Official Paper of Coos County

Man a little dog has to bark loudly to keep up his courage, and we wonder if our too-assertive friends aren't sometimes doing the same thing.

THREE B'S AND AN S.

THE day of Bull, Bosh and Buncombe is passing. Advertising is getting down to a basis of Horse Sense. Advertisers are listening to the Big Ben of Honest Service. They are coming out of the trance induced by the hypnotism of hyperbole and hot air.

They've been late sleepers, some of them. But once they open their eyes it will take more than Bull and Bosh and adept adjectives to film their vision ever again. Bull won't build business. Bosh may listen well in print, but it doesn't deliver. And Buncombe is due for a long vacation along with Hot Air claims and yarns of flightful fancy.

The reign of the three B's is about over. Another empire fore-shadows its establishment in solid security—its name is Honest Service.

We know of no substitute for it. It has none. Service! Producer of all things good—center of the Realm of Results—Home of Service and Domain of "Do."

If every lie on Coos Bay were nailed, there wouldn't be enough nails left to build Curry's chicken coop.

Even experience falls down when it tries to teach a fool.

BOASTING

I OFTEN think, while swatting flies, that it is neither safe nor wise, to boast of one's achievement; for fate may all our triumphs mock; so often loud and vaunting talk is followed by bereavement. It's very well to point with pride in manner, modest, dignified—we all like admiration; to toot a horn in self defense is excellent—there is no sense in self depreciation. Uriah Heep and all his clan impart a pain to every man; we don't like folks too 'umble nor do we like the ones who boast, who'd make themselves the reigning toast—we're glad to see them stumble they are sure to do before their little trip is through their luck some day grows leery; the gods set traps for those who brag, who boast themselves and never flag until their jaws are weary. The boastful man, all chesty goes, a stream of bombast from him flows like water from the scupper; and people, sizing up his plight, remark, "It serves the blamed fool right," when he is on his uppers. If we'd have sympathy and cheer when days of stress and grief are here, we should be meek and modest; so let up be serene and wise, and saw our wood, and swat the flies, and from them knock the sawdust.—Walt Mason.

GOOD EVENING

Thoughts go forth to purposes, purpos-a go forth in actions, actions form habits, habits decide character, and character fixes our destiny.—Tryon Edwards.

Do not be one of the majority who expect more of a friend than they are willing to give.

Some Coos Bay folks are so wrapped up in themselves as to suggest human balls of twine.

A WISH

I do not ask for glory
I do not ask for fame;
I do not want a title,
Appended to my name,
I do not wish for splendor,
For power I do not wish;
I merely want to get away
A day or two and fish.
—Dave Stafford.

STORY OF THE DAY

The proud father to whom college education had been denied, met his daughter at the train on her return from college.

"But, Helen," he said, "aren't you unusually fat?"

"Yes, Dad," she replied, "I weigh one hundred and forty pounds stripped for gym."

The father looked puzzled for a moment and then demanded: "Who in thunder is Jim?"

LOCAL OVERFLOW.

Red Ne... F. McGeorge was arrested today for leaving his auto standing on the street February 24 without any lights on it. He will plead later.

Bryson to Leave.—E. R. Bryson, attorney for Receiver Watters, will leave tomorrow for his home at Eugene. He said it would probably be two months before the last receivership suit could be completed. In the meantime Receiver Watters will try and get affairs in shape to expedite cleaning up the debts after the suit is finished.

Sneddon Troubles.—Hugh Sneddon had his brother, Will, and brother-in-law, D. J. Rees, arrested today on the charge of assault and battery. In an altercation in the Eagle saloon last night, Will Sneddon admitted slapping him. No lawyers were called and Justice Pennock after hearing all sides of it, fined Will Sneddon $5 and costs and discharged Mr. Rees.

L. KRANICK, of the Bandon Life Saving Station, is a visitor in Marshfield.

AMONG THE SICK

Chas. Noble has been suffering from a trouble the last few days, the affliction developing from a silver that he got into his ear. It is not serious.

Will Rohrer is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism at his home in West Marshfield.

Emerson Ferry, who has been ill for the past month, has fully recovered and is about again, to the gratification of his many friends.

Along the Waterfront.

The Adeline Smith sailed today for San Francisco.

EUGENE WATER BONDS SOLD AT HIGH PREMIUM

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 27.—The City Council, at a meeting awarded Eugene's water extension bonds of $100,000 to R. M. Grant & Co., of Chicago, who offered $103,500, with accrued interest. There were eleven other bids, all offering a high premium. The water board will at once begin its extensive improvement campaign.

BREAKWATER SERVICE BRIEF

Completion of Coos Bay Road Means Withdrawal of Steamer
A Portland paper says: News of enthusiasm displayed at Coos Bay over progress being made on the new line of the Southern Pacific between North Bend and Eugene has given rise to speculation as to what disposition will be made of the steamer Breakwater when the rail line is operating. Under a Federal statute, a railroad corporation is prohibited from maintaining a steamer service paralleling its land line, as in the case of the North Bank road with reference to The Dalles & Astoria Navigation Com-

HOLLISTER IN ROSEBURG

North Bend Man is Confident Winning Nomination.
The Roseburg Review says: Attorney Frederick Hollister, of Coos Bay, spent a few hours in Roseburg on a brief tour of this congressional district. He is seeking nomination for Congressman to succeed W. C. Hawley. He is a lively business man, as well as an attorney, and owns a bank at North Bend, besides other property. Hollister thinks he will have no difficulty in securing the nomination and therefore is devoting most of his time to outlining his campaign against Mr. Hawley, provided he is nominated over B. F. Jones, of Roseburg, who is also seeking the publican nomination. While Mr. Hawley may have strength enough to secure a renomination, Mr. Hollister is sanguine of success at the general election in November. He will make a general announcement of his platform in the near future. He is run on the Democratic ticket.

WAS HAMMOND'S PAPER

Prepared Article on Playgrounds for North Bend Club

Mrs. Herbert Armstrong says that some have gained an erroneous impression about the paper on Playgrounds which she read before the North Bend Mothers and Teachers Club, although she tried to make it plain at the meeting. Judge Hammond had prepared most of the paper, but when he found that he could not be present at the meeting he forwarded it to her stating that it might be used to fill in his place on the program. The paper was substantially as Judge Hammond prepared it, Mrs. Armstrong making only a few additions. She feels that the credit for the excellent article is deserved by Judge Hammond and wishes him to receive it.
