how for the coming season. During her absence the Alice H will make the run in the Rainbow's place.

Circulate Petitions.—James Watt is today circulating the nominating petitions of Grant B. Dimmick of Oregon City, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor.

Times Better.—A. C. Cox, son of W. B. Cox, today returned from a trip to various Washington lumber points. He says times are picking up there, but that Coos Bay is far ahead of any of the northern cities.

Will Give Dance.—The North Inlet Social Club is planning a dance to be given at the North Inlet Hall on Saturday evening, March 7, 1914. The North Star, Captain Ned Galloway, will carry the passengers from Marshfield, returning after the dance.

Mother Ill.—Mrs. W. B. Cox will leave on the Breakwater Saturday for Beaverton, near Portland, in response to a message stating that her mother, Mrs. W. D. Buxton, was seriously ill. Mrs. Buxton is about eighty-two years old and an old resident of Oregon.

Left Papers.—J. C. Kendall left last week for Curry County to look after some legal matters. He went overland, but to make the trip easier, shipped a suitcase of papers on the Rustler, which was to leave the same day he did. The Rustler is still in port and finally yesterday J. D. Goss got the case off and sent them to him overland.

Build Homes.—D. McIntyre, accountant at the Oregon Power Company, has purchased a lot on North Second street, just north of the A. O. Rogers houses, and will erect a home there soon. Mrs. O'Brien who recently purchased two lots on North Second street, just south of J. W. Motley's home, is also planning to build a double flat there soon.

Two More Up.—Officer Richardson this morning arrested W. K. Wiseman on the charge of riding his bicycle last night without a light. Lynn Lambeth, who was fined $5 yesterday for a similar offense, was arrested again today but was let off by Recorder Butler when informed that it was an accident. There are two or three other offenders being sought by the police.

For Oyster Shells.—J. E. Fitzgerald says that the Port Commission did not promise to have shells pumped up on Dredge Isle for the benefit of the ranchers. They told them that the old shells there could be taken away but John Manning, who claims the island, objects to this, and Mr. Fitzgerald wants shells pumped up elsewhere for the ranchers. The Port Commission announces that Dredge Isle is to be dredged away soon.
