. W. Hogue, of Ashland, announcing the death of her mother at Portland. Mrs. Hogue was formerly Miss Jennie L. Smith, a teacher in the Bunker Hill school here, and she and her brother, G. LeRoy Smith, a noted prohibition lawyer at Portland, have many friends here who will sympathize with them in their bereavement.

Lease Hotel—Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Sanford have taken a two-year lease on the North Inlet Hotel. The new proprietors will take possession on March 1. They are hotel people of past experience.

Movie Back—The reconstruction of the Montgomery block on Front street has been practically completed and the tenants are all moving back. Starters will have their new store ready for opening by Saturday and will have a much larger and finer place than before. The Lando stock is being moved back and the Quaterness studio will soon be ready for opening. A realty company will also have offices on the second floor.

Recovers Glasses—A Times lost ad last evening restored a valuable pair of eye-glasses to Mrs. Henry Sengstacken. Less than an hour after the first copy of The Times had been printed, the finder, Jas. Lurdburg, of 510 North Broadway, brought them to The Times office and claimed the reward. He had picked them up on the street about 11 o'clock the night previously. Mrs. Sengstacken having dropped them while en route home. Mrs. Sengstacken had searched in vain along the street for them.
